INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is the report of the Government of Canada prepared each fiscal year by the Receiver General as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31, and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department is responsible for the accuracy of its accounts and maintains detailed records of the transactions in those accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake the transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years. The report also includes the financial statements of those Crown corporations and other bodies whose accounts are maintained separately from the accounts of Canada. The financial year of a number of these corporations and other bodies is the calendar year rather than the fiscal year of the Government.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes.

Volume I

Volume I presents a summary and analysis of the financial transactions of the Government. The content of the sections of Volume I can be summarized as follows:

SECTION 1: summary statements of the financial transactions of the Government of Canada on both a Public Accounts and an Extended National Accounts basis;

SECTION 2: the audited financial statements of the Government of Canada, prepared in accordance with Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act;

SECTION 3: the observations by the Auditor General on the Financial Statements;

SECTION 4: a review of budgetary revenue;

SECTION 5: a review of budgetary expenditure;

SECTION 6: an analysis of loans, investments and advances;

SECTION 7: an analysis of annuity, insurance and pension accounts;

SECTION 8: an analysis of other assets and other liabilities;

SECTION 9: an analysis of foreign assets and foreign liabilities;

SECTION 10: an analysis of unmatured debt;

SECTION 11: an analysis of other accounts reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities; and SECTION 12: supplementary information, part of which is required by the Financial Administration Act.

Volume II

Volume II presents the financial operations of the Government, segregated by department. It contains two distinct types of information: (a) financial operations of individual departments and their associated agencies; and (b) additional information and analysis.

(a) DEPARTMENTAL FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

In a fashion similar to the Estimates, Volume II uses a uniform set of statements to present each department's financial operations. In most respects the level of detail is the same as in the Estimates, and provides the following information:

(i) Use of Appropriations

This is the principal departmental statement. It is a summary of the use of the authority given by Parliament in appropriation acts and other statutes. It displays, by program:

- the wording of the relevant appropriations or statutes;
- the amount authorized under each appropriation or statute;
- the total use made during the year of the authorized amounts;
- amounts of unexpended balances (amounts lapsed and carried forward); or in rare instances, amounts over-expended; and
- total use for the previous year.

(ii) Total Cost of Programs—Budgetary

This table shows the total calculated cost for each program by adding to budgetary expenditure the values of services provided by other departments, and of accommodation provided by the reporting department, and by deducting non-tax receipts credited to revenue.

The total calculated program cost is also reflected in the Estimates and in the Public Accounts in the "Programs by Activity" table.

(iii) Programs by Activity—Budgetary

This is a comparison of budgetary appropriations with actual expenditures and the imputed costs and revenues referred to in (ii). The table displays total program expenditures by activity and type of vote, and total cost of programs by type of vote. It is related to the "Program by Activities" table displayed in the Estimates.

(iv) Grants and Contributions

This table displays details of amounts appropriated for grants and contributions, by class of recipients and by program, and the payments.

(v) Budgetary Expenditure by Program and Standard Object

This table presents costs by standard object and relates to the "Objects of Expenditure" table shown in the Estimates.

(vi) Revenue

Each department displays summary and detailed statements of revenue collected as part of its operations.

(vii) Revolving Funds

The commercial orientation of a revolving fund is reflected in the balance sheet and statement of operations, or income and expenditure, required each year. A revolving fund's minimum goal is the recovery of cost, and most commercial accounting conventions are used to measure cost.

As a revolving fund uses full accrual accounting and the Government does not, a reconciliation statement is frequently necessary to explain the difference between the advance to the revolving fund included in the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities in Section 2 of Volume I, and the liability for the advance shown in the revolving fund's balance sheet.

(viii) Other Organizations

To further the objectives of the Government and of departments, various boards, agencies, commissions and accounts have been created by appropriation acts and other legislation. Financial statements for these organizations and accounts are also shown.

(b) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND ANALYSIS

Further details of certain outlays are provided, in Volume II, to supplement the statements already presented. This supplementary information includes:

- accounts receivable and deletions (Section 31);
- professional and special services (Section 32);
- construction and acquisition of land, buildings, machinery and equipment (Section 33);
- payments of damage claims, ex gratia payments, federal court awards, and nugatory payments (Section 34);
- selected miscellaneous payments and federal-provincial shared-cost programs by province (Section 35);
- grants and contributions (Section 36);
- further details of expenditure by standard object (Section 37); and
- miscellaneous statements by department (Section 38).

Volume III

Volume III of the Public Accounts of Canada contains the financial statements of Crown corporations which are permitted by legislation to keep their own accounts. These are Schedules C and D (agency and proprietary) corporations, as well as two other agencies, the Bank of Canada and the Canadian Wheat Board which, although not designated as Crown corporations, act as agents of Her Majesty. The activities of Schedule B (departmental) corporations are reported by the responsible departments in Volume II, either under departmental budgetary expenditure or in separate reports.

Changes to the Form and Content of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is not a static report but has evolved over the years to meet changing conditions and, more recently, to implement the recommendations of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada.

The Study of the Accounts of Canada was an inter-departmental study undertaken in May of 1973 by representatives of the Treasury Board, the Department of Finance and the Department of Supply and Services, to review the purposes, principles and practices which should govern the form of the accounts of Canada. In its report to the House of Commons dated March 9, 1976, the Standing Committee on Public Accounts recommended that the 41 recommendations included in the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada should be implemented as soon as technically possible. The implementation of the recommendations was initiated in 1976-77 and is continuing.

The most important changes to the 1978-79 Public Accounts are:

- the creation of allowances for the valuation of assets and liabilities;
- the inclusion, in Section 2 of Volume I, of a Statement of Transactions;
- the modification, in Section 2 of Volume I, of the statement relating to appropriations, to include non-budgetary appropriations; and
- the modification of the content and sequence of Volume I sections relating to assets and liabilities so as to integrate in each section all the information relating to the major categories of accounts.

Planned Improvements

The Government is continuing to improve the Public Accounts through better disclosure and presentation of its financial operations. Improvements presently in progress include:

- effective March 31, 1980, there will be a revised policy on the recording of accounts payable at the year-end. This policy will provide for greater accountability in the use of appropriation authorities by ensuring that all debts resulting from goods and services provided before the end of the fiscal year or resulting from contractual arrangements are recognized as a charge to the appropriations on which Parliament has imposed an annual ceiling;
- a revised policy on contingent liabilities is scheduled to be implemented for the year ending March 31,

1980, to show more clearly and completely those potential liabilities of the Government that could become actual liabilities if certain events occur;

- a policy concerning the valuation of the recorded assets of the Government is in the development stages. This policy, which will provide for the procedure and methods to be employed in the determination and reporting of asset values, is anticipated to be implemented for the 1980 Public Accounts. The prime purpose of this policy is to show more accurately the value of the recorded assets of the Government, that is the amount which is expected to be collected or recovered from the financial claims;
- a policy is being developed on the making of loans, investments and advances to Crown corporations. This policy, which will provide criteria under which non-budgetary payments may be properly designated as loans, investments or advances, is intended to be completed for implementation in 1980-81. In general, the purpose of this policy is to ensure that loans and advances are not made to Crown corporations which do not have the potential to repay these amounts from sources of revenues generated from their operations;
- legislation has been prepared with a view to obtaining parliamentary authority in 1979-80 to delete certain loans which will not be paid, and certain items which are incorrectly designated as assets and liabilities because they do not represent financial claims (assets) and obligations (liabilities) in accordance with the Government's accounting policies and practices (Note 3 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume); and
- a revised policy on revolving funds will become effective on April 1, 1980. It will ensure that payments to all such funds are properly disclosed as budgetary expenditures.

INTRODUCTION

In this section, the financial transactions of the Government of Canada are set out in summary form, with comparative figures for the previous four years. The financial transactions are first presented according to the accounting principles explained in Note 1 of Section 2 of this volume, and referred to as the Public Accounts presentation; the second presentation is on the National Income and Expenditure Accounts basis, extended to encompass other financial transactions affecting the Consolidated Revenue Fund. This second form of presentation is hereafter referred to as the Extended National Accounts presentation.

This section was first introduced in the Public Accounts for the year ended March 31, 1977. Its inclusion conforms to the recommendation in the "Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada" that there be a standard form of reporting the summary statements of federal Government financial transactions in official publications. The form of the statements, and the extension of the traditional National Income and Expenditure Accounts basis of presentation, also reflect recommendations of this study.

This section is intended to provide an overview of the Government's financial operations both on the Public Accounts basis and on the Extended National Accounts basis. The Public Accounts presentation reflects the accounting procedures and conventions which have been adopted in providing Parliament with an accounting of the source and use of financial resources. The current transactions block of the Extended National Accounts presentation is designed primarily to facilitate economic analysis of the federal Government sector on a basis consistent with that used in measuring income and expenditure flows in the economy as a whole. The remaining blocks show the relation between the traditional budget balance on the National Accounts basis and the Government's overall financial requirements, debt transactions and cash position.

Public Accounts Presentation

The "Summary Statement of Transactions" table provides aggregate data on the major categories of transactions under four main headings: budgetary, non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt. The resulting cash position at the end of the period is also shown.

This form of presentation is broadly consistent with the tables presented in the Budget Speech, the presentation in the Department of Finance's Economic Review and the Statement of Financial Operations published each month in the Canada Gazette, and is compatible with the form of presentation in other sections of the Public Accounts.

It should be noted that, in general, figures on budgetary expenditure in the Public Accounts presentation of this section have not been adjusted to take account of changes in departmental responsibilities which may have occurred; thus components are not strictly comparable from one year to the next.

Exceptions to this generalization occur in the treatment of old age security transactions, contracting-out payments and guaranteed loans. The status of the old age security transactions changed as of July 1, 1975 following amendments to the Old Age Security Act. To provide consistent historical series for total budgetary revenue, expenditure and non-budgetary transactions, the figures in the tables of this section have been adjusted to treat old age security transactions as budgetary throughout, i.e. the pre-July 1, 1975 record has been adjusted to follow current practice. Similarly, contracting-out payments which were formerly part of fiscal transfers in the Department of Finance have been recorded as part of the Canada Assistance Plan throughout the period in line with current practice, just as guaranteed loans have been recorded as part of education support whereas they had previously been recorded as expenditures of the Department of Finance.

Extended National Accounts Presentation

The presentation of the Government's financial transactions on an Extended National Accounts basis in the Public Accounts was first introduced for the year ended March 31, 1977. This form of presentation as earlier noted complies with the recommendation of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada, and is consistent with the tables presented in the Budget Speech.

As in the Public Accounts presentation, the transactions are categorized under four main headings: the traditional National Income and Expenditure Accounts which are referred to herein as current transactions, loans and other transactions, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions. The resulting cash position at the end of the period is also shown. It may be noted that starting with the line entitled "financial requirements (excluding foreign exchange)", the Extended National Accounts presentation is identical to the Public Accounts presentation.

The total for loans and other transactions will differ from the non-budgetary transactions in the Public Accounts presentation due in part to differences in coverage. Loans to certain agencies such as Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, as well as advances to revolving funds, are excluded in arriving at the total of loans and other transactions on the Extended National Accounts presentation, as transactions of these agencies and revolving funds are included in current transactions. Similarly, the receipts and disbursements of Government pension and social security accounts, such as the Unemployment Insurance Account, are included in current transactions whereas they appear in the non-budgetary sector in the Public Accounts presentation. In determining the surplus or deficit of current transactions on a National Accounts basis, certain revenue items, such as corporate income taxes, are reflected on an accrual as opposed to a cash basis. The loans and other transactions section includes the adjusting entry required to convert from the accrual basis of revenue and expenditure to a cash basis.

SUMMARY STATEMENT OF TRANSACTIONS—PUBLIC ACCOUNTS PRESENTATION

Total financial requirements, excluding foreign exchange transactions, amounted to $10,939 million for the year ended March 31, 1979. The budgetary deficit of $11,707 million, excluding the extraordinary item, was offset by $768 million of non-budgetary transactions and $4,088 million of foreign exchange transactions.

The accounts for 1978-79 include an extraordinary item which is a provision for the valuation of assets and liabilities. This adjustment is the first step in the Government's announced intention to effect major changes in the accounts of Canada. These changes were recommended in a 1975 report entitled Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada which reviewed the purposes, principles and practices which should govern the form of the accounts of Canada. It was recognized that certain items which were previously included on the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities no longer met the criteria for assets and liabilities and that certain other items on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities were only realizable through budgetary appropriation. The extraordinary item is a one-time adjustment which provides for the elimination of such items from the Statement of Assets and Liabilities and will enable the Government to proceed with its announced changes to the Government's accounting system. The extraordinary budgetary item is completely offset in non-budgetary transactions thereby leaving financial requirements unaffected. The analysis in this section will be based on the accounts excluding the extraordinary item, with the impact of this one-time adjustment being noted wherever appropriate.

Total financial requirements of $6,851 million, together with the $8,778 million increase in unmatured debt, resulted in an increase of $1,927 million in cash balances to $6,433 million at March 31, 1979, as compared to $4,506 million at the beginning of the year.

I. Budgetary Transactions

A. Revenue

Total budgetary revenue grew by 7.1%, or $2,349 million, in 1978-79, to reach $35,215 million. Increases in personal income tax and customs duties were major contributors to the $1,692 million increase in total tax revenue. The growth in non-tax revenue can primarily be attributed to higher postal revenue, an increase in the amount of interest the Government received on its bank deposits and profits from the Exchange Fund Account.

With total wages and salaries advancing at a rate of 9.1% in 1978-79, personal income tax revenue increased $608 million or 4.5%. The lower growth in personal income tax revenue relative to the increase in total wages and salaries reflects, in part, the impact of discretionary changes in the tax structure. The most important measures which negatively influenced revenue growth in 1978-79 were federal compensation for the provincial sales tax reduction contained in the April 10, 1978 budget and the $100 increase in the minimum federal tax credit announced in the October 20, 1977 Economic and Fiscal Statement. Also contributing to the lower growth in personal income tax is the continued indexation of personal income tax exemptions and tax brackets.

In 1978-79, revenue from corporate income tax increased by only 7.4% in spite of a 17.6% increase in corporate profits on a National Accounts basis. The lower growth rate in corporate income tax revenue relative to profits reflects the impact of changes to the corporate income tax system and the increased usage of income debentures and retractable preferred shares to obtain the favourable tax treatment permitted to such instruments. The major discretionary changes to the corporate income tax system which resulted in the lower growth in corporate income tax in 1978-79 were the employment job credit program proposed in the October 20, 1977 statement and the investment tax credit program.

Indirect taxes increased by $574 million, or 6.3%, over the previous year. The increases in revenue from sales tax and customs import duties, 6.8% and 18.8% respectively, accounted for most of the overall growth in indirect taxes. Negatively affecting the growth in sales tax revenue, however, was the implementation, on November 16, 1978, of the 3% reduction in the general manufacturers' sales tax. The 3¢ per gallon reduction in the special excise tax on gasoline that was announced on August 24, 1978 resulted in a 13.7% decline in this source of revenue. Excise duties declined slightly while other indirect taxes, excluding the oil export charge, increased by $27 million. Revenue from oil exports registered a 24%, or $104 million, decline as a result of a narrowing in the gap between the domestic and international price of crude petroleum, on which the charge is based, and a continued decline in crude petroleum exports.

Non-tax revenue increased by $657 million. The growth in Bank of Canada profits, increased interest earned on Government bank deposits and profits from the Exchange Fund Account were major contributors to the total growth in non-tax revenue. The April 1, 1978 postal rate increase of 2¢ for first class mail helped push postal revenue higher by $130 million.

B. Expenditure

The decline in the growth rate of budgetary expenditure which began in 1975-76 has continued in 1978-79. From a high of 28.0% in 1974-75, that rate fell to 16.2%, 14.8% and 10.0% in the years 1975-76, 1976-77 and 1977-78 respectively. In 1978-79, the rate again fell, this time to 9.4%.

Major contributors to growth in 1978-79 were public debt charges, expenditures under the Established Programs Financing Act and the Government's contribution to unemployment insurance costs.

Public debt charges, which rose 27.2% or $1,508 million, accounted for over one third of the total increase in budgetary expenditure. That growth reflected the continued high rate of growth of outstanding debt and increased interest rates.

Hospital insurance, medicare and education support payments, as a group, rose by 28% and accounted for nearly one quarter of the increase in total expenditures. Although basic provincial entitlements under those programs grew by only 12%, larger transitional adjustment payments than in the previous year, smaller tax recoveries and significantly larger adjustments in respect of previous years resulted in the higher growth rate.

The third item, the Government's unemployment insurance contribution rose by 31% or $412 million reflecting the full percentage point increase in the unemployment rate in 1977, as this contribution is recorded on a lagged basis. Together these three expenditure areas account for almost three quarters of the increase in budgetary expenditures. The remaining expenditures grew in total by only 3.5%.

Within that 3.5% growth, a number of programs have grown while others have declined. Although most programs have grown slightly from the previous year, such as old age security payments which grew by 13% as a result of the indexing of those payments, the growth in recipients and the increase in monthly guaranteed income supplement payments of $20 per household as of January 1, 1979, spending in a few major programs has declined. The most notable of these are in Agriculture, Energy, Mines and Resources, External Affairs and National Health and Welfare. The declines in Agriculture, External Affairs and in the "Other" expenditures of Energy, Mines and Resources all result from the fact that loans were written off in 1977-78 ($160 million in Agriculture, $232 million in External Affairs and $284 million in Energy, Mines and Resources), thereby inflating that year's expenditure. Without such write-offs in 1978-79, budgetary spending fell in these areas.

Two areas in which declining expenditures resulted from actual program changes are oil price stabilization and family allowance payments. Oil price stabilization payments fell in 1978-79 by $297 million largely as a result of a decline in the volume of compensable oil imports. The decline in family allowance payments was due to the reduction in monthly payments to $20 per child as of January 1, 1979.

C. Extraordinary Item

The extraordinary item represents a provision which has been created for the valuation of certain loans identified as requiring parliamentary authority for write-off, for the valuation of certain accounts which do not meet the current definition of assets and liabilities and for the Government's share of the cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits to March 31, 1979. This provision includes loans to Atomic Energy of Canada Limited ($547 million), the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation ($198 million), the National Capital Commission ($38 million), and the Yukon and the Northwest Territories ($151 million). It also provides for the elimination of assets and liabilities which are internal to the Government. The largest items of this type are non-interest-bearing advances to the Unemployment Insurance Account ($1,990 million) and working capital advances to revolving funds, departments and agencies ($816 million) of which the most important is the Airports Revolving Fund ($651 million). The remaining items are the elimination of unamortized bond flotation cost assets of $140 million, removal of a liability of $48 million of undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts and the $646 million provision for the Government's share of the cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits to March 31, 1979.

II. Non-budgetary Transactions

A. Loans, Investments and Advances

Requirements for loans, investments and advances declined by $71 million to $1,146 million in 1978-79 from $1,217 million in 1977-78. However, there were substantial loan write-offs in 1977-78 amounting to $676 million. If the write-offs were excluded, loan requirements in 1978-79 would have been $747 million lower than the adjusted 1977-78 level of $1,893 million. This does not include the offset to the extraordinary budgetary item, of which $1,750 million would be recorded in this category.

Loans to lending institutions were down $508 million from the previous year, in large part because of a reduction of $480 million in the loan requirements of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation reflecting principally CMHC's sale of mortgages in 1978-79 with a total face value of $467 million. In addition, there has been a shift towards budgetary grants and subsidies to CMHC and away from loans. Requirements for the Export Development Corporation were down $33 million reflecting the Corporation's lessened reliance on Government financing of its activities.

Other loan requirements were $437 million higher than in 1977-78. If, however, the 1977-78 write-offs of $676 million were excluded ($160 million to the Canadian Dairy Commission, $284 million to Atomic Energy of Canada Limited and $232 million in loans to developing countries), the remaining 1978-79 loans would have been $239 million lower than in 1977-78. Petro-Canada's 1978-79 requirements were $130 million above the 1977-78 level and the 1978-79 requirements for Atomic Energy of Canada Limited—after excluding the 1977-78 loan write-off—were up by $42 million. More than offsetting these increases were declines in loans to other Crown corporations and tax adjustment loans. There was a $140 million reduction in requirements for Air Canada and the Canadian National Railways, which underwent a reorganization and together provided a net source of $44 million in 1978-79 compared to a net requirement of $96 million in 1977-78. In addition, fiscal arrangement loans to the provinces provided a source of $115 million in 1978-79 compared to a 1977-78 requirement of $94 million. This reflects the recovery of equalization overpayments incurred chiefly in 1977-78. Another $47 million of the reduction resulted from the net collection of revenues in the Petroleum Compensation Revolving Fund which was set up in 1978-79 for the purpose of compensating designated classes of high cost domestic petroleum in order to accord such production the equivalence of world price.

B. Annuity, Insurance and Pension Accounts

The annuity, insurance and pension accounts provided a source of $2,078 million in 1978-79, $452 million more than the $1,626 million provided in 1977-78. Within this category, requirements of the Unemployment Insurance Account were $352 million lower than they were in 1977-78. This $352 million reduction reflects increases of $412 million in the Government's contribution to the account and $270 million in employer-employee contributions. These were partly offset by an increase of $309 million in benefit payments. The three superannuation accounts provided a net source of $1,799 million, $50 million above the 1977-78 level. The other pension and annuity accounts provided a net source of $307 million in 1978-79 compared to $257 million in 1977-78. This does not include the offset to the extraordinary budgetary item, of which $2,636 million would be recorded in this category.

C. Other Transactions

Other transactions were a net requirement of $164 million in 1978-79 compared to a net source of $1,357 million in 1977-78. The swing of $1,521 million in 1978-79 reflects mainly the interest and matured debt accounts which were a requirement of $509 million this year compared to a net source of $904 million in 1977-78 for a net swing of $1,413 million. This reflects the interest encashment of the maturing S24 and SR Canada savings bonds series in 1978-79. This does not include the offset to the extraordinary budgetary item, of which $92 million would be recorded in this category.

III. Foreign Exchange Transactions

Foreign exchange transactions include the operations of the Exchange Fund Account to maintain orderly conditions in the exchange markets, and to effect payments by various departments for the purchase of foreign goods and services. Also included in foreign exchange transactions are subscriptions and notes payable to international organizations, and unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies. Total foreign exchange transactions provided a source of $4,088 million in 1978-79 compared to a source of $1,007 million in 1977-78.

IV. Unmatured Debt Transactions

Marketable bonds payable in Canadian currency increased by $5,350 million, treasury bills by $2,240 million and net sales of Canada savings bonds amounted to $1,236 million. In total, unmatured debt payable in Canadian currency increased by $8,778 million compared to an increase of $8,172 million in 1977-78.

V. Cash Balance at End of Period

Financial requirements, including foreign exchange transactions amounted to $6,851 million, while there was an increase of $8,778 million in unmatured debt transactions. As a result the cash balance rose to $6,433 million at March 31, 1979 from $4,506 million at March 31, 1978.

SUMMARY STATEMENT OF TRANSACTIONS—EXTENDED NATIONAL ACCOUNTS PRESENTATION

The National Income and Expenditure Accounts were developed as a basis for economic analysis of income and expenditure flows in the economy as a whole. The concepts and definitions applied to the Government sector are consistent with those applied to other sectors and follow international practices developed under the aegis of the United Nations. The economic nature of a transaction is the determining factor in its classification within the National Accounts framework. The Extended National Accounts present, in addition to the traditional National Accounts revenue, expenditure and balance shown here under the heading "Current transactions", the items which account for the difference between the National Accounts budget balance and total Public Accounts financial requirements.

In 1978-79, current transactions resulted in a deficit of $10,519 million and loans and other transactions amounted to a requirement of $420 million. Foreign exchange transactions provided a source of $4,088 million and unmatured debt transactions provided a source of $8,778 million. As was previously noted, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions are identical to those reported in the Public Accounts presentation. The extraordinary item included in the budgetary deficit of the Public Accounts is not reflected in the National Accounts deficit, as any of these items that affect the National Accounts measures of revenues and expenditure were included in the National Accounts when the actual transactions occurred. The loans and other transactions reported in Tables 1.7 and 1.9 are based on the Public Accounts data excluding the extraordinary item. Although the extraordinary item would not affect the source or requirement from loans and other transactions in the Extended National Accounts presentation, it would affect the component breakdown within that category. If the one-time adjustment were allocated among these categories, loans would be $503 million lower but this would be offset by a $503 million source in cash versus accruals.

A. Revenue

Total revenue on a National Accounts basis increased by $3,684 million in 1978-79. The factors influencing revenue growth on a National Accounts basis were, by and large, the same as those which determined the increase in revenue on a Public Accounts basis. Revenue growth in 1978-79 resulted from an overall increase in direct taxes, both personal and corporate, along with a growth in revenue from investment income and indirect taxes.

In 1978-79 direct taxes from persons increased by 5.2%. Most of this increase is attributed to a rise of $532 million in revenue from personal income tax and a $289 million increase in employer-employee contributions to unemployment insurance premiums. Two important factors which impinged upon the growth in personal income tax revenue were federal compensation for the provincial sales tax reduction contained in the April 10, 1978 budget and the $100 increase in the federal tax credit announced in the October 20, 1977 Economic and Fiscal Statement.

Corporate income tax liabilities advanced at a rate of 21% over the level recorded for the previous year. Working to partially offset the growth in corporate income tax liabilities was the effect of the employment credit program proposed in the October 20, 1977 statement along with the investment tax credit program.

Indirect taxes grew at a rate of 8.1% in 1978-79. Offsetting the respective declines of $94 million and $61 million in the oil export tax and the gasoline tax was a $466 million increase in revenue from customs import duties and an increase of $405 million in revenue from sales and other excise taxes.

The increase in investment income in 1978-79 was 26.7%. The overall principal contributors to the growth in this source of revenue were a 16.2% increase in interest on public-held funds, chiefly the superannuation account balances, a 14.5% increase in interest on loan assets and bank balances, and a 126.3% increase in remitted profits of Government enterprises including a 135.3% increase in exchange fund profits.

B. Expenditure

Expenditure increased by $4,265 million or 9.4% in 1978-79, compared to increases of 12.6% and 10.7% in 1977-78 and 1976-77 respectively.

Interest on the public debt increased by $1,396 million or 25.5% and accounted for about one third of the total increase in expenditure. This increase compares to 17.4% in 1977-78 and 19.3% in 1976-77. Higher levels in both interest rates and unmatured debt account for the increase in interest on the public debt.

Transfer payments to persons rose by $1,139 million or 8.4% and comprised over one quarter of the total increase in expenditure. In 1977-78, the increase was $1,617 million or 13.6% whereas it was $929 million or 8.5% in the year before that. The largest part of the increase in 1978-79 was in combined old age security, guaranteed income supplement and spouses' allowance payments which increased by $631 million or 13.1% as opposed to only $422 million or 9.6% in 1977-78. In addition, unemployment insurance benefits increased by $346 million or 8.4% compared to $682 million or 19.7% the year before. A small decline did occur in family allowances which were $31 million or 1.5% lower than in the previous year as a result of the reduction in monthly payments to $20 per child as of January 1, 1979.

Total current goods and services expenditure increased by $1,166 million or 10.2% and accounted for over one quarter of the increase in total expenditure in 1978-79. This is lower than the increases of $1,358 million or 13.4% and $1,237 million or 13.9% in 1977-78 and 1976-77 respectively. Non-defence goods and services expenditure increased by $787 million or 10.2% in 1978-79 and defence expenditure rose by $379 million or 10.0%. Non-defence wages, salaries and supplementary labour income increased by $462 million or 8.5% to $5,887 million, and military pay and allowances increased by $113 million or 7.4% to $1,641 million in 1978-79.

In 1978-79, transfers to provinces rose by $687 million or 7.0%. This compares to increases of $691 million or 7.6% in 1977-78 and $1,551 million or 20.6% in 1976-77. The dominant programs in this category are in the areas of health and education where spending on a National Accounts basis in 1978-79 is recorded as being $776 million or 19.1% higher than in 1977-78. The overall growth rate in transfers to provinces has been lowered by the decline of some $400 million in revenue guarantee payments as that program winds down.

The $203 million or 21.7% decline in transfers to non-residents basically reflects the fact that the 1977-78 level included loans forgiveness amounting to $232 million. Apart from this, transfers to non-residents rose by just over 4%.

II. Loans and Other Transactions

A. Loans, Investments and Advances

Requirements for loans, investments and advances decreased by $494 million in 1978-79, following a decline of $563 million the previous year.

Loans, investments and advances to lending institutions accounted for $518 million of the decline. Another significant decrease occurred in the requirements for Air Canada and the Canadian National Railways which together were $140 million lower in 1978-79. Partly offsetting these reductions were loans to Petro-Canada which were $130 million above the 1977-78 level and loans to other levels of government, which were $55 million higher.

B. Accrual Accounts

This category mainly reflects the difference between actual receipts and payments and the amounts receivable and payable which are used in arriving at current revenue and expenditure. For example, in the Extended National Accounts presentation, corporate taxes are recorded on an accrual basis as opposed to the collection basis used in the Public Accounts.

The accrual accounts resulted in a requirement of $34 million in 1978-79 compared to a source of $2,551 million in 1977-78, for a swing towards deficit of $2,585 million. The interest accounts were responsible for $1,358 million of the swing, reflecting the interest encashment of the S24 and SF Canada savings bonds series. In addition, outstanding cheques warrants and postal money orders which had increased by $632 million in 1977-78, fell by $243 million in 1978-79 accounting for $875 million of the change.

C. Other Transactions

Other transactions provided a source of $496 million in 1978-79 compared to $493 million in 1977-78. The largest single item in this category is the provincial tax collection agreements account which provided a source of $366 million compared to $330 million in 1977-78.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS AND EXTENDED NATIONAL ACCOUNTS RECONCILIATION

While the Public Accounts and the Extended National Accounts presentations result in the same total financial requirement figures, differences exist in the treatment of transactions in arriving at the budgetary surplus or deficit on a Public Accounts basis and the surplus or deficit on an Extended National Accounts basis. These differences are necessarily offset in the non-budgetary components of total financial requirements.

The reconciliation of transactions according to the two systems of accounts is set out in the tables that follow. The major factors which give rise to the need for a reconciliation are listed below.

In the Public Accounts presentation, Post Office revenue and expenditure are considered as budgetary transactions. In the National Accounts presentation, the postal service is considered to be of a business rather than governmental nature and Post Office revenue and expenditure, as such, are not included in the National Accounts presentation. However, the deficit or surplus of the Post Office is treated as a component of the investment income of its 'owner', the Government.

The deficits of Government business enterprises which are outside the Government accounting entity are, for Public Accounts presentation purposes, met through budgetary appropriations and thus recorded as budgetary expenditure. In the National Accounts presentation, these deficits are netted against Government investment income.

Revenue in the Public Accounts is recorded on a cash basis. While the major portion of National Accounts revenue is accounted for on a cash basis, certain items such as corporate income taxes and the oil export charge are reported on an accrual basis.

Transactions of employee pension accounts and the Unemployment Insurance Account are treated as non-budgetary in the Public Accounts, although the Government's statutory contributions to these accounts and interest payments on the Government's liability to these accounts form part of budgetary expenditure. Employer and employee contributions to these accounts, plus any related interest income, form part of Government revenue in the Extended National Accounts presentation, and benefit payments form part of Government expenditure.

In the Public Accounts presentation, the purchase of capital assets such as buildings and machinery is recorded as a budgetary expenditure in the year of acquisition. Only newly produced capital assets and capital expenditures are included in National Accounts expenditure. Both Government revenue and expenditure include an allowance for the depreciation of capital assets in the latter framework while no such provision is made in the Public Accounts presentation.

The Extended National Accounts universe includes certain Government agencies which are not part of the Public Accounts universe. The actual financial transactions of those agencies form part of Extended National Accounts revenue and expenditure. Transfers and loans to these agencies are thus not accounted for in the Extended National Accounts presentation.

OPINION OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

I have examined the following financial statements of the Government of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1979:

- Statement of Transactions;
- Statement of Revenue and Expenditure;
- Statement of Assets and Liabilities; and
- Statement of Use of Appropriations.

My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such inquiries, tests and other procedures as I considered necessary to enable me to report as required by Section 6 of the Auditor General Act.

In my opinion, these financial statements present information in accordance with the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada as set out in Note 1 to the financial statements and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year, except for the change to establish allowances for the valuation of certain of the assets and liabilities which is set out in Note 3 to the financial statements and with which I concur.

I have the following reservations concerning certain of the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada which, in my opinion, result in the overstatement of assets and understatement of liabilities.

- As described in Note 1(ii), certain Crown corporations are excluded from the Government of Canada as an accounting entity. Some of these corporations are substantially dependent on public funds and carry on activities similar to those of government departments. Because these corporations are treated as organizations outside the accounting entity, all amounts loaned to or invested in them are reported as assets in the Government's financial statements, although part of the loans and investments were used by the corporations for transactions which, if carried out by government departments, would have been charged as budgetary expenditure under the Government's stated accounting policies. This inconsistency in accounting for the expenditure of public funds has the effect of overstating assets. For example, loans to and investments in three such Crown corporations amounting to $986 million are overstated on these grounds.

- The recorded value of special assistance loans to developing countries and subscriptions to international development associations, amounting to $2,977 million, is questionable since, by their terms, these loans and subscriptions have characteristics of grants or contributions. These loans and subscriptions are recorded at cost in accordance with Note 1(vii); whereas, grants and contributions are recorded as budgetary expenditure.
- Reported liabilities are understated because, as stated in Note 1(vi), they do not include all financial obligations at the year end. The full extent of the unrecorded liabilities has not been quantified but examples identified by my Office total an estimated $1,900 million. This amount does not include an estimate of any actuarial liability arising from indexing employee pension plans.

Additional information and comments on these reservations are included in my observations on the financial statements in Section 3 of this volume.

Notes to the Financial Statements of the Government of Canada

I. Significant Accounting Policies and Practices

The accounting policies and practices of the Government of Canada, which have evolved over many years, are based on concepts embodied in the British North America Act, the Financial Administration Act and other legislation.

i. Basic concepts

The two basic concepts on which the Government's accounting system is based are found in the British North America Act: first, the concept of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which emanates from the requirement that all duties and revenues received, other than those reserved to the provinces, "shall form One Consolidated Revenue Fund"; second, the concept that the balance of the Fund, after certain prior charges, "shall be appropriated by the Parliament of Canada".

Parliament provides authority to make payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund in annual appropriation acts and other statutes (referred to as statutory appropriations). Spending authority granted in appropriation acts is for stated purposes and maximum amounts. Unless provided for in the wording of votes, unused balances of spending authority granted in appropriation acts lapse at the end of the year for which it was granted. Spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. Spending authority provided by statutory appropriations does not lapse at the end of the year in which granted.

ii. Government of Canada as an accounting entity

For purposes of maintaining the accounts of Canada and preparing the Public Accounts as required by the Financial Administration Act, the Government of Canada is defined as all the departments named in Schedule A of the Act; any division or branch of the Public Service, including a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act, designated by the Governor in Council as a department for purposes of the Financial Administration Act; the staffs of the Senate, the House of Commons, and the Library of Parliament; and, any corporation named in Schedule B of the Financial Administration Act.

In accordance with the above definition, the corporations named in Schedules C and D of the Financial Administration Act are excluded from the Government of Canada as an accounting entity, and their financial statements have not been consolidated with those of the Government. The financial statements of these Crown corporations are presented in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

In addition, certain accounts and funds have separate financial statements which are not combined with those of the Government, but appear separately in Volumes I and II. These accounts and funds include the Exchange

Fund Account, the Canada Pension Plan account, the Unemployment Insurance Account, revolving funds and other similar accounts, all of which, except for the Exchange Fund Account, form part of the Government of Canada as an accounting entity.

iii. Classification of financial transactions

The financial transactions of the Government as recorded in the accounts of Canada and reflected in the Public Accounts are classified into budgetary transactions and other transactions consisting of non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions.

In general terms, budgetary transactions are those which enter into the calculation of the annual budgetary surplus or deficit and are disclosed on the Government's Statement of Revenue and Expenditure. The other transactions lead to the acquisition or disposal of financial claims or to the creation or discharge of financial obligations which are disclosed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

For purposes of accounting and reporting, the Public Accounts uses the classification in force at the end of the year to which the report refers and presents comparative figures for the previous year on a consistent basis.

iv. Budgetary revenue

Budgetary revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government and includes revenue internal to the Government.

The Government generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue is stated after deducting refunds paid and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces, receipts from contributors to the Canada Pension Plan, the Unemployment Insurance and the superannuation accounts, and receipts and revenues credited to revolving funds and to other asset and liability accounts.

In the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure, revenue is stated both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue credited to appropriations, and postal receipts used to defray postal expenditures.

v. Budgetary expenditure

Budgetary expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations for goods and services and for transfer payments which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government and includes:

- payments made during the year for goods and services, and for transfer payments;
- payments made according to the provisions of the Financial Administration Act within thirty days following the end of the year, on account of debts incurred prior to the end of the year for work performed, goods received, services rendered, or resulting from contractual arrangements;

- interest accrued on the public debt;
- accruals of certain salaries and wages earned but not paid at the end of the year;
- interest and Government contributions credited to superannuation, other annuity, insurance and pension accounts and to the Unemployment Insurance Account;
- provision for valuation of assets and liabilities;
- write-off of assets;
- amortization of discount on Treasury bills and actuarial deficiencies of superannuation accounts; and
- amounts credited to undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts.

In addition, budgetary expenditure includes transactions internal to the Government.

Expenditure does not include pensions paid under the Canada Pension Plan, superannuation and other pension accounts, Unemployment Insurance payments other than benefits to fishermen, payments financed from undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts and payments charged to working capital advance accounts and to revolving funds and other asset and liability accounts.

In the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure, expenditure is stated both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue credited to appropriations, and postal receipts used to defray postal expenditures.

vi. Assets and liabilities

Assets are defined as the financial claims acquired by the Government of Canada on outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date. Liabilities are defined as financial obligations to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the accounting date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies and practices described above, and in accordance with the provisions of the Financial Administration Act and other legislation, certain financial claims and obligations are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The most important types of financial claims not reported are accounts receivable for tax and non-tax revenue. Similarly, the financial obligations not reported include: accounts payable for goods and services received during the year but not paid within thirty days from the end of the year; accounts payable related to statutory appropriations; accrued liabilities for retroactive salary and wage settlements, for unpaid overtime, annual vacation and unused sick leave, and for benefits payable upon termination of employment; actuarial liabilities arising from the indexing to the cost of living of superannuate pensions and annuities.

The Statement of Assets and Liabilities includes, however, certain balances of accounts internal to the Government (Note 3) which will continue to be reported until parliamentary authority to delete them from the accounts of Canada has been obtained.

vii. Valuation of assets and liabilities

ASSETS

Assets are recorded at cost except for:

- assets denominated in foreign currencies, which are translated to Canadian currency at year-end closing rates of exchange; and
- fixed assets, which are carried at the nominal value of $1.

Assets are not subject to revaluation to reflect collectable or recoverable values except for the two following items:

- a general allowance for losses on all classes of assets, not related to any specific assets or classes of assets; and
- specific allowances for valuation of assets and liabilities as explained in Note 3.

Liabilities are recorded in the amounts ultimately payable except for:

- liabilities denominated in foreign currencies which are translated to Canadian currency at year-end closing rates of exchange; and
- liabilities for the superannuation accounts of the Canadian Forces, the Public Service and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the Government annuities account, which are valued on an actuarial basis.

The Canada Pension Plan account and the Supplementary Retirement Benefits account are not maintained on an actuarial basis. The Canada Pension Plan Act limits payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the amount of the outstanding balance in the Canada Pension Plan account.

2. Changes in Financial Statements

i. Statement of Transactions

A new statement, Statement of Transactions, has been included in this section. It includes all transactions of the Government determined in accordance with the accounting policies and practices described in Note 1, and identifies how the financial requirements were met, together with the resulting effect of all transactions on the cash balance. The statement is broadly consistent with the tables presented in the Budget Speech, the Statement of Financial Operations published each month in the Canada Gazette and the presentation in the Economic Review published by the Department of Finance.

ii. Statement of Use of Appropriations

The Summary of Budgetary Appropriations, Expenditures and Unexpended Balances by Department has been replaced by the Statement of Use of Appropriations to disclose the use of non-budgetary as well as budgetary appropriations.

3. Change in Accounting Practices

Allowances have been created for the valuation of certain assets and liabilities. The allowances have been authorized by the Minister of Finance under Section 54(2)(b) of the Financial Administration Act and provide in full for the accounts described below. Previous year's figures have not been adjusted for comparative purposes on the financial statements.

	(in millions of dollars)
Allowances for—
Valuation of loans identified as requiring parliamentary authority for write-off	934
Valuation of accounts internal to the Government	2,898
Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits	646
	4,478

The accounts for which allowances have been created are as follows:

i. Loans identified as requiring parliamentary authority for write-off

These are loans where a decision has been made by the Government to defer the paying of principal and interest until an authority is obtained from Parliament to delete them from the accounts of the Government.

	(in millions of dollars)
Atomic Energy of Canada Limited	547
Canadian Broadcasting Corporation	198
National Capital Commission	38
Northwest Territories	106
Yukon Territory	45

ii. Accounts internal to the Government

Accounts internal to the Government reported as assets represent expenditures chargeable to subsequent years. Those reported as liabilities represent spending authorities carried forward to future years. These accounts are reported as assets and liabilities but do not meet the definitions stated in Note 1 (vi).

	(in millions of dollars)
ASSETS
Unemployment Insurance—Non-interest-bearing advances	1,990
Working capital advances to revolving funds, departments and agencies	816
Unamortized bond flotation costs	140
LIABILITIES
Undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts	48
	2,898

iii. Allowance for Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits, $646 million

Under the Unemployment Insurance Act, the Unemployment Insurance Account is reimbursed each fiscal year for the Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits for the immediately preceding calendar year.

The effect of this is to delay the recognition of budgetary expenditure by the Government in the period to which it pertains. In order to bridge the gap, non-interest-bearing advances are made to the Unemployment Insurance Account and recorded as assets of the Government.

Recommendation 11 of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada proposes that the Unemployment Insurance Account be reimbursed by the Government on a monthly basis for all expenditures to be borne by the Government and that the reimbursements be recorded as budgetary expenditures of the period to which they pertain, thus deleting non-interest-bearing advances from the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

In accordance with Recommendation 11 and until the Unemployment Insurance Act is modified, recognition has been made of the Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits on a fiscal year basis by the creation of this allowance.

4. Contingent Liabilities of the Government of Canada

In addition to the financial obligations set out in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities, there are contingent liabilities which are summarized in the following table. These include borrowings by Crown corporations which are agents of the Government. These borrowings are a direct charge against the Consolidated Revenue Fund; however, they are intended to be, and in practice have been, repaid directly by the corporations. Accordingly, they are treated herein as contingent liabilities. There are also contingent liabilities with respect to guarantees of principal and interest on certain borrowings of Crown corporations which are not agents of the Government; loans made by chartered banks and other approved lending institutions under the National Housing Act, 1954; advances under the Export Development Act; bank loans under the Canada Student Loans Act and the Farm Improvement Loans Act; and a number of miscellaneous guarantees.

	1979	1978
Borrowings by Crown corporations which are agents of the Government	2,490	1,663
Guarantees of principal and interest of Crown corporations which are not agents of the Government	506	513
Other outstanding guarantees and contingent liabilities	25,574	21,560

Details are listed in Section 11 of this volume.

Observations by the Auditor General on the Financial Statements of the Government of Canada

Introduction

I have examined the financial statements of the Government of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1979, which, together with my opinion, are included in section 2 of this Volume. These financial statements are the Statement of Transactions, the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure, the Statement of Assets and Liabilities, and the Statement of Use of Appropriations.

My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such inquiries, tests and other procedures as I considered necessary to enable me to report as required by Section 6 of the Auditor General Act. This section provides that:

"The Auditor General shall examine the several financial statements required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act to be included in the Public Accounts, and any other statement that the Minister of Finance may present for audit and shall express his opinion as to whether they present fairly information in accordance with stated accounting policies of the federal government and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year together with any reservations he may have."

My opinion includes reservations concerning certain of the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada which, in my view, result in the overstatement of assets and the understatement of liabilities. The first two reservations were included in my opinion last year; the third is new. I have not repeated the reservation in my 1978 opinion relating to balances designated for deletion, because the Government has made a change in its accounting policies to establish specific allowances that fully provide for those amounts at March 31, 1979.

The observations that follow provide additional explanatory information on the reservations to my opinion, under the general heading of government accounting policies. They also note improvements initiated or planned by the Government which are described in the Introduction to the Public Accounts, and which respond to recommendations of the Standing Committee on Public Accounts in its First Report to the House of Commons dated February 21, 1979.

The observations are also concerned with the disclosure of information in the audited financial statements and with the limitations of those statements. In these observations, I call attention to the need for summary financial statements that provide a comprehensive and complete summary of the Government's financial position and operations, and the need to develop generally accepted and conceptually sound accounting principles appropriate for government.

Government Accounting Policies

The following paragraphs describe and comment on the change in accounting policy, and on reservations to my opinion which relate to:

- the overstatement of loans to and investments in certain Crown corporations;
- special assistance loans to developing countries, and loans and subscriptions to international development associations, the reported value of which is questionable; and
- substantial unrecorded liabilities at the year end.

Change in accounting policy for the valuation of assets and liabilities

This year under the provisions of Section 54 of the Financial Administration Act the Government created the following allowances which are described in Note 3 to the financial statements:

	(in millions of dollars)
Accounts internal to the Government	2,898
Loans identified as requiring parliamentary authority for write-off	934
Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits	646

The first two allowances constitute a change in the Government's accounting policy of not revaluing assets to reflect collectible or recoverable amounts.

The Government has created an allowance of $2,898 million to offset the balances at March 31, 1979 of "accounts internal to the Government". These accounts represent reported assets of $2,946 million and liabilities of $48 million which do not meet the Government's definition of assets and liabilities because they do not represent amounts recoverable from, or payable to, outside organizations or individuals. The allowance responds to the Public Accounts Committee's recommendation that legislative action be taken to delete such reported assets and liabilities from the accounts of Canada and to prevent similar balances from recurring in future years. The Government has introduced legislation intended to carry out the Committee's recommendation.

An allowance has also been established to provide for loans of $934 million which are not considered recoverable, but which require parliamentary authority for write-off. By identifying and fully providing for specific unrecoverable loans requiring parliamentary authority for write-off, the Government has acted in accordance with the Public Accounts Committee's recommendation that:

"the Office of the Comptroller General review each year loans to and equity investments in Crown corporations with a view to recommending that adequate provision be made through budgetary appropriations where such corporations lack sufficient revenues to repay the investment of Canada."

Such a systematic review was not carried out this year. However, the Office of the Comptroller General is, at present, developing a policy for determining and reporting asset values. This policy is expected to be in force for the 1980 Public Accounts.

There is also a general allowance of $546 million for losses on realization of assets. This allowance is not related to any specific assets or class of assets and has remained unchanged since 1957; it should be taken into account when determining write-offs or allowances as a result of future annual reviews of loans and investments.

In addition to the above allowances, the Government has also provided an allowance to adjust its portion of the cost of unemployment insurance benefits paid to March 31, 1979. This allowance gives effect to Recommendation 11 of the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada which called for recording the Government's cost of paying benefits in the year the benefits are paid. Legislation amending the Unemployment Insurance Act has been introduced to implement the Study's recommendation.

Overstatement of loans to and investments in Crown corporations

Government-type activity is carried out not only by departments of government but also by a variety of boards, councils, commissions, corporations and other organizations. Certain of these organizations are excluded from the accounting entity of the Government of Canada and, thus, their financial operations, assets and liabilities are not reported in the financial statements of the Government.

As described in Note 1(ii) to the financial statements, all Crown corporations listed in Schedules C and D of the Financial Administration Act are excluded from the accounting entity of the Government of Canada. Some of these corporations are substantially dependent on public funds and carry on activities similar to those of government departments. Because these corporations are treated as organizations outside the accounting entity, all amounts loaned to or invested in them are recorded as assets, although part of the loans and investments have been used to acquire capital assets or for other transactions which, if carried out by government departments, would have been charged as budgetary expenditure under the Government's stated accounting policies. Thus, in the accounts of Canada, similar transactions for similar purposes are recorded as assets in some circumstances and as budgetary expenditures in others. In my view, this inconsistency in accounting for the expenditure of public funds has the effect of overstating assets and understating budgetary expenditures reported in the current and prior years.

For example, loans to and investments in three such Crown corporations which total $986 million are overstated on these grounds. These are loans to the National Harbours Board of $301 million, loans to The Jacques Cartier and Champlain Bridges Incorporated of $60 million and investments in The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of $625 million. The investments in The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority were originally in the form of interest bearing loans. These loans were converted to contributed capital in 1977. The recorded loans to The Jacques Cartier and Champlain Bridges Incorporated were previously recorded as loans to the National Harbours Board. The loans were assumed by the Corporation during 1978 as part of the transfer to it, from the Board, of responsibility for the operation and maintenance of the Jacques Cartier and Champlain Bridges and the Bonaventure Autoroute.

All the loans were made for the acquisition or operation of such government facilities as ports, canals, bridges and roads. The Government's expenditures on these facilities would have been a charge to budgetary expenditure had they been made directly by departments rather than indirectly through the Crown corporations.

In its Report of February 21, 1979, the Public Accounts Committee recommended that the accounting entity of the Government of Canada include all Crown corporations substantially dependent on public funds or that carry on government operations. Implementation of this recommendation would eliminate from the financial statements of the Government loans to and investments in such corporations if the loans or investments were used to acquire capital assets or for other transactions which would have been charged to budgetary expenditure under the Government's stated accounting policies.

At present, the Office of the Comptroller General is reviewing the need for redefining the accounting entity. In addition, the Comptroller General's Office is also developing policies for making loans to Crown corporations and for valuing assets. These policies are intended, in part, to address the inconsistency in the accounting and reporting of payments to Crown corporations.

Loans and subscriptions of questionable value

In accordance with Note 1(vii) to the financial statements, special assistance loans to developing countries and subscriptions to international development associations amounting to $2,977 million, are recorded at cost. The reported value of these loans and subscriptions is questionable since, by their terms, they have characteristics of grants or contributions. The Government records grants and contributions as budgetary expenditure.

Loans to national governments include $1,653 million in special loan assistance to developing countries. Of these loans, $1,554 million bear no interest and are repayable over 50 years with no payments falling due in the first 10 years. Loans for such long periods which bear no interest have the characteristics of grants or contributions, but are recorded as assets of the Government of Canada in conformity with the appropriation authorities which authorized them. Specific terms and conditions of the loans are described on page 6.22 of section 6 of this Volume.

Subscriptions, loans and advances to international organizations are reported as foreign assets. They include subscriptions to an international development association of $931 million, and non-interest bearing loans to other international development associations of $393 million which are repayable only on termination of the associations. These development associations make loans to developing countries on terms similar to those of the special loan assistance referred to above. Additional information describing these loans and subscriptions is provided on pages 9.5 and 9.6 of section 9 of this Volume.

In its Report dated February 21, 1979, the Public Accounts Committee recommended that the terms of special assistance loans to developing countries and of loans to and subscriptions in international development associations be adequately disclosed in the audited financial statements of the Government of Canada. This information is presented in sections 6 and 9 of this Volume.

In its Report, the Public Accounts Committee also recommended that the Office of the Comptroller General expedite a study to establish an appropriate basis for valuing these loans and subscriptions, and that it report back to the Committee as soon as possible. As previously stated, the Office of the Comptroller General is developing a policy on the valuation of assets which is expected to be in effect for the 1980 Public Accounts.

Unrecorded liabilities

As stated in Note 1(vi) to the financial statements, liabilities do not include all financial obligations to outside organizations and individuals at the year end. This results in an understatement of budgetary expenditures for the current and prior years. Note 1(vi) defines liabilities as financial obligations to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions prior to the year end. This definition is consistent with that recommended by the Report on the Study of the Accounts of Canada. However, there are a number of important exceptions to this definition which are also included in Note 1(vi). These exceptions are:

- accounts payable for goods and services received in the year but not paid within thirty days from the end of the year;
- accounts payable related to statutory appropriations;
- accrued liabilities for retroactive salary and wage settlements, unpaid overtime, annual vacation and unused sick leave, and for benefits payable upon termination of employment; and
- actuarial liabilities arising from the indexing to the cost of living of superannuate pensions and annuities.

Because these liabilities are not recorded, the Government has not quantified all of them; however, they are substantial. Examples of estimated unrecorded liabilities, totalling $1,900 million, are:

- accounts payable for goods and services received in the year but not paid within thirty days from the end of the year, amounting to $119 million ($77 million in 1978) as shown in section 12 of this Volume.
- accounts payable related to certain statutory appropriations, estimated by my Office to be $681 million ($714 million in 1978) for the following programs:

Program	1979	1978
	(in millions of dollars)
Revenue guarantee	120	120
Provincial equalization	104	—
Post secondary education	84	173
Health care	123	221
Subsidies under the Railway Act	250	200
	681	714

—accrued liabilities for termination benefits payable to employees, approximating $1,100 million estimated on the basis of information provided by the Department of Insurance at the request of my Office.

In addition to the above, there are potential liabilities related to employee pension plans which are not reported in the financial statements. For example, actuarial liabilities arising from indexing employee pensions to the cost of living are not estimated. However, the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance has estimated that the present value of the cost of indexing pensions being paid at the year end amounts to $2,600 million. This estimate is more fully described on page 7.7 of section 7 of this Volume. Further, the liabilities for employees' pensions are based, in part, on actuarial valuations which are to be made every five years. The latest of these to be recorded in the accounts were made effective December 31, 1970, for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account; December 31, 1972, for the Public Service Superannuation Account; and December 31, 1974, for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account.

Unrecorded liabilities result in an understatement of the Government's financial obligations at the year end. They also result in the understatement of accumulated budgetary expenditures and may distort annually reported expenditures for government programs. For these reasons, I believe that all of the Government's financial obligations should be recorded.

The Office of the Comptroller General has developed a revised policy to provide for the recording of accounts payable for all goods and services received in the year which are chargeable to annually lapsing appropriations. This policy is to be effective March 31, 1980 and will implement Recommendation 24 of the Study of the Accounts of Canada.

Need for government accounting principles

Generally accepted accounting principles for business enterprises are standards of good accounting and reporting practice that have been accepted by the accounting profession, the business community and government. They are standards to which the reader can refer and against which financial statements can be audited. However, generally accepted accounting principles appropriate for governments have yet to be developed. The Government of Canada prepares its financial statements in accordance with its own stated accounting policies. These policies reflect accounting practices that have evolved over the years in the Government of Canada in response to a variety of legislative provisions and administrative conventions.

In its Final Report dated March 1979, the Royal Commission on Financial Management & Accountability (the Lambert Commission) observed that the financial statements submitted to Parliament are based on accounting practices that are not generally accepted, and in some cases, not even conceptually justifiable. The Commission concluded that unless firm action is taken by Parliament, the financial statements will continue to lack integrity, to be complicated rather than straightforward, and to be presented in a manner which is not consistent from one year to the next.

I believe that the Government of Canada needs conceptually sound accounting principles which are generally accepted by all users and are consistent with the purposes of the financial statements. Such principles would promote fairness, consistency and comparability of information.

Disclosure of Information

The Public Accounts contain extensive information pertaining to the financial position and operations of the Government of Canada. This information is displayed in a variety of ways and is included in various parts of the volumes of the Public Accounts. The financial statements of the Government should provide a complete, comprehensive and understandable summary of the Government's financial position and its revenues and expenditures. The comments that follow are concerned with the disclosure of information in the audited financial statements and with the limitations of those statements.

Notes to the financial statements

Most audited financial statements are accompanied by notes that summarize important information relevant to the balances shown in the statements. Rarely can all such information be displayed on the face of the statements themselves, because to do so would overcomplicate the presentation for the reader. Thus, notes serve as a convenient and useful means of disclosing pertinent information to provide the reader with a complete understanding of the financial position and operations as reported in the financial statements.

The Report of the Independent Review Committee on the Office of the Auditor General recommended that the "main financial statements of Canada should appear together in the Public Accounts along with such notes and explanations as may be necessary". In making this recommendation the Committee expressed the view that:

"For a clear understanding of the financial situation of Canada, all the major statements should be brought together in one place and should include a full explanation of the basis on which they have been prepared. In other words, they should be produced as a group of statements, complete in themselves, just as the financial statements of a business enterprise are presented to the shareholders as a package. This does not imply any reduction in the information included in Volume 1 of the Public Accounts, which contains very useful analyses of major amounts and particulars of unusual items. It would, however, become clearer that this is only additional information, which the reader does not need to have in order to understand what the main financial statements show."

My Office has supported this view and has encouraged government officials to improve the disclosure of explanatory information in notes to the audited financial statements. They have adopted an alternative presentation.

The responsible agencies reason that government financial operations are too large and complex to be adequately summarized in notes to the statements without the notes becoming either unwieldy or unduly selective. Therefore, instead of developing new and improved notes to financial statements, they decided to delete notes that contained explanatory information presented elsewhere in Volume 1 of the Public Accounts, and adopted an alternative presentation which, in their view, would present all the necessary information in an orderly fashion. Under this alternative, all explanatory information supporting the financial statements is set out in the other sections of Volume 1 and, this year, these sections were reorganized to bring together both summary and detailed information related to particular amounts shown in the audited financial statements. The responsible agencies believe that this reorganization will improve disclosure by presenting readers with information at various levels of summarization, and in sufficient detail to enable them to understand fully the transactions and relate them to legislative authority.

In addition to reorganizing the contents of the various sections, significant new summary information has been included in Volume 1 of the Public Accounts this year. However, this information is found in a number of sections rather than being summarized with the audited statements in section 2. For example:

- Table 6.11 on page 6.35 of section 6 summarizes useful financial information concerning loans to and investments in Crown corporations.
- Table 9.2 on page 9.3 in section 9 sets out for the first time, the assets and liabilities of the Exchange Fund Account at the year end.
- The narrative accompanying Table 7.3 on page 7.4 of section 7 states that if principles of “actuarial funding” were applied to the Canada Pension Plan, an additional $95 billion would have to be invested in the Plan’s Investment Fund at December 31, 1979 to fund future benefits to all contributors and former contributors.
- The narrative accompanying Table 7.4 on page 7.4 of section 7 summarizes the amount charged to budgetary expenditure for employee superannuation plans during the year.
- Table 10.9 on page 10.9 in section 10 shows the maturity and average interest rates of unmatured debt outstanding at the year end.

As is evident from the preceding examples, Volume 1 includes much valuable summary information which allows the reader to understand the amounts reported in the financial statements more clearly. Although there is selective referencing of amounts in the statements to summary tables in other sections, presenting this summary information throughout the various sections of Volume 1, and in the midst of other more detailed information, may inconvenience and confuse a reader who is looking for a complete overview of the Government’s financial position, revenues and expenditures. If this type of presentation is used, there is need to continue the reorganization of information in the sections of Volume 1 to facilitate the reference of balances from the statements to concise and complete presentations of summary information. However, I believe the Government should reconsider the use of notes to the financial statements so that readers have ready access to the summary information they need to understand the statements without having to constantly refer to information presented in all the various other sections of this Volume. These notes could then be referenced to more detailed information in other sections.

Purposes of financial statements

The nature and extent of information reported and how it is presented depend on the objectives of summary financial statements for the Government. Summary financial statements can serve a number of useful purposes. They can, for example, display the total costs of government activities for the year, explain how these activities were financed, and provide a measure of the Government’s financial position at the year end. To do so, they should be comprehensive; they should present summary financial information related to all government activities. The statements should also be complete; they should provide all the information needed for them to be understood.

The current financial statements are primarily designed to provide an accounting to Parliament of the financial transactions of the Government as recorded in the accounts of Canada as defined in Section 54 of the Financial Administration Act. Accordingly they reflect the transactions of accounts and funds which use the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

However, as stated in Note 1(ii) to the financial statements, certain accounts and funds have separate financial statements which are not combined with those of the Government. These accounts and funds include the Exchange Fund Account, the Canada Pension Plan Account, the Unemployment Insurance Account, revolving funds and other similar accounts. Also, the government statements do not consolidate the financial statements of Crown corporations that carry on government-type activities financed with public funds, and which are listed in Schedules C and D of the Financial Administration Act.

Financial statements and other information concerning these corporations, accounts and funds are available elsewhere in other sections and volumes of the Public Accounts, but this method of presenting information is not always adequate or convenient for a reader who is looking for a comprehensive and complete financial overview of the Government. The Lambert Commission Report observed that:

“The Financial Statements of the Government of Canada appear to be straightforward, but in fact they must be read in conjunction with a long list of notes and observations, detailing explanations, exceptions, and inconsistencies. Even with this supplementary information, it would be difficult for anyone but a skilled accountant familiar with the organization of government to determine the exact amount of the budgetary deficit.”

There is a need to reconsider the current and potential use of summary financial statements and the information they should report. The present statements perform a useful function by providing an accounting to Parliament of the transactions of the Consolidated Revenue Fund on the basis of existing legislation. However, there is also a need for summary financial statements that provide a comprehensive and complete summary of the Government's financial position and operations. Such statements would combine, on an appropriate accounting basis, information for all organizations and funds that carry out government operations financed by the public purse.

Need for Central Direction

In considering financial reporting for the Government of Canada there is a need to address certain basic issues such as the purposes of the financial statements and the uses of the information reported. There is also a need for conceptually sound accounting principles that are generally accepted by all users and are consistent with the purposes of the financial statements.

The Lambert Commission expressed concern about the quality and usefulness of financial statements submitted to Parliament. The Commission concluded that strong, central direction was required to resolve these difficulties and recommended that this direction be provided by the Comptroller General of Canada. Under the Financial Administration Act, the Treasury Board, the Minister of Finance and the Receiver General for Canada all have responsibilities for developing accounting policies and preparing the Government's financial statements.

I agree with the Lambert Commission on the need for strong central direction. In my view, this direction should be provided by the Comptroller General of Canada, and the Treasury Board should be given sole responsibility for the Government's accounting and financial reporting policies. Appropriate amendments to the Financial Administration Act will be required to vest this responsibility and authority in the Treasury Board and the Comptroller General.

BUDGETARY REVENUE

Budgetary revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government and includes revenue internal to the Government.

The Government generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received, with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue for a year therefore includes receipts credited to the Receiver General by the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks by March 31, and amounts received in Government offices by March 31, but not deposited until April or not credited to the Receiver General until April. Revenue also includes the amounts received in the mail on the first working day of April except where it is clear that it was the remitter's intention to discharge an obligation arising in the new year.

Revenue is stated after deducting refunds paid and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces, receipts from contributors to the Canada Pension Plan, the Unemployment Insurance and the superannuation accounts, and receipts and revenues credited to revolving funds and to other asset and liability accounts. An analysis of receipts credited to non-budgetary accounts is shown in Table 4.8 at the end of this section.

The yield from tax revenue is affected by changes in tax rates, by changes in the base on which taxes are calculated and by variations in economic conditions. Income tax liability relates to the income of a taxation year but the system of collecting personal and corporation income taxes by payroll deductions and instalments, results in a distribution of receipts throughout the year.

Tax revenue increased by $1,692 million in 1978-79 compared to a decrease of $195 million in 1977-78.

The major tax changes which had an impact on this year's tax revenue are:

- employment tax credit program;
- federal compensation for provincial sales tax reductions;
- extension of tariff reductions;
- elimination of the $50/child tax credit;
- elimination of the increased exemption for children aged 16 and 17;
- reduction in the rate of federal sales tax; and
- reduction in the gasoline excise tax.

Under fiscal arrangements that became operative in 1962, the federal Government entered into tax collection agreements to collect the provincial personal income taxes of all provinces except Quebec and the provincial corporation income taxes of all provinces except Ontario and Quebec.

Personal and corporation income taxes collected by the federal Government on behalf of the provinces, and subsequently remitted to the provinces, are not included in the tables shown hereunder.

Tax Revenue

Table 4.2 presents a comparison of tax revenue and old age security taxes on a per capita basis for the last five years.

⁽¹⁾ The old age security taxes were eliminated after 1971 but amounts determined by reference to the previously existing old age security tax rates were credited to the Old Age Security Fund until 1975.

Under amendments to the Old Age Security Act, which came into effect at the end of June 1975, the Old Age Security Fund ceased to exist. Benefits paid to be charged to budgetary expenditure. Transfers of personal and corporation income taxes and sales tax previously made to the Fund were discontinued.

⁽²⁾ Based on population as of October 1, 1978.

Personal Income Tax

In 1978-79, personal income tax was the largest source of Government revenue. The relatively modest growth of this revenue source reflects the impact of discretionary measures, the most important of which was the federal compensation of temporary provincial sales tax reductions.

Corporation Income Tax

Corporation income tax was the second largest source of Government revenue.

Non-Resident Income Tax

Revenue, in this category, is derived from tax withheld from dividends, interest, rents, royalties, alimonies and income from estates and trusts paid to non-residents.

Excise Taxes and Duties

Excise taxes and duties totalled $9,697 million, 28% of total budgetary revenue.

From a revenue standpoint, the general sales tax, totalling $4,729 million, was the most important tax levied under the Excise Tax Act. Included in excise tax is $328 million in oil export charge, applicable to exports imposed under the Excise Tax Act.

Excise duties, which totalled $878 million, are levied on alcoholic beverages (other than wines) and tobacco products. (Additional taxes on tobacco products and taxes on wines are levied under the Excise Tax Act).

Receipts from the gasoline tax were $516 million. Under certain conditions, the amounts received may be refunded to purchasers. As of March 31, 1979, $679 million was received and $163 million refunded and charged to revenue.

The yield from other excise taxes levied under the Excise Tax Act, other than the general sales tax, the oil export charge and the gasoline tax was $499 million.

Return on Investments

Return on investments consists of interest derived from loans and advances, and from transfer of profits, surpluses and dividends.

Return on investments regarding assets as presented on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities is summarized in Table 4.4. Additional details are given in Section 12 of this volume and in the departmental sections of Volume II.

Postal Revenue

Gross postal revenue from postal operations was $1,099 million but authorized disbursements from revenue, for salaries and rent allowances, other allowances and commissions at semi-staff and revenue post offices, commissions at sub-post offices, transit charges on Canadian mail forwarded through and delivered in foreign countries, in the amount of $123 million, and revenue credited to expenditure of $73 million, reduced reported net postal revenue to $903 million.

Refunds of Previous Years' Expenditure

Refunds of previous years' expenditure totalled $120 million in 1978-79 compared to $52 million in 1977-78. The major items which accounted for the increase of $68 million are:

—as a result of a change in the accounting practice pertaining to refunds of oil import compensation payments made in previous years, $50 million was credited to this account during the year. Such refunds were previously credited to expenditure. The figures for 1977-78 have not been adjusted for comparative purposes. Had the figures been restated, the amount for 1977-78 would have been increased by approximately $15 million; and —refunds of Canada student loans were higher by $10 million in 1978-79.

RECEIPTS AND REVENUES CREDITED TO APPROPRIATIONS

Receipts and revenues arising from the activities of particular programs, which are credited to the appropriations for those programs, and which are not included in budgetary revenue, totalled $1,118 million in 1978-79. Since authority to spend revenues received from the private sector has been discontinued in 1978-79 for certain programs, in full or in part, the figures for 1977-78, amounting to $20 million, have been restated for comparative purposes.

Receipts and revenues credited to appropriations are summarized by Department and selected classification and by source in Tables 4.6 and 4.7.

BUDGETARY APPROPRIATIONS

Part of the expenditures of the public service is defrayed from monies granted by Parliament in annual Appropriation Acts; however, substantial payments are made under authority of other acts which authorize expenditures for specified purposes and for such amounts and during such time as the acts may prescribe. The spending authority granted in the annual Appropriation Acts differs from that granted in "statutory" authorities in that it is usually for a specific amount and of definite duration and, unless there is provision to the contrary in the wording of a vote, any unused balance lapses at the end of the year for which it is granted (Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act).

Table 5.1 gives a summary of budgetary expenditure made under the authority of annual Appropriation Acts and various statutory authorities for the year ended March 31, 1979. Table 5.2 provides details by department for the year. A statement of use of appropriations by department, as examined by the Auditor General, is presented in Section 2 of this volume. In addition, detailed information on budgetary appropriations and expenditure is given in the departmental sections of Volume II.

(1) Available for expenditure in 1979-80.

(2) Increase amounting to $9 million in appropriations resulted from Department of External Affairs authority in Votes 10 and 10a to pay assessments in the amounts and in the currencies in which they are levied, and to pay other amounts specified in the currencies of the countries indicated, notwithstanding that the total of such payments may exceed the equivalent in Canadian dollars, estimated as of October 1976.

When Parliament was dissolved on March 26, 1979, the Estimates and Supplementary Estimates (A) for 1978-79 had been passed by the House of Commons. Further Supplementary Estimates (B) had been tabled but not passed, due to the dissolution of Parliament.

In accordance with Section 23 of the Financial Administration Act, a Governor General's special warrant was issued on March 29, 1979 for $143 million. This warrant provided the necessary funds for the carrying on of Government services for the balance of the year.

Spending authority of $23 million was brought forward from 1977-78 in accordance with provisions of the original appropriations. Budgetary expenditure during 1978-79 totalled $19,333 million, consequently, $1,089 million, or about 5% of the amount provided by the Appropriation Acts for budgetary expenditure, was unspent at the close of the year. Of this amount, $1,068 million lapsed in accordance with Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act and $21 million is available for expenditure in 1979-80 in accordance with provisions of the Appropriation Acts.

Budgetary expenditure in 1978-79 under the authority of statutes authorizing payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for specific purposes without further appropriations, amounted to $27,589 million, accounting for approximately 59% of the total budgetary expenditure of $46,922 million.

The Estimates for 1978-79 covering budgetary expenditure the Appropriation Acts and Governor General's special warrant granting funds in respect thereof, were as follows:

BUDGETARY EXPENDITURE

Budgetary expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations for goods and services and for transfer payments which affect the budgetary deficit or surplus of the Government and includes:

- payments made during the year for goods and services, and for transfer payments;
- payments made according to the provisions of the Financial Administration Act within thirty days following the end of the year, on account of debts incurred prior to the end of the year for work performed, goods received, services rendered, or resulting from contractual arrangements;
- interest accrued on the public debt;
- accruals of certain salaries and wages earned but not paid at the end of the year;

- interest and Government contributions credited to superannuation, other annuity, insurance and pension accounts and to the Unemployment Insurance Account;
- provision for valuation of assets and liabilities;
- write-off of assets;
- amortization of discount on Treasury bills and actuarial deficiencies of superannuation accounts; and
- amounts credited to undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts.

In addition, budgetary expenditure includes transactions internal to the Government.

Expenditure does not include pensions paid under the Canada Pension Plan, superannuation and other pension accounts, Unemployment Insurance payments other than benefits to fishermen, payments financed from undisbursed balances of appropriations to special accounts and payments charged to working capital advance accounts and to revolving funds and other asset and liability accounts.

In this section, the expenditure is analysed in several different ways:

- (1) by function, i.e. broad policies;
- (2) by program, i.e. purposes;
- (3) by type, i.e. operating, capital, and grants and contributions; and
- (4) by standard object, i.e. productive resources acquired or transfer payments made.

These analyses do not take into account the extraordinary item reflected in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume.

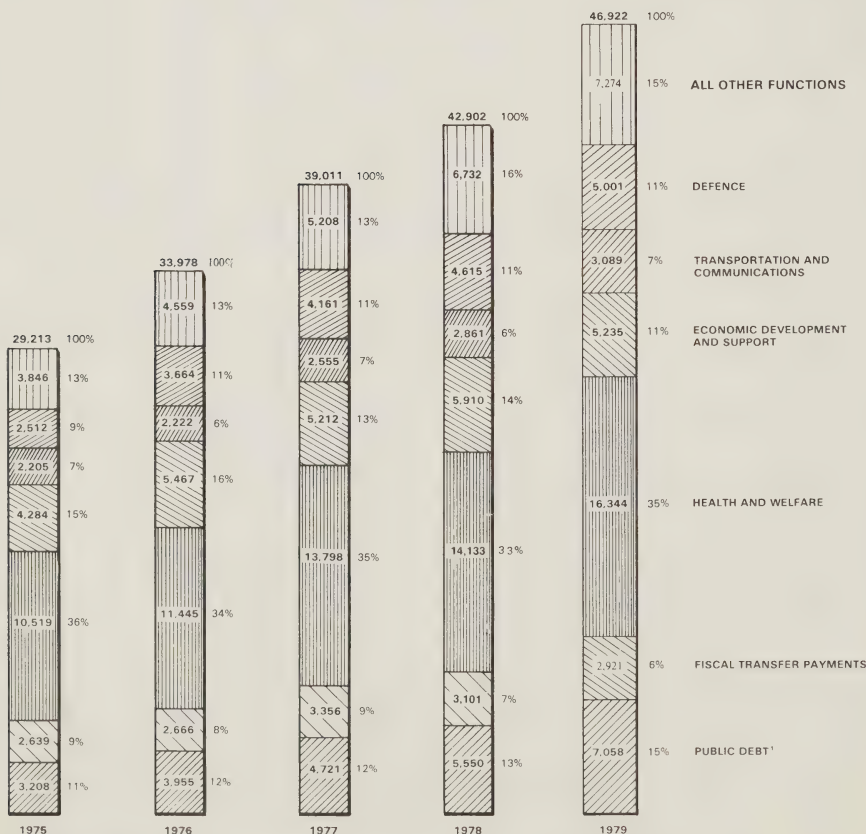

Expenditure by Function

The functional presentation of expenditures reflects the broad policies pursued by the Government. These functions, which are reflected in Table 5.3, are primarily services provided to the people of Canada or to other governmental jurisdictions within Canada.

The largest category of expenditure under the functional classification is health and welfare, which accounted for $16,344 million, or 35% of total expenditure.

Expenditure by Type

Expenditure may be classified under three major types: operating, capital, and grants and contributions. Operating expenditure consists of expenditures incurred in conducting the administrative and operating activities of the program; capital expenditures are for the construction of fixed assets and the acquisition of equipment; grants and contributions represent payments other than for goods and services made for the purpose of furthering program objectives.

A comparative summary of expenditure by type is presented in Table 5.5.

Expenditure by Standard Object

The object presentation of expenditure is related to the goods and services acquired and transfer payments made by the Government.

A comparative summary of expenditure by standard object is presented in Table 5.6. Additional details are given in Volume II.

Grants, contributions and other transfer payments were the largest category and accounted for $24,936 million or 53% of total budgetary expenditure. Payments included fiscal transfer payments to provinces, $2,889 million; payments under the Public Utilities Income Tax Act, $82 million; payments under the Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act, $2,226 million; family allowance payments, $2,093 million; guaranteed income payments, $1,234 million; spouse's allowance payments, $126 million; old age security payments, $4,131 million; Canada Assistance Plan payments, $1,465 million; and post-secondary education payments, $1,369 million.

Salaries and wages accounted for $6,837 million or 15% of total expenditure. The increase of $580 million was due mainly to higher salary rates.

Public debt charges totalled $7,058 million or 15% of the total. The increase of $1,508 million was due to an increase in unmatured debt and to higher interest rates.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENTS

Interest on the Public Debt

Interest on the public debt consists of interest on unmatured debt, deposit and trust accounts, and annuity, insurance and pension accounts.

The increase of $1,262 million in interest on unmatured debt reflects an increase on unmatured debt which rose from $51,567 million at March 31, 1978 to $66,591 million at March 31, 1979 and an increase in interest rates. The increase in interest on other liabilities was due mainly to increases of $198 million in respect of the superannuation accounts.

A comparative summary of interest on the public debt is presented in Table 5.7.

Details of interest on the public debt can be found in Section 12 of this volume.

Expenditure under Statutory Authority

The spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. The spending authority provided by statutory appropriations does not lapse at the end of the year in which it was granted. Expenditure under such authority accounts for more than half of the total budgetary expenditure each year.

For convenience of presentation, statutory appropriations are stated as being equal to the amount of expenditure.

In 1978-79, expenditure under statutory authority amounted to $27,589 million, accounting for 59% of the total budgetary expenditure of $46,922 million.

Table 5.8 presents a comparative summary of these statutory expenditures.

LOANS, INVESTMENTS AND ADVANCES

Loans, investments and advances is a category of assets representing financial claims or equity capital held by the Government of Canada under parliamentary authority granted in annual appropriation acts and other legislation. These appropriations may permit repayments to be used for further loans and advances. Many appropriations are non-lapsing, that is, the unexpended balances may be carried forward from year to year. Details of the use of these non-budgetary appropriations for loans, investments and advances can be found in the departmental sections of Volume II.

An allowance has been created for the valuation of certain loans identified as requiring parliamentary authority for write-off. This allowance, which has been authorized by the Minister of Finance under Section 54(2)(b) of the Financial Administration Act, provides in full for the following accounts.

Revenue received during the year, on loans, investments and advances, is credited, when received, to return on investments. Details of return on investments, for loans, investments and advances, are disclosed in Section 12 of this volume. In accordance with stated accounting policies and practices, accrued interest and interest due but not received are not recorded as revenue. Table 6.12 gives details of recorded uncollected interest.

Gross transactions and year-end balances of loans, investments and advances are presented as follows:

- Crown corporations and agencies;
- provincial and territorial governments;
- national governments including developing countries;
- Veterans' Land Act Fund advances;
- Government controlled corporations;
- private sector enterprises;
- inactive loans; and
- miscellaneous.

Transactions and balances are further summarized in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume.

The tables in this section present the continuity for each account by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits and payments and other charges, i.e. inflow and outflow of transactions. In addition, the term "accounts without current transactions" has been included in some tables in order to provide a link with figures published in the previous year's edition of the Public Accounts; it shows net transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

Federal-provincial employment loans program

Loans have been made to provinces, provincial agencies and municipalities for the purpose of assisting in the creation of employment. The loan authority provides for the forgiveness of that portion of the principal amount equal to 75% of normal direct on-site payroll costs incurred and paid before June 30, 1972.

Federal-provincial fiscal arrangements

These amounts represent overpayments during 1978-79, in respect of provincial equalization entitlements under the Federal Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act and the Federal Provincial Fiscal Arrangements and Established Programs Financing Act. These overpayments will be recovered in subsequent years.

Special development loans program

Loans have been made to provinces, provincial agencies and municipalities for the purpose of assisting in the creation of employment.

Winter capital projects fund

Loans have been made to provinces, provincial agencies and municipalities for the purpose of assisting in the creation of employment. There is provision for the forgiveness of that portion of the principal amount equal to 50% of normal direct on-site payroll costs for the duration of the loan program plus 50% for the periods December-May 1973, 1974 and 1975. Vote L13a, Appropriation Act No 1, 1974, authorized in fiscal years subsequent to March 31, 1976 the consolidation of any loan made pursuant to that authority which may include the amount of interest accrued thereon to the date of consolidation.

During the year, repayments included loan forgiveness as follows: Newfoundland, $240,195; and Prince Edward Island, $122,709.

Atlantic Development Board carry-over projects

Loans have been made to finance certain water projects that were carried over from the Atlantic Development Board. Loans are made pursuant to terms and conditions of agreements, entered into between Canada and the provinces in the Atlantic region, with the approval of the Governor in Council. The department's policy on water projects and such agreements included a forgiveness provision which is found in some agreements to reflect recognition of a shortfall in the use of available capacity in the early years of such projects.

During the year, repayments included forgiveness of principal as follows: Prince Edward Island $476; Nova Scotia $5,628; and New Brunswick, $6,962.

Atlantic Provinces Power Development Act

areas and for highway development pursuant to terms and conditions of agreements entered into between Canada and the provinces, with the approval of the Governor in Council.

Advances

The amounts shown as advances represent outlays made on incomplete projects. When a project is completed, the advances are transferred to the loan account.

Upon completion of projects, accrued interest is calculated and added to the amount of advances being transferred to loans for repayment. This is in accordance with the terms and conditions of the agreements entered into between Canada and the provinces with the approval of the Governor in Council.

During the year, additional advances were authorized by Vote L15, Appropriation Act No 2, 1978-79.

Advances transferred to loans during the year were as follows: Nova Scotia, $4,351,863; New Brunswick, $27,997,469; and Quebec, $14,504,801.

Loans

Accrued interest on incomplete projects to the end of the year amounted to $509,824, for Nova Scotia; and $2,455,094, for New Brunswick. These amounts will be capitalized and added to the amount of the loan for repayment upon completion of these projects.

During the year, additional advances were authorized by Vote L25, Appropriation Act No 2, 1978-79 and Treasury Board Vote 5—Contingencies. The dissolution of Parliament on March 26, 1979, before the Supplementary Estimates (B) for 1978-79 had been passed, necessitated recourse to transfers from Treasury Board Vote 5—Contingencies.

⁽²⁾ Accrued and capitalized interest are not included in either return on investments or loans, investments and advances, in accordance with the Government's stated accounting policies and practices.

⁽³⁾ Specific allowances have been created for the valuation of certain loans to Crown corporations. Details of these allowances can be found in the introduction to this section.

Recorded Uncollected Interest

In accordance with the Government's stated accounting policies and practices, interest due but not received is not recorded as revenue. In certain cases, this uncollected interest is recorded by being added to the applicable loan and advance account and credited to a recorded uncollected interest account. Since the Government's practice is to record revenue only when received, the balance of the recorded uncollected interest account is deducted from the loan and advance account to present it on a net basis.

Table 6.12 reports transactions for the year in respect of the recorded uncollected interest.

Government of Canada Equity in Crown Corporations and Agencies

Total Government equity in Crown corporations is represented in the following table by loans, advances and shareholder's equity as recorded in the accounts of Canada and/or the audited financial statements of Crown corporations, at their respective year-ends, after adjustments for transactions with the corporations from their year-end dates to March 31. These financial statements are included in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

Unrecorded Government equity is divided into three headings. The first one pertains to loans and advances, and consists of capitalized interest shown in the corporate financial statements under loans payable to Canada and accrued interest usually shown as accounts payable and accruals under current liabilities. The second heading, shareholder's equity, includes that portion of the equity of the corporation which is not recorded in the accounts of Canada, such as retained earnings, accumulated deficits and contributed surpluses. An example of a contributed surplus would be the cost of fixed assets acquired by the corporation, financed through parliamentary appropriations and charged to budgetary expenditures in the accounts of Canada. Under this second heading are also included certain amounts, such as receivables from, and payables to the Government, deferred federal taxes, premiums on shares, and other Crown corporation balance sheet accounts which are considered as equity adjustments for consolidation purposes. The third heading, other unrecorded equity, consists primarily of insurance funds as described in footnotes ⁽¹⁾ and ⁽⁸⁾. These funds are free from outside party claims and are not included in the equity accounts of the two corporations involved. Other amounts included under this heading include liabilities to Canada for capitalized leases and amounts received through parliamentary appropriations.

⁽²⁾ Bank of Canada—Recorded shareholder's equity includes $920,000 representing a premium paid in respect of the acquisition in 1938 of shares held by the public. Consequently, unrecorded shareholder's equity has been reduced by $920,000.

- (3) Canadian National Railways—Recorded shareholder's equity includes a premium of $19,452,732 representing the excess of previous year's depreciation not charged to CNR's retained earnings over the Government's investments in Canadian Government Railways and Canadian National Railway Company. These investments were charged to budgetary expenditure by the Government of Canada and credited to shareholder's equity by CNR. Consequently, after the capital revision of Canadian National Railways, the recorded capital stock of the corporation is $19,452,732 less than the recorded investment of the Government. Accordingly, unrecorded shareholder's equity is being reduced by this deficiency.
- (4) Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships, Limited—Total Government equity includes a receivable of $470,400 due since 1963 from Cuban interests.
- (5) Eldorado Nuclear Limited—Recorded capital stock includes a premium of $1,660,797 representing the capital deficit (after adjustments) shown in the balance sheet of Eldorado Mining and Refining as at December 31, 1944 but not reflected in subsequent balance sheets of Eldorado Mining and Refining (1944) Limited. Consequently, unrecorded shareholder's equity has been reduced by $1,660,797. Total Government equity includes that of Eldorado Aviation Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Eldorado Nuclear Limited.
- (6) St Lawrence Seaway Authority—Total Government equity includes capital stock of Great Lakes Pilotage Authority Ltd and The Jacques-Cartier and Champlain Bridges Incorporated at a cost of $1,500 and $100 respectively. Great Lakes Pilotage Authority Ltd and The Jacques-Cartier and Champlain Bridges Incorporated are wholly owned subsidiaries.
- (7) Uranium Canada Limited—Excludes stockpiling of uranium concentrates shown in Table 8.5 for $76,456,890.
- (8) Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation—Other unrecorded equity consists of premiums credited to the Deposit Insurance Fund plus adjusted accumulated net earnings. The deposits with member institutions insured by the Corporation totalled $71,706 million as at April 30, 1978.
- (9) Specific allowances have been created in the accounts of Canada for the valuation of certain loans to Crown corporations. This does not affect total Government equity. Details of these allowances can be found in this section.

ANNUITY, INSURANCE AND PENSION ACCOUNTS

Annuity, insurance and pension accounts represent the recorded value of the financial obligations of the Government of Canada as an insurer and administrator of a number of pension funds and annuities.

This section gives details of annuity, insurance and pension accounts on which summary information was given in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume.

An allowance amounting to $646 million has been created for Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits.

Under the Unemployment Insurance Act, the Unemployment Insurance Account is reimbursed each fiscal year for the Government's cost of paying unemployment insurance benefits for the immediately preceding calendar year.

The effect of this is to delay the recognition of budgetary expenditure by the Government in the period to which it pertains. In order to bridge the gap, non-interest-bearing advances are made to the Unemployment Insurance Account and recorded as assets of the Government.

Recommendation 11 of the Report on the Study of the accounts of Canada proposes that the Unemployment Insurance Account be reimbursed by the Government on a monthly basis for all expenditures to be borne by the Government and that the reimbursements be recorded as budgetary expenditure of the period to which they pertain, thus deleting non-interest-bearing advances from the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

In accordance with Recommendation 11 and until the Unemployment Insurance Act is modified, recognition has been made of the Government's cost of paying benefits on a fiscal year basis by the creation of this allowance.

The tables in this section present the continuity for each account by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits and payments and other charges, i.e. inflow and outflow of transactions. In addition, the term "accounts without current transactions" has been included in the tables in order to provide a link with figures published in the previous year's edition of the Public Accounts; it shows net transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

The financial statements of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, the Government Annuities Account and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund, together with the Auditor General's opinions thereon, are presented at the end of this section.

Canada Pension Plan Account

The Canada Pension Plan was established by the Canada Pension Plan Act to provide for the payment of retirement pensions to members of the labour force, and to pay benefits to disabled contributors and death benefits to contributors' spouses and children.

The Government's financial obligation, as the administrator of the Canada Pension Plan, is limited to the balance of the account.

Table 7.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in the Canada Pension Plan Account including provincial government securities in the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund.

The Canada Pension Plan is applicable throughout Canada, except in the Province of Quebec where a similar plan has been established. However, certain federal employees, such as members of the armed forces, who are resident in the Province of Quebec, contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. The securities of the Province that are purchased by the Plan relate to the contributions of these employees.

The Canada Pension Plan Account is not maintained on an actuarial basis because the Canada Pension Plan Act limits payments from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the amount of the outstanding balance in the Account.

As stated in Note 2 to the financial statements of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, on which the Auditor General has expressed an opinion, the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance estimated that if principles of "actuarial funding" were applied to the Canada Pension Plan, an additional $81.3 billion would have had to be invested in the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund at December 31, 1977 to provide sufficient funds to pay the future benefits of all contributors and former contributors to the Plan at that time. The Chief Actuary also estimated, based on the same assumptions made in the December 31, 1977 report, except for a short deferral in the decline of the rates of interest on new investments, that if the current contribution rate remains unchanged, the additional amount of $81.3 billion required to pay all future benefits would increase by approximately $7 billion per year in 1978 and 1979.

The financial statements of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, together with the Auditor General's opinion thereon, are found at the end of this section.

Superannuation Accounts

The superannuation accounts include the Public Service Superannuation Account, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account. The purpose of these accounts is to provide pensions to retired employees or their dependants. These pensions are indexed to the cost of living under the authority of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account. Increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation are reported later in this section under the "Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account".

Receipts and other credits consist of contributions from personnel, matching contributions from the Government and participating Crown corporations, other Government contributions related to actuarial liability adjustments to cover increased liability arising from general pay increases and other deficiencies determined by periodic actuarial examinations, and interest. Payments and other charges consist of payments of pensions, annuities, commuted values, death benefits, and refund of contributions.

Actuarial valuations are made quinquennially, the next of which will be made effective December 31, 1977 for the Public Service Superannuation Account, December 31, 1975 for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account and December 31, 1979 for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account. In accordance with the legislation governing the three superannuation plans, any actuarial deficiency revealed will be credited to the account and charged to unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies and amortized to expenditure in five equal annual instalments commencing in the year in which the report is laid before Parliament. The cost of added liabilities under the superannuation acts, as a result of the authorization of salary increases, is to be credited to the superannuation accounts and charged to unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies and amortized to expenditure over a period of five years commencing in the year in which the increases are authorized.

The superannuation regulations provide for the calculation of interest at a revised rate (related to the Canada Pension Plan interest rate) commencing with the quarter ended September 30, 1969. The acts provide that the amount by which the interest calculated at the revised rate (currently about 8% per annum) exceeds the amount of interest calculated at the rate used in the latest actuarial report (currently 4% per annum), may be used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiencies charged to budgetary expenditure.

During the year, an amount of $2,273 million has been included in budgetary expenditure in respect of these superannuation accounts. This is composed of Government contributions, $486 million; interest on the balance of the accounts, $767 million; amortization of actuarial deficiencies, $816 million; and increased benefits paid due to indexation, $204 million. The calculation of interest at revised rates has resulted in the charge to budgetary expenditure for interest being increased to $1,398 million and amortization of actuarial deficiencies decreased to $185 million.

Table 7.4 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the superannuation accounts including the unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies.

Unemployment Insurance Account

The Unemployment Insurance Act provides for a compulsory contributory unemployment insurance program applying to everyone employed, subject to minor exceptions.

The Act authorized the establishment, in the accounts of Canada, of an account to be known as the Unemployment Insurance Account.

The Act also provides that all amounts received under the Act as or on account of premiums, fines, penalties, interest and repayment of overpayments of benefits, and all amounts collected by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission for services rendered to other government departments or agencies or the public, shall be paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund and shall be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Account; that any other amounts provided out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund for any purpose related to unemployment insurance that is authorized by an appropriation by Parliament and the administration of which falls to the Commission, shall be credited to the Unemployment Insurance Account; that the Minister of Finance may authorize, in accordance with such terms and conditions and at such rates as he may prescribe, the payment of interest on the balance in the Unemployment Insurance Account, and such interest shall be credited to the Account; and that there shall be charged to the Account all amounts paid as or on account of benefits under this Act and the costs of administration of the Act.

Maximum weekly employee premiums were $3.60 from April 1, 1978 to December 31, 1978 and $3.58 from January 1, 1979 to March 31, 1979. For the same periods, maximum weekly benefits were $160 from April 1, 1978 to December 31, 1978 and $159 from January 1, 1979 to March 31, 1979.

To finance the 1978-79 operations in the Account, net temporary advances of $31 million were made by the Government.

Government Annuities Account

This Account was established by the Government Annuities Act and modified by the Government Annuities Improvement Act. The Government Annuities Improvement Act discontinued future sales of annuities. The Account is valued on an actuarial basis each year with any deficit or surplus charged or credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The purpose of the Act is to assist Canadians to provide for their later years by the purchase of Government annuities. The Government Annuities Improvement Act increased the rate of return and flexibility of Government annuity contracts and discontinued future sales of annuities.

Receipts and other credits consist of premiums received, funds reclaimed from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for previously unlocated annuitants, earned interest and items transferred from previous years' revenue to cover the actuarial deficit. Payments and other charges represent matured annuities, the commuted value of death benefits, premium refunds and premium withdrawal payments and any actuarial surplus and unclaimed items transferred to non-tax revenue. The financial statements of the Government Annuities Account, together with the Auditor General's opinion thereon, are found at the end of this section.

Other Annuity, Insurance and Pension Accounts

There are a number of other insurance and pension accounts operated by the Government. Transactions on behalf of the Public Service death benefit account, the regular forces death benefit account and the veterans' insurance fund account for the greater part of the transactions of these accounts.

Table 7.9 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for all other annuity, insurance and pension accounts.

Supplementary retirement benefits account

This account was established by the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act to provide for the payment of increased pension benefits resulting from indexation. No actuarial valuations are required to be made of the account.

The Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance has estimated that, if principles of actuarial funding were to be applied to the extent of determining the future cost of the benefits being paid to annuitants of the Public Service, Canadian Forces and Royal Canadian Mounted Police superannuation accounts as at March 31, 1979, an additional $2.6 billion would have to be credited to the account to reflect the present value of those benefits as at that date. This amount is based on an assumed interest rate of 6.5%.

Increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation amounted to $211 million ($170 million in 1977-78) of which $204 million ($165 million in 1977-78) represents benefits to superannuates in excess of their share of contributions to the account charged to budgetary expenditure. The payments charged to budgetary expenditure amounted to $132 million ($108 million in 1977-78) for the Public Service Superannuation Account, $65 million ($51 million in 1977-78) for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account and $7 million ($6 million in 1977-78) for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account. Only $7 million ($5 million in 1977-78) was charged to the Supplementary retirement benefits account.

OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the statements of transactions of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund for the year ended March 31, 1979. for the year then ended, in accordance with the accounting policies disclosed in Note 1, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

As explained in Note 2, these statements of transactions are not intended to nor do they purport to show the adequacy of the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Account to meet, on an actuarial basis, the future obligations of the Canada Pension Plan.

1. Significant accounting policies

In accordance with the provisions of the Canada Pension Plan, these statements show the transactions through the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, and changes in the balances of these accounts for the year ended March 31, 1979.

The plan operates on a current basis with benefits being paid out of current contributions.

Contributions, interest and benefit payments of the Canada Pension Plan Account are recorded on a cash basis. Expenses are recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April that relate to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31.

The cost of furniture and equipment is charged to expense at the time of acquisition.

All securities held are carried at cost, are non-negotiable and have a term of 20 years. The securities bear interest at the average market yield of 20-year Canada bonds applicable at the time of the issue of the security.

2. Funding of the Plan

When the Canada Pension Plan was introduced in 1966, the combined employer-employee contribution rate was set at 3.6% of the Contributory Earnings with the understanding that this would be more than sufficient to meet the costs of benefits and administration for a certain period of time, but not indefinitely. In the initial years, a fund would be built up from which resources would be made available to provinces as loans. However, since the inception of the Plan, it has been recognized that the 3.6% contribution rate would need to be raised at some point in the future.

Under the Canada Pension Plan legislation, the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance is required to prepare an actuarial report on the operation of the Act and the state of the Canada Pension Plan account at least once every five years. The latest quinquennial report was tabled in the House of Commons on December 18, 1978. That report indicated that if no changes were made to the combined employer-employee contribution rate of 3.6%, the annual cost of benefits and expenses would exceed the amount of annual contributions by the year 1985.

After 1985, a gradually increasing proportion of the interest on investments would be needed to finance pension benefits and administrative costs, and no further funds, apart from the reinvestment of a portion of interest owed to the Fund, would be available to the provinces as loans. The Fund would continue to grow until 1992 when all of the interest would be needed to meet payments. If the increase in the contribution rate were delayed beyond 1992 it would become necessary to start recalling loans to the provinces, and by the year 2003, the fund would be exhausted.

The report also projected the future contribution rates which would be required to raise enough money in each year to pay for benefits and administrative expenses. On the basis of the actuarial assumptions made in the report, those rates would have to rise gradually from the current combined contribution rate of 3.6% to 3.64% in 1985, to 4.57% by 1990, to 5.53% by 2000, and to 8.62% by 2025.

The Chief Actuary estimated that if principles of "actuarial funding" were applied to the Canada Pension Plan, an additional $81.3 billion would have to be invested in the Fund at December 31, 1977 to provide sufficient funds to pay the future benefits of all contributors and former contributors to the Plan at that time. The Chief Actuary also estimated, based on the same assumption made in the December 31, 1977 report, except for a short deferral in the decline of the rates of interest on new investments, that if the current contribution rate remains unchanged, the additional amount of $81.3 billion required to pay all future benefits would increase by approximately $7 billion per year in 1978 and 1979.

While the Canada Pension Plan is administered by the Government of Canada, the Government does not have exclusive authority to effect changes to the Plan. Under existing legislation, any proposed enactment to alter the general level of benefits or the rate of contributions requires at least a two year and one day period of exposure to Parliament before coming into force, and agreement by at least two-thirds of the ten provinces having an aggregate of not less than two-thirds of the population. In February 1977, the Ministers of Finance and the Provincial Treasurers asked their officials to assess Canada Pension Plan financing issues. The resultant report will, among other things, examine and analyze the economic, social and financial effects of the Canada Pension Plan, and recommend alternative policies to the Finance Ministers and Provincial Treasurers.

Canada Pension Plan Account and Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund—Concluded

3. Expenses

The total expenses of the Canada Pension Plan Account represent the amounts charged for services provided by six federal government departments: National Revenue—Taxation (collection of contributions); National Health and Welfare (administration); Supply and Services (accounting and computer services); Public Works (accommodation); Employment and Immigration (assignment of social insurance numbers and maintenance of central index) and Insurance (actuarial services).

4. Interest on investments

Interest received by the Canada Pension Plan Account during the year ended March 31, 1979 is as follows:

	1979	1978
From securities of the provinces:
Newfoundland	$ 20,803,340	$ 17,663,140
Prince Edward Island	4,231,300	3,583,057

Weighted average rate of interest on securities issued during the year	9.55%	9.08%

5. Purchase of securities of the provinces and Canada

The balance to the credit of the Canada Pension Plan Account less the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund is defined by the legislation as the operating balance. When the operating balance exceeds the estimated amount required to meet all payments in the following three-month period, the excess is available for purchase of securities of the provinces and Canada.

Provinces are advised monthly of the amount of excess monies in the Canada Pension Plan Account that is available for the purchase of provincial securities. The amount available to each province is the proportion that contributions made to the Plan by each province bears to total contributions. Contributions received from the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and from certain other employees outside Canada are invested in bonds of the Government of Canada.

The Canada Pension Plan is applicable throughout Canada, except in the Province of Quebec where a similar plan has been established. However, certain federal employees, such as members of the armed forces, who are resident in the Province of Quebec contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. The securities of the Province that are purchased by the Plan relate to the contributions of these employees.

Unemployment Insurance Account

(Established under the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971)

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA

THE HONOURABLE RONALD GEORGE ATKEY, P.C., M.P.
MINISTER OF EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the Unemployment Insurance Account as at December 31, 1978 and the statement of expenditure and revenue for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Account as at December 31, 1978 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 which, except for the changes in recording penalties and determining administration expenditures as referred to in Notes 2(b) and 2(d) to the financial statements, have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

As explained in Note 6 to the financial statements, it has been established that the Commission has paid benefits to claimants who were not entitled to such benefits and has underpaid benefits to other claimants. In a significant number of instances, it has not adhered to all its administrative procedures in establishing the continuing eligibility of claimants. The Commission is continuing to seek ways to improve financial controls and information received as well as to verify more effectively the initial and continuing eligibility of claimants.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1978

1. Objective and operations of the Account

Since August 1977, the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971 is administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission. The Commission is listed as a departmental corporation under the Financial Administration Act.

The objective of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971 is to provide short-term financial relief and other assistance to workers eligible under this Act. The financial operations relating to this objective are reported through the Unemployment Insurance Account.

The Unemployment Insurance Account is part of the Government of Canada accounting entity. All amounts received under the Unemployment Insurance Act are deposited in the Consolidated Revenue Fund and credited, with the exception of fines, to the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Benefit payments and administration expenses are paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and charged to the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Premiums collected from and benefits paid to fishermen are respectively paid into and charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund pursuant to Section 146(2) of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Revenue—Employers and employees premiums

Under Part IV of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971, the Minister of National Revenue is responsible for collecting employers and employees premiums. These premiums are transferred monthly on an estimated basis to the Unemployment Insurance Account where they are recorded on a cash basis. The estimate is determined by forecasting factors such as employment, coverage, income and new entrants. Adjustment between the actual premium amount computed and the estimated premium amount transferred is determined in the following year and is remitted to/or reimbursed by the Commission subsequent to the year-end.

(b) Revenue—Interest and penalties

Interest on the deposit with the Receiver General for Canada and penalties pursuant to Section 47 of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971 are recorded on an accrual basis. In 1977, penalties were recorded on a cash basis. This change in accounting policy has not been applied retroactively. It had the effect of increasing in 1978, by approximately $4.4 million, the amount of penalties recorded as revenue.

(c) Expenditure—Benefits

Benefit payments are recorded on a cash basis and represent issued warrants less benefit overpayments.

(d) Expenditure—Administration

Pursuant to Part IX of the Unemployment Insurance Regulations, the Unemployment Insurance Account's administration expenditures incurred by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission are charged to the Account according to a formula. In 1977, administration expenses represented actual costs incurred by the former Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Canada Employment and Immigration Commission—Concluded

Unemployment Insurance Account—Concluded

The change in the determination of these expenses was necessary since they can no longer be identified following the integration of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Department of Manpower and Immigration in 1977.

The application of the formula resulted in the 1978 figures being comparable to those of 1977. For this reason, the change in accounting policy has not been applied retroactively.

(e) Unredeemed warrants

This amount represents warrants which have not been redeemed as at December 31, 1978. Warrants unredeemed for more than three years reduce the benefit expenditure in the following year.

3. Benefit overpayments and penalties receivable

	1978	1977
	(in thousands of dollars)
Benefit overpayments and penalties receivable	$46,920	$40,075
Allowance for bad debts	24,354	19,606
	22,566	20,469
Estimated amount pertaining to Canada		5,527
	$22,566	$14,942

During 1978, $2.5 million ($2.3 million in 1977) of uncollectible overpayments were written off under authority of Section 175(2) of the Unemployment Insurance Regulations.

Following legal advice stating that overpayments could not be charged to the Government of Canada, such charges were discontinued in 1978.

4. Benefit payments recoverable from Canada

Pursuant to Section 136 of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971, the Government cost of paying initial benefits is based on the excess of the average national rate of unemployment for the year over a percentage based on the average for the past ninety-six months ended on the 30th day of June in the immediately preceding year. The rate for 1978 was 26% (28% in 1977). The cost of extended benefits is entirely charged to the Government. Maternity, sickness, special severance and work sharing benefits are the sole responsibility of the Unemployment Insurance Account.

5. Advances from Canada

This account represents advances made during the year by the Government of Canada under authority of section 137 of the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971, pending the determination of the actual amount of benefit payments recoverable from the Government as at December 31. These advances are non-interest bearing and are repaid in the following year.

6. Estimated overpayments and underpayments

The Commission is responsible for exercising financial control to ensure the initial and continuing eligibility of approximately 3 million individual claimants to whom benefits were paid in 1978, while providing prompt and efficient service to those who are entitled to receive benefits under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Because of the large number of claimants to be monitored, control procedures are selective rather than universal in application and the requirement for prompt service has influenced the Commission to rely mainly upon control activities which take place after claimants have begun to receive benefits. It is therefore possible under these circumstances that some benefits could be paid to claimants who are not entitled to these benefits or that some benefits could be underpaid to other claimants. Although the Commission has been increasing its efforts to improve adjudication by interviewing selected claimants at the time or very shortly after they file claims, the effectiveness of this program still needs to be improved.

Based upon the results of a statistical sample of claimants to whom benefits were paid in 1978, it has been established that the Commission has paid benefits to claimants who were not entitled to such benefits and underpaid benefits to other claimants. Detection procedures employed for the 1978 sample were expanded over those of the previous year to verify the validity of the underlying information submitted by employers to the Commission, which normally relies on this information in its adjudication of claims. The expanded procedures indicated an increase in estimated overpayments of $108 million and estimated underpayments of $52 million attributable to errors in data received from employers.

The 1978 results, including those of the expanded detection procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, indicated that the total amount of overpayments not previously identified by the Commission is estimated to be $290 million and underpayments estimated to be $67 million. The cost of benefits in the statement of expenditure and revenue represents amounts actually paid to claimants.

In 1977, the statistical sample indicated estimated overpayments of $142 million and estimated underpayments of $10 million. As the Commission's system and control procedures have not changed in the current year, it is likely that the estimated overpayments and underpayments for 1977 would have increased proportionately if the expanded procedures of the current year had been applied.

The results of the sample continue to indicate that in a significant number of instances, the Commission did not adhere to all its administrative procedures in the processing of continuing benefit payments and that some part of the amounts so paid could represent further overpayments and underpayments.

7. Comparative figures

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1979

1. Authorization and purpose

The Government Annuities account was established in 1908 by the Government Annuities Act c. G6, R.S. and modified by the Government Annuities Improvement Act 1974-75-76, c. 83.

The purpose of the Account was to assist individuals and groups of Canadians to provide for their later years by the purchase of Government annuities. The Improvement Act, assented to on December 20, 1975, had for effect to increase the rate of return on Government Annuity contracts, to increase their flexibility and to discontinue future sales thereof.

The Account is administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and operates through the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Accounting system

The accounts of the Government Annuities Account are maintained on an accrual basis.

(b) Calculation of unpaid annuities

Unpaid annuities consist of accumulated premiums and accrued interest for unmatured annuities and the present value of matured annuities determined on an actuarial basis.

In accordance with section 15 of the Government Annuities Improvement Act, the liability outstanding at the end of each fiscal year in respect to annuity contracts is calculated on the basis of such rate or rates of interest and mortality tables, and in such manner, as is prescribed by regulation. If at the end of any fiscal year the liability calculated exceeds or is less than the balance of the Government Annuities Account, the actuarial deficit or surplus resulting is charged or credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(c) Revenue—Interest

Interest represents accrued interest calculated yearly on the balance of unpaid annuities on the basis of such rate or rates of interest and mortality tables, and in such manner, as is prescribed by regulation. This interest is credited as revenue with a corresponding increase in the liability for unpaid annuities.

(d) Administrative expenditures

Included in the reported expenditures, are amounts for services provided without charge by other government departments. Acquisitions of furniture and equipment are expensed in the year of acquisition.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT MARCH 31, 1979

1. Statutory authority

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund was established in the Consolidated Revenue Fund by section 55 of Part IV of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Continuation Act, R.S., c. R-10. Part IV of the Act provides for members of the Force, other than commissioned officers, appointed before March 1, 1949, to purchase certain survivorship benefits for their dependants by payment of specified contributions. The Fund is to be credited with these contributions together with interest computed quarterly on the balance to the credit of the Fund at the end of the preceding quarter, and charged with contributions withdrawn and pension benefits paid.

Section 56 of the Act directs the Minister of Finance to have an actuarial examination of the Fund made at least once every 5 years. If the actuarial valuation discloses a surplus, the Governor in Council may, by order, increase the benefit payments. If there is an actuarial deficiency, the Governor in Council may direct that there be credited to the Fund out of any unappropriated moneys in the Consolidated Revenue Fund such amount as may be required to re-establish solvency of the Fund.

2. Accounting policy

Cash basis

All transactions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund are accounted for on a cash basis.

3. Supplementary information

The most recent quinquennial actuarial examination was made as at March 31, 1976. The valuation disclosed an actuarial surplus of $1.4 million of which $770,000 was allocated to the payment of increased pension benefits, retroactive to January 1, 1977.

OTHER ASSETS AND OTHER LIABILITIES

This section presents gross transactions and year-end balances for those accounts reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities under "Other Assets" and "Other Liabilities". The establishment and operation of these accounts is authorized by Parliament in annual appropriation acts and other legislation.

Some tables in this section present the continuity for each account by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts, other credits, payments, and other charges, i.e. inflow and outflow of transactions. In addition, the term "accounts without current transactions" has been included in the tables in order to provide a link with figures published in the previous year's edition of the Public Accounts; it shows net transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

An allowance has been created for the valuation of certain accounts which do not meet the definition of assets and liabilities stated in the accounting policies and practices of the Government (Section 2 of this volume). This allowance, which has been authorized by the Minister of Finance under Section 54(2)(b) of the Financial Administration Act, provides in full for the following accounts:

This account records moneys received by public officers prior to the closing of the accounts as at March 31st, but not deposited to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada, in the Bank of Canada, until after that date.

Moneys received after March 31 but applicable to the current year

Collections received after March 31, which are applicable to the year ending on that date, are recorded in this account.

This account intends to accommodate refunds of old year expenditure received prior to the closing of the accounts, and receipts to be credited to asset, liability and (in exceptional cases) revenue accounts where the omission of the credits in the old year would tend to make the accounting incomplete or inconsistent.

This account records interest-free advances by the Government of Canada to provide short-term financing until the Unemployment Insurance Account is reimbursed for costs to be borne by the Government.

Working Capital Advances to Revolving Funds, Departments and Agencies

Working capital advances to revolving funds are authorizations by Parliament to draw from the Consolidated Revenue Fund moneys for prescribed purposes, up to given maxima at any time, which, together with attendant receipts, may be expended for those purposes on a continuing basis. The amount stated at year-end constitutes the advances outstanding. Operations of revolving funds are authorized, for the current and subsequent years, in accordance with terms and conditions prescribed by Treasury Board. Table 8.4 presents summary of the balances and transactions for these accounts.

Surpluses or deficits of revolving funds are included in budgetary revenue or expenditure in accordance with Treasury Board policy unless special permission is granted to carry over surpluses and accumulated deficits.

As indicated in the introduction to this section, an allowance has been created to provide in full for these accounts.

Financial statements of some of the accounts under this category of assets, can be found in the departmental section of Volume II.

Deposit and Trust Accounts

The accounts in this category represent the Government's liability for monies or securities deposited for purposes which fall into three broad classes—Those for which the Government acts as a trustee by administering the funds for the purpose for which they were received or created, those deposited as a security for specific performance of contracts, and those for unclaimed amounts of various types. To the extent that the funds are represented by securities, these are deducted from the specific deposit and trust account to group together accounts of similar nature.

Table 8.10 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in deposit and trust accounts.

FOREIGN ASSETS AND FOREIGN LIABILITIES

Foreign assets and foreign liabilities represent financial claims and obligations of the Government of Canada which are identified with Canada's foreign exchange operations and investments in international financial institutions. They are denominated in either Canadian or foreign currencies. Those denominated in foreign currencies are reported in the Canadian dollar equivalent at March 31. Gains resulting from the translation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies to Canadian dollar equivalents as at March 31 are credited to premium, discount and exchange, and losses are charged to budgetary expenditure.

This category of assets and liabilities excludes certain amounts which are related to domestic financial operations. These are foreign bank balances which are included with other cash balances at their Canadian dollar equivalents and amounts denominated in foreign currencies which are held in deposit and trust accounts. Also excluded are loans to foreign governments which are denominated in Canadian dollars.

The tables in this section present the continuity for each account by showing the opening and closing balances as well as receipts and other credits and payments and other charges, i.e. inflow and outflow of transactions.

FOREIGN ASSETS

Foreign assets include amounts made available by the Government of Canada by way of subscriptions, loans and advances to international organizations whose activities are carried on outside of Canada, together with amounts advanced to the Exchange Fund Account and special drawing rights allocated to Canada by the International Monetary Fund.

Gross transactions and year-end balances for foreign assets are summarized in Table 9.1.

Subscriptions, Loans and Advances—
International Monetary Fund

This account represents the value of Canada's subscription as a member of the International Monetary Fund. It has been contributed by payments in gold, a cash working balance in Canadian currency of 1/4 of 1% of the subscription, with the balance being covered by Canadian dollar non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand. These notes are carried as a liability of the Government of Canada.

Transactions with the International Monetary Fund included a capital subscription for 257 million SDRs at a cost of $356 million and revaluation adjustments totaling $125 million due to the depreciation of the Canadian dollar to March 31, 1979. Canada's capital subscription is set in SDR units of account so that when the Canadian dollar depreciates, additional Canadian dollars must be supplied to the Fund to maintain the value of Canadian dollar holdings in terms of SDRs and when the Canadian dollar appreciates the converse applies. Obligations totaling $112 million were incurred for this reason in 1978-79 and Canada's subscription was revalued by a further $28 million to recognize the increase in the Canadian dollar value of that portion of the subscription which is not offset by the International Monetary Fund holdings of Canadian dollars.

If the Fund does not require a currency, a portion of a member's quota may be paid in the form of non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand. These notes are recorded in the Government's liabilities.

Subscriptions, Loans and Advances—Other International Organizations

This category records Canada's subscription to the capital of the Asian Development Bank, the Caribbean Development Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the International Development Association, the International Finance Corporation, the International Tin Council and working capital advances and loans to international organizations.

Table 9.3 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for this account.

Special Drawing Rights

This account represents Canada's share of the rights to purchase currencies of other countries issued by the International Monetary Fund to countries participating in the Special Drawing Account.

There was an allocation of Special Drawing Rights by the International Monetary Fund to Canada during the year in the amount of $218 million and the recorded amount of $721 million of SDRs was revalued by $25 million resulting in a March 31, 1979 balance of $746 million to reflect current exchange rates. These SDRs were in turn advanced to the Exchange Fund Account.

Unmatured Debt Payable in Foreign Currencies

This account records marketable bonds and notes and loans payable in foreign currencies. The Government's holdings of marketable bonds payable in foreign currencies have been deducted from the total unmatured debt in foreign currencies to report the amount of the Government of Canada's liabilities to outside parties. For reporting purposes, this account is also included in the account "Unmatured Debt" on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The account is then deducted to arrive at the unmatured debt payable in Canadian currency.

Details of this account are as follows:

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENTS

Recorded Uncollected Interest

In accordance with the Government's stated accounting policies and practices, interest due but not received is not recorded as revenue. In certain cases, this uncollected interest is recorded by being added to the applicable loan and advance account and credited to a recorded uncollected interest account. Since the Government's practice is to record revenue only when received, the balance of the recorded uncollected interest account is deducted from the loan and advance account to present it on a net basis.

Table 9.7 reports transactions for the year in respect of the recorded uncollected interest.

THE HONOURABLE JEAN CHRÉTIEN, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF FINANCE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Exchange Fund Account as at December 31, 1978 and the statement of net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as defined by section 16 of the Currency and Exchange Act for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Account as at December 31, 1978 and the net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as defined by section 16 of the Currency and Exchange Act for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

I further report that, in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept, the financial statements are in agreement therewith and the transactions that have come under my notice have been in accordance with statutory authority.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 1978

1. Objective of the Exchange Fund Account

The Exchange Fund Account was established under the provisions of the Currency and Exchange Act, R.S., c. C-39. The Account is in the name of the Minister of Finance, is administered by the Bank of Canada as fiscal agent and is financed by advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund which are limited by Order in Council dated June 6, 1972 to $6 billion.

The Account's principal objective is to aid in the control and protection of the external value of the Canadian dollar. Accordingly, the Account acquires only those assets which are deemed appropriate for this purpose in accordance with the Act.

2. Significant accounting policies

(i) Reporting of assets

Assets reported on the balance sheet, except gold, reflect recorded cost, accrued interest and amortized premiums and discounts. Premiums and discounts on securities are amortized over their term to maturity. Gold held by the Account is valued at 35 Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) per fine ounce.

(ii) Translation of foreign currencies

Foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated to Canadian dollar equivalents at year-end closing exchange rates in the Canadian foreign exchange market. Assets and liabilities denominated in Special Drawing Rights are translated to US dollar equivalents at the year-end US dollar value of the SDR as calculated by the International Monetary Fund.

(iii) Valuation gains and losses

Valuation gains and losses represent the increases or decreases in the Canadian dollar value of foreign currency and SDR denominated assets and liabilities. In accordance with the provisions of the Currency and Exchange Act, valuation gains and losses for a year are taken into income in three equal portions over the current and two succeeding years.

(iv) Investment income

Investment income represents interest, amortization of premiums and discounts, and net gains or losses on disposal of investments. Investment income is recorded as accrued and is translated to its Canadian dollar equivalents at the foreign exchange rate prevailing at the date the income is recorded.

(v) Services provided without charge

The Bank of Canada provides the Account, without charge, administrative, custodial and fiscal agency services for carrying out the purposes of the Currency and Exchange Act.

Repurchase agreement account	102,344	69,265
	$102,514	$91,165

The repurchase agreement facility is designed to employ usable overnight cash balances with the Federal Reserve Bank. The interest rate on this account is related to prevailing money market rates in the United States. The US dollar bank account in 1977 largely consisted of Clearing House items which were not employable for investment purposes.

Discounts on these investments have been amortized to the year end. US Government Treasury bills held at December 31, 1978 earned interest at rates varying from 8.5 to 10.4 percent.

The Special Drawing Right was created by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) to supplement existing international reserve assets. SDRs are allocated on the basis of each member's quota (subscription) in the IMF. A total of 358,620 thousand SDRs had been allocated to Canada as of the end of 1978, unchanged from December 31, 1977. Canada's liability in respect of the net cumulative allocation represents the obligations that would be incurred upon the termination of Canada's participation in the Special Drawing Account or on the liquidation by the International Monetary Fund of the Special Drawing Account.

SDR allocations are recorded in the Account as an asset with a corresponding liability in the form of an advance from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Special Drawing Rights may be used in transactions with the IMF or with other countries. At the end of the year, SDRs held in addition to Canada's net cumulative allocation and acquired in the context of transactions with the IMF or with other IMF members earned interest at 4 percent.

Oil Facility notes and General Arrangements to Borrow (GAB) notes are issued by the IMF with an original term to maturity of five years. These notes are redeemable on demand if Canada represents that it has a balance of payments need for repayment; IMF notes are also transferable to other Fund members. Oil Facility notes yield 7 percent while the yield on GAB notes is related to the IMF's lending rates. As of the end of 1978, GAB notes earned interest at rates varying from 4 to 4½ percent.

7. Gold

Included in the Account's gold holdings at December 31, 1978 was a loan receivable of 28 thousand Troy ounces of fine gold. Valuation gains and income accrued from this loan and net sales of gold during the year are recorded in the income statement.

8. Translation of foreign currencies

At December 31, 1978 one US dollar was equivalent to 1.1858 Canadian dollars (1.0940 as at December 31, 1977) and to 0.767582 SDR (0.823244 SDR as at December 31, 1977), and one Deutsche mark was equivalent to 0.6518 Canadian dollar.

9. Uncompleted contracts valuation adjustments

From time to time the Account sells US dollars to the Bank of Canada through short-term swaps and agrees to repurchase these amounts at predetermined exchange rates. These transactions are undertaken to assist in the Bank's management of chartered bank cash reserves. At the end of 1978, total swaps outstanding amounted to US $900 million as compared to US $1,055 million at the end of 1977.

The commitment to repurchase these US dollars is not reflected in the financial statements, nor are other uncompleted transactions entered into before year end but which are for settlement subsequent to year end. However, the difference between the Canadian dollar equivalents at transaction rates and year-end rates is recorded in the Account and reported in the balance sheet as a valuation adjustment on uncompleted contracts with a corresponding amount included in valuation gains on US dollars.

10. Advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund

	(in thousands of dollars)
	1978	1977
Canadian dollars	$	$2,287,000
US dollars (US $4,200 million)	4,980,360
Deutsche marks (DM 1,500 million)	977,700

Less: Canadian dollar deposit with the Receiver General for Canada	(3,278,000)
Total	$3,234,075	$2,763,566

The proceeds of Government borrowings in Deutsche marks and US dollars under Standby Credit Arrangements and foreign bond issues were advanced in those currencies from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the Exchange Fund Account. This treatment parallels that adopted in earlier years for SDR allocations. Also, Canadian dollar denominated advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund were fully repaid during the year and subsequent net receipts of Canadian dollars by the Exchange Fund Account were deposited in the account of the Receiver General for Canada.

Exchange Fund Account—Concluded

11. Valuation gains and losses

Valuation gains on the Account's foreign assets and losses on the liabilities relating to advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund are as follows:

Net valuation gains for the year	$ 120,961	$429,894

12. Accumulated net losses

Prior to 1977, net valuation losses were accumulated in the Exchange Fund Account. As a result of amendments to the Currency and Exchange Act in 1977, the accumulated net valuation losses to December 31, 1976 totalling $125,362 thousand were included in the determination of net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund for the year ended December 31, 1977.

13. Subsequent events

Significant events subsequent to December 31, 1978 are as follows:

—On January 1, 1979 the International Monetary Fund allocated to Canada an additional 141,128 thousand Special Drawing Rights, equivalent to US $183,860 thousand and to Canadian $218,022 thousand. SDRs were subsequently advanced by the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the Exchange Fund Account.

—In January and February 1979, the Government of Canada announced it was negotiating borrowings of 1.5 billion Swiss francs (approximately US $900 million) and 100 billion Japanese yen (approximately US $500 million) in foreign capital markets. It was also announced that the proceeds of these borrowings would be added to the foreign currency holdings of the Exchange Fund Account and converted to US dollars. The corresponding liability in the Account will be in the form of Swiss franc and Japanese yen denominated advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

—Effective March 1, 1979 the limit on advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the Exchange Fund Account was increased by Order in Council from $6 billion to $10 billion.

UNMATURED DEBT

Unmatured debt represents financial obligations resulting from bonds, Treasury bills and other certificates of indebtedness issued by the Government of Canada, which mature or are redeemable in the future.

The Government's holdings of its own securities have been deducted from unmatured debt to report the amount of the Government of Canada's liabilities to outside parties.

In addition, unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies is also deducted from unmatured debt and is included in the category "Foreign Liabilities" (Section 9). Table 9.6 provides details of unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies.

The tables in this section present the continuity for each account by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as issues and retirements, i.e. inflow and outflow of transactions. In addition, the term "accounts without current transactions" has been included in some tables in order to provide a link with figures published in the previous year's edition of the Public Accounts; it shows net transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

Marketable Bonds

Marketable bonds are those bonds that are transferable on the open market. Registered marketable bonds are transferable by endorsement and delivery by one holder to another. Bearer marketable bonds do not need to be endorsed.

Table 10.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the marketable bonds. Since most of the marketable bonds are not subject to call or redemption before maturity, exceptions only are noted in the table.

The year-end balances of marketable bonds payable in foreign currencies, were translated into Canadian dollars using the closing rates of exchange at March 31, 1979.

The cash position of the Government is affected not only by budgetary operations but also by non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt operations, all of which must be taken into account when considering the full scope of the Government's financial operations.

Table 11.1 presents a summary of the balances and related transactions in current and special Receiver General deposits. Transactions represent receipts and disbursements.

The year-end balances in foreign currencies have been translated into Canadian equivalents at year-end closing rates of exchange. The foreign currencies held include United Kingdom pounds sterling, United States dollars, Belgian and French francs and West German marks.

Allowance for Losses on Realization of Assets

The allowance for losses on realization of assets represents a general allowance made to reduce the recorded value of assets to the amounts likely to be realized on liquidation and does not relate to any specific asset or class of asset.

Table 11.4 summarizes the transactions in the account since its creation.

The balance represents lump sum charges to budgetary expenditure during the period from 1941 to 1957, less amounts written off in the same period. Since 1957, there has been no change in the balance.

Fixed Assets

The fixed assets of the Government, which include land, buildings, works and equipment are charged to budgetary expenditure at the time of acquisition or construction in accordance with the accounting policies and practices of the Government of Canada which are described in Note 1 to the financial statements (Section 2 of this volume). Their existence, however, is acknowledged on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities by recording them at a nominal value of $1.

Accumulated Deficit

The accumulated deficit consists of the annual budgetary surpluses and deficits since Confederation together with the write-off of certain amounts charged directly to this account. The accumulated deficit is also equal to the excess of recorded liabilities over net recorded assets.

Table 11.5 summarizes the account for the year.

Contingent Liabilities

In addition to the financial obligations set out in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities, there are contingent liabilities which are reported in the following statement. These include borrowings by Crown corporations, which are agents of the Government. These borrowings are a direct charge against the Consolidated Revenue Fund; however, they are intended to be, and in practice have been, repaid directly by the corporations.

Accordingly, they are treated herein as contingent liabilities. There are also contingent liabilities with respect to guarantees of principal and interest on certain borrowings of Crown corporations which are not agents of the Government, loans made by chartered banks and other approved lending institutions under the National Housing Act, 1954, advances under the Export Development Act, bank loans under the Canada Student Loans Act and the Farm Improvement Loans Act and a number of miscellaneous guarantees.

TAXATION

Remissions of Income tax:

Black, Kenneth 2,088

PC 1978—4/3297, October 26, 1978, authorized the remission of $1,527 in income tax plus relevant interest and $21 of late filing penalties in respect of the 1972 taxation year.

In May, 1975, the 1972 income tax return for the taxpayer was reassessed to disallow a terminal loss claimed and include CCA recapture.

The taxpayer's solicitor had submitted information to substantiate the loss prior to the reassessment but there was no revision of the audit adjustment. Acknowledgement of the receipt of the information was given in June 1975 with a request for additional information. Acceptable information to establish the loss was forwarded in October 1977 but the 1972 return was statute-barred.

Canadian Exploration Expense Remission Order

TAXATION—Continued

PC 1979—1100, March 29, 1979, granted to taxpayers who were not principal business corporations the remission of an amount which is equal to the excess of

- (1) the amount of tax payable under the Act and
- (2) the amount of tax that would be payable for any taxation year if Section 66 1(3)a(1) reads as follows:

"the amount by which his Canadian exploration expense incurred after May 25, 1976 and before 1980 exceeds the aggregate of all amounts claimed by virtue of this paragraph in a previous taxation year, and".

Canadian National Railway Pension Trust Fund

PC 1978—3957, authorized the remission of income tax that would have been levied for the 1979 taxation year under Sections 87 and 88 of the Income Tax Act.

Elsworthy, Richard B, Vancouver, BC..... 2,635

PC 1978—9/1354, April 20, 1978, authorized the remission of $2,635 plus relevant interest in respect of the 1969 Taxation Year.

In 1969, the taxpayer and David B Watt, principal shareholders of Volkswagen Pacific Sales and Services Limited, took out life insurance policies on each other to facilitate the purchase of the other's interest in the business in the event of death.

On the advice of the insurance company, they embarked on a split-dollar insurance scheme which involved borrowing funds to pay the single premium and subsequent "sale" of the cash surrender value of the policies to their company.

Both taxpayers were reassessed. David Watt appealed his reassessment and his appeal was allowed by Consent Judgement. The taxpayer's notice of objection was filed late but he was told that if a Board or Court found that the reassessment of Mr Watt was improper, consideration would probably be given to the reassessment of any associates involved in a similar transaction.

The 1969 return of the taxpayer had become statute—barred by the time of the Consent Judgement.

Since the taxpayer had been given assurance orally that he would receive the same treatment as his colleague a remission was recommended.

Granby Mining Corporation Limited, Vancouver, BC..... 1,177,839

PC 1978—4/3222, October 19, 1978, authorized the remission of income tax and interest of $1,177,839 in respect of the 1969—1971 taxation years.

The taxpayer paid income tax and interest on receipt of dividends paid out of the designated surplus of its subsidiary, Granisle Copper Limited.

In 1969, Granby acquired 69,000 shares of Granisle to become the majority shareholder. As a result, certain non-taxable mining income was included in the designated surplus account of Granby resulting in a special tax on designated surplus becoming payable by Granby upon receipt of dividends.

Exempt mining income earned by Granisle should have been considered as control period earnings and not designated surplus but the fact that Granby acquired the 69,000 shares triggered the tax on designated surplus.

Grégoire, Marie Paul Raoul, Val d'Or, Québec 7,000

PC 1978—2677, August 23, 1978, authorized the remission of $7,000 in fines in respect of the 1962—1969 taxation years.

The taxpayer was fined $13,000 on March 29, 1972. As the taxpayer retired December 31, 1977 and was in poor health and did not have the ability to pay the remaining $7,000 debt, a remission was granted on humanitarian grounds.

J M P M Enterprises Limited, Toronto, Ontario 8,715

PC 1978—16/3022, September 27, 1978, authorized the remission of $7,798 plus interest, if any, in respect of the taxation year ended on June 30, 1971.

The taxpayer was reassessed in 1973 respecting a disposition of shares which they claimed constituted a capital gain in 1970. A notice of objection covering the taxation years ended June 30, 1969, 1970, 1971 and December 31, 1971, was filed in December 1973. In March, 1975, a further reassessment was issued allowing a reserve of $16,413 in respect of the disposition. The reserve was added to the June 30, 1971 income and a deduction of $148,581 was allowed as a reserve resulting in $18,832 being added to the June 30, 1971 taxable income.

In 1976, a Consent to Judgement stated that the disposition gave rise to a non-taxable capital gain. The taxpayer and the Department of Justice forgot that the March, 1975 reassessments taxed a portion ($18,832) in 1971. When the error was discovered 1971 had become statute—barred.

While the error was solely that of the taxpayer, it was nevertheless, one that Revenue should have caught. Accordingly, a remission of the relevant tax, namely, $7,798 plus interest was recommended.

Johnston, Dr Harold Roy, deceased 8,041

PC 1978—15/1978, June 15, 1978, authorized the remission of $8,041 income tax plus relevant interest in respect of the 1977 taxation year and any extra tax accruing under Part XI of the Income Tax Act as a result of paying the said premium in favour of Mary Louella Johnston. This remission is to be subject to the condition that Mary Louella Johnston pay a premium of $37,064 under a registered retirement savings plan under which she is an annuitant and that she not claim a deduction otherwise permitted under the Income Tax Act in respect of the premium.

Due to ill health, the taxpayer ceased his veterinarian practice and in February 1977, while under heavy medication withdrew his RRSP funds and gave them to his wife for investment.

He was concerned for the financial security of his family and did not consider the tax consequences of withdrawing these funds before his death.

As it was evident that the taxpayer's original intention was for his wife to be his beneficiary under his RRSP, the remission was granted.

Manitoba Hutterites

PC 1978—9/2086, June 29, 1978, authorized the remission of Canada Pension Plan contributions and interest payable by the Manitoba Hutterites before 1972.

The Schmiedenleut group of the Hutterite church in the Manitoba colonies desired to be exempt from all contributions and benefits under the Canada Pension Plan.

An amendment to the CPP Act allowed members of religious sects to elect not to make contributions effective January 1, 1972. The Manitoba Hutterites waive any claim for benefits under CPP and it was recommended that there be a remission of unpaid pre-1972 contributions plus interest.

Matchuk, Fred, Calgary, Alberta 3,204

PC 1978—4/3708, authorized the remission of $1,896 income tax, $169 CPP and any relevant penalties and interest in respect of the 1970 taxation year.

The taxpayer was assessed on an arbitrary basis for the 1970 taxation year. In January 1978, he supplied information to the District Office which would have reduced the assessment to nil but he was informed that his 1970 return was statute—barred. The date that it actually became statute—barred was March 1978.

Because of the Department's error, a remission was recommended.

McGraw, Richard D. 15,379

PC 1978—7/1537, March 22, 1978, authorized the remission of $10,702 in income tax plus interest of $4,677 payable in respect of the 1971 taxation year.

The taxpayer and members of his immediate family were shareholders in Glacier Investments Ltd. The taxpayer's 1966 to 1969 income tax returns were reassessed because the investment company was considered a personal corporation. In 1974, the taxpayer's 1971 income tax return was reassessed on the same basis. A notice of objection was filed for the years 1966 to 1969 but not for the 1971 year which is now statute—barred.

The Tax Review Board ruled in favour of the shareholders considering all years including 1971. The decision was appealed and an agreement reached that the company would elect to pay 15% tax under Part IX and all related assessments would be reversed. However, the 1971 income tax return was statute—barred.

A notice of objection should have been filed for the 1971 year but as this year was considered by the Tax Review Board and the taxpayer should not be treated as the other shareholders if a refund was not allowed, a remission was granted.

Mineral Resources Taxation, Production Profits Remission Order 786,976

PC 1978—1923, June 15, 1978, authorized the remission of tax for eligible corporations for taxation years ending after May 6, 1974 and before 1976.

A remission of tax will be granted in an amount equal to the excess of the Mineral Resources Abatement calculated without reference to any Canadian and foreign investment income (sub—paragraph) 124(2)(b)(ii) over the amount that was deductible as a Mineral Resource Abatement from tax otherwise payable under Subsection 124(2).

The remission will be granted to corporations who submit an application in writing to the Deputy Minister of National Revenue for Taxation within one year of the coming into force date of the Remission Order (June 28, 1978).

DF Murray and Sons Machinery Ltd, Brooks, Alberta 1,060

PC 1978—5/3297, October 26, 1978, authorized the remission of $818 income tax plus relevant interest in respect of the 1973 taxation year.

The taxpayer's 1972 return was reassessed to include the amount of $6,175. This amount had already been taxed in the 1973 return. The taxpayer requested a reassessment and the Department agreed.

The result of the reassessment was to increase the 1973 non—capital loss which would then be carried back to reduce the 1972 taxable income.

There was a delay in processing these adjustments and the 1972 return became statute—barred. As the Department was at fault, a remission of $818 plus relevant interest was recommended.

Rambler Mines Limited, Baie Verte Mining Company Limited and Jawtam Key Gold Zones (Rambler) Limited 985,265

PC 1978—12/3535, November 23, 1978 authorized the remission of income taxes and any related penalties for the taxation year 1974.

In 1960, the Province of Newfoundland expropriated the mining property of the taxpayers. An agreement for compensation was offered and accepted in 1974 which was for $5,000,000 payable over a 3 year period.

If the sale had taken place prior to 1972, the relevant percentage (70%) of the proceeds would not have been subject to tax but instead became taxable in 1974.

A remission was granted to allow the difference between the income taxes and penalties for a taxation year in respect of the actual gross proceeds received in the year and the income taxes payable if the gross proceeds of sale received in the year were computed at 13.80864% and the income taxes payable by the shareholders on the dividends received as part of the distribution of the sales proceeds.

Smith, G Percy, Newcastle, New Brunswick 3,336

PC 1979—6/127, January 18, 1979, authorized the remission of $3,336 income tax payable in respect of the 1972 taxation year.

In 1973, the taxpayer filed his 1972 return with a notation "Capital Statement to follow". This statement was forwarded to the Department in 1974 requesting an adjustment of $1,000.

SECTION 17(8)—Concluded

NATIONAL REVENUE—Concluded
TAXATION—Concluded

In 1974, the taxpayer requested that commodity losses be considered as business losses rather than capital losses. On two occasions, the Department informed the taxpayer that his 1972 return would be reviewed.

As the Department neglected reassessing the taxpayer's 1972 return which is now statute—barred, a remission of $3,336 was recommended.

Les Spécialités du Bois Franc de Cabano Inc..... 1,090

PC 1978—5/3505, November 16, 1978, authorized the remission of $1,090 in income tax in respect of the 1973 taxation year.

In 1973, a management fee of $65,000 was included in the corporation income. The shareholders were later reassessed in respect of this amount but no reassessment was processed to exclude the amount from the corporation.

In 1976, one of the shareholders filed a Notice of Objection and in January 1978, the corporation filed an amended 1973 return excluding the fee.

A decision was made not to adjust the 1973 return until the Shareholder's right to appeal expired in 1978 but by that time the taxpayer's 1973 year had become statute—barred.

Accordingly, a remission was granted.

Toronto—Dominion Bank, Toronto, Ontario 144,295

PC 1978—4/3505, November 16, 1978, authorized the remission of $144,295 income tax in respect of the 1960 to 1969 taxation years.

The Bank was reassessed for 1960—1969 for the purpose of revising the foreign tax credit allowed due to a change in the US method of calculating income of foreign banks' branch operations. The interest received on the overpayment of United States tax is taxable but the interest charge on the corresponding deficiency of Canada tax due to the reallocation of income from the US to Canada is non—deductible resulting in a net interest computed as follows:

	Remission Amount
1960	631
1961	19,366
1962	61,051
1963	30,668
1964	4,641
1965	2,997
1968	24,189
1969	752

Except for the year 1960, the interest was calculated from the due date (January 15) to March 31, 1970, which was the date the revised allocation was made known to the banks.

A remission of $144,295 was recommended.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is the report of the Government of Canada prepared each fiscal year by the Receiver General as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31, and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department is responsible for the accuracy of its accounts and maintains detailed records of the transactions in those accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake the transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years. The report also includes the financial statements of those Crown corporations and other bodies whose accounts are maintained separately from the accounts of Canada. The financial year of a number of these corporations and other bodies is the calendar year rather than the fiscal year of the Government.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes; Volume I presents a summary and analysis of the financial transactions of the Government while Volume III contains the financial statements of Crown corporations which are permitted by legislation to keep their own accounts.

Volume II presents the financial operations of the Government, segregated by department. It contains: (a) financial operations of individual departments and their associated agencies, and (b) additional information and analysis.

(a) Departmental Financial Operations

In a fashion similar to the Estimates, Volume II uses a uniform set of statements to present each department's financial operations. In most respects the level of detail is the same as in the Estimates and provides the following information:

(i) Use of Appropriations

This is the principal departmental statement. It is a summary of the use by departments of both the budgetary and non-budgetary authorities given to them by Parliament in appropriation acts and other statutes. It displays, by program:

- the wording of the relevant appropriations or statutes;
- the amount authorized under each appropriation or statute;
- the total use made during the year of the authorized amounts;
- amounts of unexpended balances (amounts lapsed and carried forward); or in rare instances, amounts overexpended; and
- the total use for the previous year.

(ii) Total Cost of Programs—Budgetary

This table shows the total calculated cost for each program by adding to net expenditure the imputed value of services provided by other departments, and of accommodation provided by the reporting department, and by deducting non-tax receipts credited to revenue.

The total calculated program cost is also reflected in the Estimates and in the Public Accounts in the "Programs by Activity" table.

(iii) Programs by Activity—Budgetary

This is a comparison of budgetary appropriations with actual expenditures and the imputed costs and revenues referred to in (ii). The table displays total program expenditures by activity and type of vote, and total cost of programs by type of vote. It is related to the "Programs by Activities" table displayed in the Estimates.

(iv) Grants and Contributions

This table displays details of amounts appropriated for grants and contributions, by class of recipients and by program, and the payments.

(v) Budgetary Expenditure by Program and Standard Object

This table presents net expenditures by standard object and relates to the "Objects of Expenditure" table shown in the Estimates.

(vi) Revenue

(vii) Revolving Funds

The commercial orientation of a revolving fund is reflected in the balance sheet and statement of operations, or income and expenditure, required each year. A revolving fund's minimum goal is the recovery of cost, and most commercial accounting conventions are used to measure cost.

As a revolving fund uses full accrual accounting and the Government does not, a reconciliation statement is frequently necessary to explain the difference between the advance to the revolving fund included in the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities in Section 2 of Volume I, and the liability for the advance shown in the revolving fund's balance sheet.

(viii) Other Organizations

To further the objectives of the Government and of departments, various boards, agencies, commissions and accounts have been created by appropriation acts and other legislation. Financial statements for these organizations and accounts are also shown.

(b) Additional Information and Analysis

Further details of certain outlays are provided in Volume II, to supplement the statements already presented. This supplementary information includes:

- accounts receivable and deletions (Section 31);
- professional and special services (Section 32);

- construction and acquisition of land, buildings, machinery and equipment (Section 33);
- payments of damage claims, ex gratia payments, federal court awards and nugatory payments (Section 34);
- selected miscellaneous payments and federal provincial shared-cost programs by province (Section 35);
- grants and contributions (Section 36);
- further details of expenditure by standard object (Section 37); and
- miscellaneous statements by department (Section 38).

Summary Tables

The following tables provide summaries of the financial operations contained in the departmental sections.

Table 1 summarizes the appropriations and the use of appropriations. (This statement also appears in Section 2 of Volume I).

Table 2 summarizes expenditure by department and by standard object.

Table 3 summarizes revenue by department and by main classification.

Agricultural Stabilization Board
(Established by the Agricultural Stabilization Act)

THE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS
AGRICULTURAL STABILIZATION BOARD
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the statement of expenditure of the Agricultural Stabilization Board for the year ended March 31, 1979. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, the statement of expenditure represents fairly the results of the Board for the year ended March 31, 1979, in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceeding year.

Expenditure is recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, which basis is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada.

(b) Services provided without charge

An estimated amount for services provided without charge by government departments is included in the statement.

(c) Fixed assets

Purchases of furniture and equipment are recorded as an administrative expense in the year of acquisition.

(d) Employee termination benefits

Termination benefits accrue to employees over their service period. Payments of these benefits are made to the employees on separation or retirement and are expensed by the Board when paid.

The Board is currently defending an action by a producer under the 1976 Slaughter Cattle Program as a result of a dispute concerning producer eligibility in excess of the maximum payments allocated for this program. If such action is successful the Board could be liable for additional payment amounting to $156,000. Payment, if any, will be expensed in the period that it is paid.

4. Subsequent event

On June 27, 1979, the Board was advised that the Federal Court had ruled in favour of a claimant who had brought suit for the amount of $71,000 under the 1975 Apple Program. The Board has appealed the decision. Should the Board be unsuccessful in its appeal, any payment will be expensed in the period that it is paid.

Expenses are recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, which basis is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada.

An estimated amount for services provided without charge by government departments is included in the statement.

Fixed assets

Purchases of furniture and equipment are recorded as an administrative expense in the year of acquisition.

Inventory

Inventory is valued at lower of cost and net realizable value.

2. Deficit (unappropriated loss)

The deficit arose from an unappropriated loss. The loss was the result of adjustments that were required to reduce the value of accounts receivable by $9,800 and inventory by $138,000 at year-end. A Treasury Board Submission has been prepared since the date of the financial statements to obtain approval for an allotment to cover this loss.

The Agriculture Revolving Fund was authorized under Appropriation Act No. 4, 1970, for the purpose of financing the production of new and improved varieties of seeds, and the acquisition, maintenance and development for experimental purposes of livestock, poultry and eggs, including administrative expenses of authorized projects. On April 23, 1970, the Treasury Board designated the Agriculture Revolving Fund as a working capital advance. A significant portion of the cost of projects financed is provided for by appropriations from Parliament as a free service to the Fund.

The amount that can be advanced as working capital at any one time is limited to $1,820,000. No interest is charged on outstanding advances.

2. Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable as at March 31, 1979 includes an amount of $12,016 due from two firms involved in bankruptcy proceedings. Of this sum, $6,125 is considered collectible while the remaining $5,891 is not.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Authority and Purpose

The Race Track Supervision Revolving Fund was established under Appropriation Act No. 1, 970 which authorized the operation of a Fund in the current and subsequent fiscal years in accordance with terms and conditions prescribed by Treasury Board for the purpose of providing race track supervision in Canada. The Fund has been authorized to draw from the Consolidated Revenue Fund up to $200,000 for working capital should this be necessary and to retain earnings up to $2 million.

Charges to the Fund are to include administrative expenses of race track supervision and costs of research relating to the use of drugs on horses and race surveillance techniques including the publication, distribution and sale of the results of such research. All revenue from activities approved by Treasury Board are to be credited to the Fund.

2. Fixed Assets

(a) Fixed assets acquired from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1970, are recorded in the Fund in accordance with Treasury Board Circular 1970-7, at values determined as at that date by officers of the Department. Acquisitions subsequent to April 1, 1970 are recorded at cost.

(b) Depreciation is charged on a straight line basis using rates of 10% for furniture and equipment, 20% for desk-top computers and 33% for motor vehicles.

3. Advances from Canada

Advances are made by Canada to the Fund for the purchase of fixed assets and repayment is made each year equal to the depreciation taken on fixed assets in that year. Interest is paid at rates determined by the Minister of Finance.

4. Vacation Pay

No provision has been made for vacation pay earned but not yet taken by employees, estimated at $110,400 as at March 31, 1979 ($94,200 at March 31, 1978). This will not be an extra cost to the Fund when, in the normal course of operations, vacations are taken in subsequent years and recorded as salaries and wages expenditure.

5. Employee Termination Benefits

Termination benefits accrue to employees over their years of service with the Government of Canada. Employees leaving Government service generally receive termination benefits at the rate of one week's pay for each complete year of continuous service to a maximum of twenty-eight weeks' pay. However, upon resignation, benefits are generally payable only to those with ten or more years continuous service, and the entitlement is reduced to one-half week's pay for each year of continuous employment to a maximum of thirteen weeks' pay.

Revolving Fund employees, being part of the Public Service, earn termination benefits for their total years of continuous employment in the Fund and elsewhere in the Government. New employees hired from within the Government bring their entitlement with them while employees who leave the Fund for other Government employment take along their termination benefit entitlement.

The Fund records termination benefits when payments are made. No provision has been made for benefits accruing to employees, with an estimated value of $201,900 as at March 31, 1979 ($140,200 at March 31, 1978). This consists of one week's pay at current salary rates for each complete year of Government service up to and including March 31, 1979, to a maximum of twenty-eight weeks' pay per employee.

6. Contributed Capital

This represents the value of fixed assets acquired from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1970 and transferred to the Revolving Fund without charge.

7. Levy

On October 1st, 1978 the rate of levy on pari-mutuel bets was reduced from six-tenths of one percent to one half of one percent.

Canadian Grain Commission—Concluded

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 1979

1. Commission Objectives

The Canadian Grain Commission operates under Section 3 of the Canada Grain Act (1970) to establish and maintain high standards of quality for Canadian grain, and to regulate grain handling in Canada so as to achieve maximum acceptability of Canadian grain in domestic and export markets.

2. Accounting Policies

Receipts

The revenue accounts of the Commission are maintained on a cash basis which is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada. Receipts are credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Expenditures

Operating and capital expenditures of the Commission are charged to operations and recovered from parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. These expenditures are recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, in accordance with section 30 of the Financial Administration Act. Operating expenditures also include non-budgetary services of other Government departments for which there is no direct charge.

3. Canadian Grain Commission Weigh-over Account

The Canadian Grain Commission Working Capital Advance was authorized with an effective date of April 1, 1975 by Privy Council 1975-76-519, March 9, 1975. In addition to the provision of drawing an advance of up to $500,000 from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to cover internal weigh-over shortages, the authorization includes the netting of weigh-over shortages and overages.

The account is maintained on an accrual basis.

The transactions of the Canadian Grain Commission Weigh-over Account for the year ended March 31, 1979, are as follows:

Appendix—ConcludedGovernment Telecommunications Agency Revolving Fund—Concluded*NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1979*1. Authorization and purpose*(a) Authorization

The Fund was authorized by Vote L20, Appropriation Act No. 5, 1963, to draw from the Consolidated Revenue Fund at any time up to $1 million. This amount was increased to $2 million by Vote L6a, Appropriation Act No. 4, 1975, and, subsequently increased to $6 million by Vote L6a, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1977-78.

The Treasury Board, on September 21, 1972, authorized the Fund to carry forward to future years, surpluses or deficits to a maximum amount of $150,000.

(b) Purpose

The Fund is used to finance all activities of the Agency including:

- i) the payment of accounts submitted by common carrier companies for provision of telecommunication services and facilities in Canada and the USA; for customized (private) systems employed by various departments and the management of some nineteen consolidated telephone systems in major cities throughout Canada;
- ii) telecommunication engineering and support services for network and systems management;
- iii) the printing and distribution of telephone directories for each consolidated system;
- iv) administrative support and other related overhead charges; and
- v) providing a planning and coordinating capability for government telecommunications and support of an interdepartmental advisory committee.

2. Significant accounting policies(a) Depreciation

Depreciation of fixed assets is calculated using the diminishing balance method at the following rates: automobiles (30%), office equipment (20%), furniture and fixtures (10%).

(b) Contributed capital

Contributed capital represents fixed assets financed from parliamentary appropriations prior to April 1, 1971 and these assets are recorded at cost.

3. Comparative figures

Certain 1978 figures in the Balance Sheet have been reclassified to conform to the 1979 presentation.

4. Termination benefits and annual vacation pay

Termination benefits and annual vacation pay accrue to employees over their service period. Payments of these benefits are made to the employees on separation or retirement and are expensed by the Agency when paid. No provision has been made in the accounts for termination benefits and annual vacation pay accruing to employees as at March 31, 1979 which amounts are approximately $328,704 and $108,544 respectively. In July 1977, the Agency was advised by an officer of the Treasury Board Secretariat to continue the practice of not recording such a provision.

5. Advances from Canada(a) Working capital

Interest on the advances for working capital was calculated at the rate of 8¼% per annum on the month-end balance shown in the Central Accounts of Canada.

(b) Purchase of fixed assets

On December 15, 1976, Vote L6b of Appropriation Act No. 5, 1976 authorized advances totalling $58,717 to the Agency for the purchase of fixed assets.

The terms and conditions approved by the Treasury Board on April 6, 1978 provide for annual repayments of $8,186 (excluding interest) until 1980 and $3,553 (excluding interest) from 1981 to 1985. The maturity date is March 31, 1985 and the interest rate, which is fixed quarterly by the Minister of Finance, was 10.125% as at March 31, 1979.

6. Contingent liability

In the course of operations, the Agency enters into contractual agreements relating to the research and technical development of telecommunication activities. As at March 31, 1979, the suspension of one of these agreements may result in a liability to the Agency. As the amount of any liability cannot be determined at this time, no provision has been made in the financial statements.

*In 1978-79, the accounting practice pertaining to oil import compensation payments was changed to comply with the Government's policy on refunds of previous years' expenditure. Accordingly, the credit portion of final adjustments of oil import compensation payments made in previous years is now reported as non-tax revenue. The figures for 1977-78 have not been adjusted for comparative purposes. Had these figures been restated, revenue would have been increased by approximately $15 million.

NOTE TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

In accordance with the terms of International Agreements, Canada obtains raw sealskins without charge. The year-end inventory valuation of fur sealskins is based on the laid down cost which comprises labour charges for packing and transporting the skins to the fur processor. The additional costs for dressing and dying the skins are billed by the processor at date of shipment by him and have been estimated to be $75,763 with respect to the March 31, 1979 inventory. The comparable cost for the previous year-end inventory was estimated to be $104,108.

Fisheries Prices Support Board

(Incorporated under the Fisheries Prices Support Act)

THE HONOURABLE JAMES A. MCGRATH, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF FISHERIES AND OCEANS
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of Fisheries Prices Support Board as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of operations and deficit for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Board as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Fisheries Prices Support Board—Concluded

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the Board

The Fisheries Prices Support Board is a Crown Corporation established under the Fisheries Prices Support Act, c. F-23. As authorized by the Governor in Council, the Board is empowered to purchase fishery products for its own account and to make deficiency payments to producers of such products. The Act requires that the Board, in establishing purchase prices and in determining the rate at which deficiency payments are to be made, endeavour to secure a fair relationship between the returns from fisheries and those from other occupations. In addition, the Board acts as procurement agency for the supply of fishery products required by the Canadian International Development Agency for food-aid and development programs. The Board operates through offices of the Department of the Environment, with departmental staff performing certain functions of the Board.

2. Significant accounting policies

Modified cash basis of accounting

The Board follows the laid-down practice applicable to government departments whereby payments made during the month of April to extinguish liabilities incurred prior to March 31 are reflected as cash transactions of the old year. Similarly settlements of accounts receivable in April by journal voucher of old year accounts due from government departments and agencies are reflected as cash transactions occurring prior to March 31.

Loss or profit

Section 10(3) of the Act provides that Board losses may be recouped from monies appropriated by Parliament for that purpose and that profits be transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Administrative services provided by the Department of the Environment

In accordance with previous practice the administrative expenses of the Board for the year are charged to Department of the Environment Vote 15(b). Only the major administrative expenses are reflected in the statement of operations. Salaries represent the pro-rata portion of salary costs, excluding employee benefits, of those members of the Department's Ottawa staff who regularly devote time to the Board's affairs. Since the Board had no staff of its own, it does not reflect any accrued liability in its accounts for vacation pay or termination benefits.

3. Advances from Canada

Section 10(2) of the Act provides for advances not exceeding $25 million to be paid from the Consolidated Revenue Fund to finance Board purchases of fisheries products and deficiency payments. The proceeds from sales of fisheries products have been applied by the Board to the advances outstanding. No interest was charged during the year on the advances.

4. Deficiency payments

The Board made deficiency payments directly to the following groups and Crown corporations involved in the fishing industry:

	1979	1978
Smelt fishermen	$	$ 39,877
Irish moss fishermen		536,991
The Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation for processing mullet and whitefish	133,564	310,299
The Canadian Saltfish Corporation for processing small cod		1,019,754
	133,564	1,906,921
	39,490
Less: Recovery of previous overpayments
	$ 94,074	$ 1,906,921

5. Loss or profit

Section 10(3) of the Act provides that net operating loss in any fiscal year may be recouped from monies appropriated by Parliament for that purpose and that profits be transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund. During the fiscal year 1977-78, funds were recouped from the Department of the Environment Supplementary Estimates "B" Vote 15(b). For fiscal year 1978-79, Parliament had been dissolved without granting authority for Supplementary Estimates "B". As a result, the requests for the transfers of funds in these Supplementary Estimates could not be acted upon. Instead the Treasury Board provided the required resources through Contingencies Vote 5.

6. Prior period adjustment

The balance of deficit at March 31, 1978, previously reported as $1,932,685, has been restated to correct an overstatement of costs of sales, of $58,291 with respect to an error in accruing unpaid fisheries product purchases of $45,481 and warehousing and handling costs of $12,810. The figures for 1978 have been restated accordingly.

1. Objective

The Fund was established in 1969 to provide for the issue of appropriate travel documents to Canadian citizens and to certain permanent residents of Canada who are unable to obtain valid passports from their country of origin.

The authority granted by Parliament was amended by Vote L19(d), Appropriation Act No. 1, 1975 to allow the Passport Office Revolving Fund to draw out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund a maximum amount of $900,000 as working capital. Effective 1975-76 the Treasury Board gave to the Fund the authority to accumulate surpluses and carry over deficits.

2. Accounting policies

Inventories

The inventory of materials and supplies is carried at cost and the inventory of passports-in-process is valued at average cost for the year.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets are carried at cost. Leasehold improvements are amortized on the straight line basis over the term of the appropriate lease. Other fixed assets are depreciated from the year of acquisition on the straight line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows:

Furniture	16 years
Equipment
Electronic data processing	5 years
Other equipment	10 years

3. Cash on hand or on deposit with Receiver General

In accordance with Treasury Board regulations for revolving funds, the Fund sets aside every year amounts equal to depreciation which are restricted to either financing replacements, acquisitions and major renovations or repaying advances from Canada. As at March 31, 1979, $28,597 of the cash is restricted compared to $7,333 in 1978.

4. Advances from Canada

The advances from Canada were made solely for the acquisition of fixed assets and the minimum amount repayable in a given year is equal to the amount of yearly depreciation taken on the assets so acquired. The interest rates which are determined by the Minister of Finance for long-term borrowing, vary from 7.3125% to 9.375%. These advances are granted for a period of time varying from 5 to 16 years and are repayable up until 1992.

5. Long-term leases

The Passport Office occupies space at eight locations under long-term leases which expire between March 31, 1979 and December 31, 1981. The annual rental is approximately $766,000.

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT RESEARCH CENTRE

AND
 THE HONOURABLE FLORA MACDONALD, P.C., M.P.,
 SECRETARY OF STATE FOR EXTERNAL AFFAIRS,
 OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the International Development Research Centre as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of expenditures and revenues, equity and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the International Development Research Centre as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied, after giving retroactive effect to the method used to account for property and equipment as referred to in Note 3 to the financial statements, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Nature and objectives

The International Development Research Centre is a Corporation, without share capital, established by the Parliament of Canada through the International Development Research Centre Act which received Royal assent on May 13, 1970. The annual grant received from the Parliament of Canada is pursuant to External Affairs Vote 40 for both the years ended March 31, 1978 and 1979.

The objectives of the Centre are to initiate, encourage, support and conduct research into the problems of the developing regions of the world and into the means for applying and adapting scientific, technical and other knowledge to the economic and social advancement of those regions.

2. Significant accounting policies

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Significant accounting policies are as follows:

Research expenditures

Expenditures for development research, research related activities and contract research are charged to operations at the time of disbursement, or as provided for under contractual agreements.

Foreign currency translation

Foreign transactions are translated into Canadian dollars by the use of an average exchange rate which closely approximates the rate in effect at the transaction date. Exchange gains or losses are reflected in the determination of cost of operations for the current period.

Monetary assets and liabilities as at March 31, 1979 have been translated to Canadian dollars at the rate of exchange in effect at that date.

Contract research

The Centre has entered into agreements to undertake contract research on behalf of various donor agencies. The Centre recognizes contract research income at the time related expenditures are incurred. Funds received in excess of contract research expenditures incurred are reflected in current liabilities.

Depreciation and amortization

The methods and rates employed annually to provide for the depreciation and amortization of property and equipment are recorded as follows:

	Method	Rate
Residence	Straight line	25 years
Office furniture and equipment	Diminishing balance	20%
Computer hardware and systems software	Straight line	5 years
Vehicles	Diminishing balance	30%
Leasehold improvements	Straight line	15 years

3. Changes in accounting policies

Capitalization, depreciation and amortization of property and equipment

During the year, the Centre adopted the policy of recording expenditures of a capital nature as property and equipment and introduced depreciation and amortization accounting to all capital assets. In prior years capital expenditures, with the exception of land and residence, were expensed in the year of acquisition.

Under the new policy, a retroactive adjustment was made to Equity of Canada at April 1, 1977 of $1,648,017 representing the capitalized net book value of property and equipment purchased in prior years. The cost of property and equipment and accumulated depreciation and amortization have been recorded in the accounts to date.

Had this policy change not been made, the excess of expenditures over revenues for the current year would have increased by $231,459. The excess of revenues over expenditures for the year ended March 31, 1978 was restated and increased by $194,592 from that previously reported.

FOR 9 MONTHS ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1978

1. Of the total amount of the account receivable outstanding at December 31, 1978 there remains $192,268 still outstanding at June 30, 1979. Our intent to undertake legal proceedings was given to all parties having an outstanding account with Indian Arts and Crafts Central Marketing Services. In one case, a departmental employee owed money to the Crown and set-off procedures have been undertaken.
2. The inventory has been written down to an estimated realizable value in 1977-78 as well as at December 31, 1978 for comparative purposes. Since the Department terminated the Indian Arts and Crafts Marketing Services operations effective December 31, 1978 and retention of the inventory would have served no useful departmental purpose, the inventory was declared surplus May 28, 1979.
3. As indicated in note 2, the Indian Arts and Crafts Central Marketing Services operation ceased December 31, 1978 and through supplementary estimates "A" 1978-79, the departmental control account for the revolving fund was closed at the year end of 1978-79.
4. Professional services as reflected in these financial statements, include the cost of salaries, wages and benefits of personnel employed by Imanco Marketing Limited, a management corporation.
5. The statement shows an unreconcilable error of $32,171. This represents the cumulative effect of unreconcilable errors which have occurred over the years during which Indian Arts and Crafts Central Marketing Services has operated.
6. Interest on the revolving fund has not been charged for the period ending December 31, 1978.

Standards Council of Canada

(Established by the Standards Council of Canada Act)

THE STANDARDS COUNCIL OF CANADA
ANDTHE HONOURABLE JACK H. HORNER, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF INDUSTRY, TRADE AND COMMERCE,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the Standards Council of Canada as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of operations and unrestricted equity for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Council as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Standards Council of Canada—Concluded

1. Objectives and operations

The Standards Council of Canada was created by Parliament as a statutory corporation under its own act to be the national coordinating body for voluntary standardization. The Council carries out its task through the National Standards System, a federation of accredited organizations concerned with standards-writing, certification and testing coordinated by SCC. The System provides a coordinated approach to the development and advancement of voluntary standardization in the national interest.

Among its many programs, the Council provides financial assistance to standards-writing organizations, travel assistance to Canadian delegates to international meetings, coordinates the conversion of standards to the metric system of measurement, operates a self-funded standards sale service for Canadians for international and foreign national standards, and provides for Canadians a free national information service on standards.

2. Significant accounting policies

Statement of changes in financial position

A statement of changes in financial position has not been presented as, in the opinion of management, it would not add significantly to the information to be derived from these financial statements.

Office furniture and equipment

Consistent with accounting principles followed by many non-profit organizations, the Council follows the practice of charging the cost of office furniture and equipment to operations in the year of acquisition.

Foreign exchange

Foreign exchange on purchases of international and foreign national standards is recorded as part of the direct cost of those standards, which is expended each year. There are no material amounts payable or receivable in foreign currencies at March 31, 1979.

Parliamentary appropriations

Parliamentary appropriations are recorded in the accounts as they are voted by Parliament. Under the terms of the Standards Council of Canada Act the excess of funds provided over actual net expenses for the year is accumulated in an equity account which is reduced in a year when net expenses exceed the amount voted.

3. Reserves

During 1977, the executive committee approved the following appropriations from the unrestricted equity of the Council at that time:

$ 135,000	towards the cost of hosting the International Organization of Standardization in 1982
81,000	for the General Meeting of the International Electrotechnical Commission in 1985
46,874	general reserve for contingencies
$ 262,874

Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety

(Established by the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety Act)

THE HONOURABLE LINCOLN ALEXANDER, P.C., Q.C., M.P., MINISTER OF LABOUR
OTTAWA, (ONTARIO)

I have examined the balance sheet of the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety as at December 31, 1978 and the statement of income and expenditure for the three-month period from October 1, 1978, date of commencement of operations, to December 31, 1978. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Centre as at December 31, 1978 and the results of its operations for the three-month period then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 1978

1. Objectives of the Centre

The objectives of the Centre are to promote the fundamental right of Canadians to a healthy and safe working environment and to enhance the physical and mental health of workers.

2. Commencement of operations

The Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety Act (Chapter 29, Statutes of Canada 1977-78) received royal assent April 20, 1978. On August 16, 1978, His Excellency, the Governor General in Council proclaimed the first day of October 1978 as the day the Act came into force.

On February 2, 1979, the Council of Governors passed By-Law No. 1 which designated December 31 as the financial year-end of the Centre. Consequently, these annual financial statements include operations for the first three-month period ended December 31, 1978.

3. Significant accounting policies

Accrual accounting

The Centre follows the accrual basis of accounting to record income and expenditure.

Deferred grant income

The Centre was granted funds in the amount of $385,000 for the period from October 1, 1978 to March 31, 1979. The Centre's financial year-end is December 31, 1978 and consequently one-half of the grant was recorded as deferred income to apply to the first three-months of the 1979 year.

4. Statement of changes in financial position

This statement has not been included as it would not further the disclosure already present in the financial statements.

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA

MEDICAL RESEARCH COUNCIL AND THE HONOURABLE DAVID CROMBIE, P.C., M.P.,

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 1979

1. Authority and purpose

(a) Authority—The revolving fund has been authorized by National Revenue Vote 632, Appropriation Act No. 2, 1954, 1953—54, c. 25. The maximum authorized amount of the working capital advance is $750,000.

(b) Purpose—The fund was created to permit the bulk purchases and sales of paper, stores materials, uniform cloth, stationery supplies, customs duty stamps and labels and other similar items.

In accordance with Treasury Board letter dated July 16, 1976, the revolving fund has been extended to cover the purchase of uniform items from a clothing manufacturer. This is within the meaning of our current authority. It is to be noted that the revolving fund is no longer used for bulk purchases and sales of paper, stores materials and stationery supplies.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Overhead costs of administering the Revolving Fund are borne by the Department of National Revenue—Customs and Excise.

(b) Interest is not charged to the Fund because the Treasury Board has classified the Fund as a working capital advance.

3. Inventory

Included in inventory are obsolete spirit age labels at a total cost value of $6,691 55. Authority for write-off was approved by Treasury Board, but due to dissolution, was not approved by Parliament.

Act*)

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND THE RIGHT HONOURABLE CHARLES JOSEPH CLARK, P.C., M.P., PRIME MINISTER OF CANADA,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the Board of Trustees of the Queen Elizabeth II Canadian Fund to Aid in Research on the Diseases of Children as at March 31, 1979 and the statement of revenue and expenditure for the year then ended. In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF EXPENDITURE
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objective

The Economic Council of Canada was established on August 2, 1963 by Act of Parliament under the provisions of the Economic Council of Canada Act, and reports to the Prime Minister through the Privy Council. The objective of the Economic Council is to advise and recommend to the Prime Minister how Canada can achieve the highest possible levels of employment and efficient production in order that the country may enjoy a high and consistent rate of economic growth and that all Canadians may share in rising living standards.

2. Accounting policies

The accounts of the Council are maintained on a cash basis modified to include payments made in April relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31. Purchases of furniture and equipment are recorded as an administration expenditure in the year of acquisition. This basis of accounting is consistent with that used by departments of the Government of Canada.

Reported expenditures also include an estimated amount for services provided without charge by government departments.

3. Financing

The amounts required to finance the transactions of the Council are provided by Privy Council Vote 20 and recorded as expenditure in the Accounts of Canada. During the year, $8,657,185 ($4,844,000 in 1978) was provided by this Vote and $863,214 ($405,426 in 1978) lapsed in accordance with Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act.

Science Council of Canada

(Established by the Science Council of Canada Act)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT MARCH 31, 1979

 THE HONOURABLE RAMON JOHN HNATYSHYN, P.C., M.P., MINISTER OF STATE FOR SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY,
 OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the statement of expenditures of the Science Council of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1979. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, this financial statement presents fairly the results of the operations of the Council for the year ended March 31, 1979 in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

1. Objective

The objective of the Science Council is to assess Canada's scientific and technological requirements, to increase public awareness of these requirements and of the interdependence of various groups in society in the development and use of science and technology, and to advise the Government on the best use of science and technology.

2. Accounting policies

NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF EXPENDITURE
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objective

The Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (NSERC) was incorporated on May 1, 1978 and took over from the National Research Council (NRC) the responsibility for the management of the Program of Scholarships and Grants in Aid of Research. The objective of the Council is to promote and support the development and maintenance of research and the provision of highly qualified manpower in the natural sciences and engineering.

2. Accounting policies

Grants and scholarships are charged to expenditure as cash is disbursed.

Operating expenditure is recorded on a cash basis modified to include payments in April for work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31.

Acquisitions of furniture and equipment are charged to expenditure in the year of acquisition.

Included in the reported operating expenditure are estimated amounts for services provided without charge by other government agencies.

3. Financing of operations

Expenditures under Votes 30 and 35 were originally voted to NRC for 1978-79. Prior to the incorporation of NSERC on May 1, 1978 $67,842 was spent from Vote 30 and $23,123,183 was spent from Vote 35. The Minister exercised his authority to transfer the balance of Vote 30 and Vote 35 from NRC to NSERC as at May 1, 1978. The expenditures prior to May 1, 1978 have been included as NSERC costs in order to show the full costs of the Program of Scholarships and Grants in Aid of Research for the fiscal year 1978-79.

To finance the program, Parliament authorized in 1978-79 votes under the Minister of State for Science and Technology amounting to $109,707,000 for grants and scholarships and $2,001,000 for operating expenditures. During 1978-79 $109,705,827 was spent for grants and scholarships and $1,843,919 for operating expenditures. Additional details of expenditures on grants and scholarships are given in Schedule I. In accordance with Section 30 of the Financial Administration Act $1,173 lapsed in respect of grants and scholarships and $157,081 lapsed in respect of operating expenditures.

4. Comparative expenditure

Detailed comparative expenditure for 1977-78 is not presented, as NSERC was incorporated on May 1, 1978. The total grants and scholarships awarded under the NRC program of Scholarships and Grants in Aid of Research for the year ended March 31, 1978 was $97,388,366.

5. Refunds of prior years' expenditures

During the year, the Councils recovered prior years' expenditures for grants and scholarships no longer required for approved research. In this respect, NRC and NSERC received and subsequently remitted $11,848 and $218,793 respectively to the Receiver General for Canada. These amounts are not reflected in the statement of expenditure.

6. Future payments approved

The continuation of payments extending in future years for grants and scholarships awarded in 1978-79 and previous years amount approximately as indicated under (a) below. New grants

The Canada Council

(Established by the Canada Council Act)

ENDOWMENT ACCOUNT

(Statutory Endowment Fund and Parliamentary Grant)

THE HONOURABLE DAVID S. H. MACDONALD, P.C., M.P.

SECRETARY OF STATE,

AND

CANADA COUNCIL,

OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheets of the Endowment Account and Special Funds of the Canada Council as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of operations and unappropriated surplus of the Endowment Account and changes in equity of Special Funds for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Council as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations and the changes in its special funds for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 1 applied, after giving retroactive effect to the change in accounting policy as described in Note 11 to the financial statements, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

RHÉAL CHATELAIN

Senior Deputy Auditor General

for the Auditor General of Canada

Ottawa, Ontario

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Accounting policies

Accounting basis

The Council's accounts are maintained on the accrual basis.

Insured mortgages (Note 2)

Insured mortgages are carried at cost plus the earned portion of the related discount, if any.

Losses on disposal of investments

Net losses on disposal of investments are charged against the respective "Accumulated net gains on disposal of investments" to the extent of the balance available in this account. The remaining loss, if any, is charged to current year's operations.

Grants

Grants are charged to expenditure in the year for which they are approved. Cancelled grants approved in previous years and refunds are shown in income in the Endowment Account. For the Special Funds such items are deducted from the grants approved during the year.

Works of art (Note 7)

Purchases of works of art are not capitalized, but are charged to programme expenditure in the year of purchase.

Capital assets

Capital expenditures are charged to administration expenditure in the year of purchase and consequently there are no charges for depreciation.

Termination benefits

The Council does not record in its accounts the liability for termination benefits estimated at March 31, 1979 to be $162,689.

Other

Except for the Parliamentary Grant and the Queen's Fellowship Fund (Note 10), all monies or properties received by the Council pursuant to Section 20 of the Canada Council Act are accounted for in the Special Funds statement.

3. Extraordinary item

Grants which would have been payable at March 31, 1978 with respect to social sciences and humanities were deleted from the accounts and replaced by a liability for $20 million to the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (as reflected in Main Estimates 1978-79). The effect was to reduce the liabilities and increase the surplus of the Canada Council in 1977-78 by $3,105,988. This amount was reflected in the 1977-78 statement of operations as an extraordinary item.

During the current year losses were incurred totalling $1,982,000 on the sale of investments to make the $20 million payment to the new Council. These losses are charged in the statement of operations as an extraordinary item.

4. Reserves

During the year Council decided to establish two reserves for the following purposes:

(a) Reserve for programme commitments of $900,000 to provide for the funding of those grants programmes for which a commitment had been made by Council but for which a recipient could not specifically be identified.

(b) Reserve for general contingencies of $1,100,000.

The reserve for losses on disposal of investments of $2,000,000 which was established in 1977-78 was no longer required and has been restored to surplus. The actual losses were determined during the current year and charged in the statement of operations as an extraordinary item.

5. Special Funds Investments

	1979		1978
	Cost	Market Value	Cost	Market Value
(in thousands of dollars)
Bonds, debentures and notes	13,491	12,593	12,371	11,703

(Market value estimated)	927	762	1,065	898
	17,752	17,580	17,350	16,289

Net losses on disposal of investments during the year amounted to $74,133 ($148,484 in 1977-1978). Of this amount, $27,171 was charged against "Accumulated net gains on disposal of investments" and the remaining $46,962 was charged to operations.

6. Bequests and gifts

The Council received bequests and gifts as follows:

(a) Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Fund for Advanced Studies.

A bequest of $12,339,615 in cash and securities was received from the estate of the late Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam for the establishment of the "Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Fund for Advanced Studies" to provide scholarships "for advanced study or research at universities, hospital research or scientific institutes, or other equivalent or similar institutions both in Canada and in other countries in any field of study or research other than the 'arts' as presently defined in the Canada Act and not limited to the 'humanities and social sciences' referred to in such Act".

The bequest contains the following provisions: that the Killam Trust shall not form part of the Endowment Fund or otherwise be merged with any assets of the Council; and that, in the event the Canada Council should ever be liquidated or its existence terminated or its powers and authority changed so that it is no longer able to administer any Killam Trust, the assets forming the Killam Trust must be paid over to certain universities which have also benefited under the Will.

The cash and securities received and the proceeds have been invested in a separate portfolio.

(b) Special Scholarship Fund

A gift of what may be approximately $4,350,000 was received from the late Mrs. Dorothy J. Killam for the establishment of a Special Scholarship Fund. The gift consists of securities registered in the name of the Canada Council, redeemable over a period of years. To March 31, 1979, the Council has received proceeds from the redemption of these securities amounting to $1,981,241. These proceeds have been invested in a separate portfolio and the income therefore is available to provide fellowship grants to Canadians for advanced study or research in the fields of medicine, science and engineering at universities, hospitals, research or scientific institutions or other equivalent or similar institutions in Canada.

(c) Molson Prize Fund

Gifts of $900,000 from the Molson Foundation established a capital fund referred to as the Molson Prize Fund. The income of the fund is used for awarding cash prizes to Canadians for outstanding achievement in the fields of the Arts, the Humanities or the Social Sciences that enriches the cultural or intellectual heritage of Canada or contributes to national unity. The value of each prize is $20,000 or as determined by Council, without restriction as to its use by the recipient.

(d) Lynch-Staunton Fund

An unconditional bequest of $699,066 from the estate of the late V.M. Lynch-Staunton established a capital fund, the income from which is available for the regular programmes of the Council.

(e) John B.C. Watkins Estate

A bequest was received (carried on the balance sheet at a nominal value of $1) of the net income from the residue of the estate of the late John B.C. Watkins, which assets are held in perpetuity by a trust company. The net income is to be used "for establishment of scholarships to be awarded to graduates of any Canadian University who may apply there for the purpose of engaging in post graduate studies in Denmark, Norway, Sweden or Iceland and who shall be selected for their outstanding worth or promise by a committee appointed by the Canada Council".

(f) J.B. Barwick Estate

A bequest of what may amount to $31,500 was made by the late J.B. Barwick. The payment of the bequest is to be postponed during the lifetime of the surviving beneficiary of the residue of the estate. The bequest to the Council is "on condition that such bequest shall be applied for the benefit of the musical division of the arts and for the encouragement of the musical arts to increase the Council's normal budget in the musical division or field of the arts". The bequest is reflected in the balance sheet at a nominal value of $1.

(g) Edith Davis Webb Estate

A bequest of what may amount to $400,000 was made by the late Mrs. Edith Davis Webb. The payment of the bequest is to be postponed during the lifetime of the surviving beneficiary of the residue of the estate. The bequest to the Canada Council is "to be used for the purpose of making grants or establishing scholarships for musical study in such manner as the Council shall determine". The bequest is reflected in the balance sheet at a nominal value of $1.

Appendix 1—ConcludedThe Canada Council—Concluded*ENDOWMENT ACCOUNT—Concluded*NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS*MARCH 31, 1979—Concluded*(h) Vida Peene Estate

During the year a bequest of $588,347 was made by the late Vida Peene, a past member of the Council. The earnings from this bequest are to be paid annually to several organizations as listed in her will. In the year under review, the earnings from this fund were $21,669, and this amount was paid out as directed.

(i) Kathleen Coburn

During the year a gift of $100 was received from Miss Kathleen Coburn, and is part of a promise of a larger bequest, the amount of which cannot be determined at this time. When this bequest is in hand, it will provide for exchanges of scholars between Israel and Canada. There were no earnings in 1978-79.

7. Art Bank (Note 1)

In 1972 the Canada Council Art Bank was established to develop a collection of works of art for use in federal offices and public buildings on a rental basis. Works of art acquired to March 31, 1979 totalled $5,533,000 including $758,000 purchased in 1978-79 ($693,000 in 1977-78).

8. Long-term lease agreement

On October 8, 1976 the Council entered into a ten-year agreement for office space for the period November 1976 to October 1986. The agreement calls for an annual rental of $606,450 for the first five years and an annual rental of $657,975 for the remaining five years.

9. Capitalization of income of Special Funds

During the year the Council adopted the policy of capitalizing 10% of the net income of the Izaak Walton Killam Fund for Advanced Studies and the Special Scholarship Fund in accordance with advice received from the Trustees of these Funds in order to preserve the equity of these Funds for future beneficiaries. The Council reserves the right, however, to draw at any time on the accumulated income so capitalized for the purposes of the Funds.

10. Queen's Fellowship Fund

In December 1973, the Council received a grant of $250,000 from Canada for the establishment of a Queen's Fellowship Fund to be administered by the Council. The income from the Fund is to be used for the payment of fellowships to graduate students in certain fields of Canadian studies. During the year, this fund was transferred to the new Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council together with earnings during the year of $24,093.

11. Change in accounting policy

During the year the Council changed its policy of determining grants payable by excluding certain programme commitments. Previously, Council determined grants payable at the end of the fiscal year by including an element of programme commitments as well as the amount determined by Council to be payable to specific recipients. This change in policy has been applied retroactively and the previous year's financial statements have been restated accordingly.

As a result, the balance of unappropriated surplus at March 31, 1978 previously reported as $4,533,728 has been restated to show a retroactive credit of $2,324,239 representing the cumulative amount by which grant expenditures have been decreased. Of the $2,324,239, $1,144,055 is applicable to 1977-78 and has been credited to income for that fiscal year. The remaining $1,180,184 is applicable to 1976-77 and has been credited to unappropriated surplus at March 31, 1977, previously reported as $2,983,795.

12. Comparative figures

Certain figures for 1978, presented for comparative purposes, have been restated to conform to the 1979 presentation.

THE HONOURABLE DAVID S.H. MACDONALD, P.C., M.P.
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the National Film Board as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of operations, equity of Canada and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Board as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Purposes of the Board

The Board is established to initiate and promote the production and distribution of films in the national interest and in particular:

- To produce and distribute and to promote the production and distribution of films designed to interpret Canada to Canadians and to other nations;
- To engage in research in film activity and to make available the results thereof to persons engaged in the production of films.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Production of films

The costs of films produced for the Board and prints not held for resale are expensed as incurred.

Where the Board participates with a co-sponsor in the production of a film:

- (i) the co-sponsor's contribution is generally applied first against costs incurred;
- (ii) the portion of costs which pertains to the Board is charged to Board program costs expense as incurred.

Where the Board produces a film for a sponsor, the profit or loss is recorded upon completion of the film.

The unbilled portion of the costs of films pertaining to sponsors and co-sponsors is recorded as work in progress.

(b) Inventories

Work in progress is carried at the lower of cost and the related amount recoverable from sponsors and co-sponsors.

Materials and supplies are carried at the lower of cost or replacement cost.

Prints from films produced by the Board and held for resale are carried at the average direct cost of production of the prints.

(c) Fixed assets

Fixed assets are carried at cost and depreciation is calculated on a straight line basis over the estimated useful life of the assets, generally five to ten years.

(d) Services provided free of charge

The Board includes as expense in the statement of operations, services provided free of charge by government departments. A corresponding amount is credited in the Statement of Equity of Canada.

(e) Employee termination benefits

Employees are entitled to specified benefits on termination as provided for under labour contracts and conditions of employment. The liability for these benefits is recorded in the account as the benefits accrue to the employees. No pension liabilities are reflected in the statement as the employees contribute to the pension plan of the Government of Canada

AUDITOR GENERAL OF CANADA

DR. SEAN MURPHY,
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
NATIONAL MUSEUMS OF CANADA,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the statement of expenditure and revenue of the National Museums of Canada for the year ended March 31, 1979. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, this financial statement presents fairly the results of the operations of the Corporation for the year ended March 31, 1979 in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the Corporation

The National Museums of Canada was established by the National Museums Act 1967-68, c. 21, s. 1. "...to demonstrate the products of nature and the works of man, with special but not exclusive reference to Canada, so as to promote interest therein throughout Canada and to disseminate knowledge thereof". The Corporation is a departmental Crown corporation of Canada and is funded through an annual appropriation which provides for the operating expenditures of the Corporation as well as providing annual amounts for credit to the Purchase and Special Accounts.

The Corporation is comprised of the National Gallery of Canada, the National Museums of Man, Science and Technology, and Natural Sciences as well as National Programmes, National Museums Assistance and Corporate Administration.

2. Significant accounting policies

Application

The statement of expenditure and revenue includes the activities of the National Museums of Canada as well as those of the Purchase, Trust and Special Accounts administered by the Corporation.

Expenditures

Expenditures for the year included amounts paid in April 1979 relating to work performed, goods received or services rendered prior to March 31, 1979. Operating expenditures are charged to parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. Capital expenditures are expensed in the year of purchase and are provided for in the same parliamentary appropriations.

Receipts

Receipts of the Corporation's Purchase Account, Trust Account and Special Account are reported on a cash basis and are retained in those accounts. Other revenues are reported on a cash basis and are credited to non-tax revenue of Canada in the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Disbursements of the special accounts

Disbursements of the Purchase and Special Accounts are made from the receipts of those accounts as well as from parliamentary appropriations provided for that purpose. Disbursements of the Corporation's Trust Account are made from the receipts of that account.

Services provided without charge

Amounts for services provided without charge by other government departments are included in the operating expenditures of the Corporation (Note 4).

Grants and contributions

Grants and contributions are charged to a separate parliamentary appropriation and are subject to criteria and guidelines approved by the Treasury Board.

Employees' termination benefits and accrued vacation pay

Employee termination benefits and accrued vacation pay are expensed when paid. The Corporation does not reflect in its financial statement the liability for employee termination benefits and accrued vacation pay estimated at March 31, 1979 to be $2,130,466.

3. Purchase Account

An amount of $2,120,000 was transferred from Secretary of State Vote 100 to the Purchase Account. At March 31, 1979 the balance of $1,869,967 in the Purchase Account included $806,334 designated for emergency purchases. As a result of the provisions contained in the Cultural Property Export and Import Act,

Treasury Board has requested that the funds designated for emergency purchases be transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund in 1979-80.

4. Services provided without charge

The operating expenditures include the following services provided by government departments for which there was no charge to the National Museums of Canada.

Employee compensation payments	2,000	2,000
	$ 8,388,000	$ 6,824,000

	$ 1,508,943	$ 7,276,237	$ 8,785,180

Certain of the appropriations received from the Government of Canada, were advances given in anticipation of donations from the private sector and are repayable to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as they are received from the private sector as follows:

1979-80	$ 1,700,000
1980-81	700,000
1982-83	200,000

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the Fund

The revolving fund was established by Secretary of State Vote L120, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1971, 1970-71-72, c. 46, to provide development and training courses, including specialized language training, and related consultative services, on a cost-recovery basis.

In 1976-77 the maximum amount which may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as advances for working capital was increased from $2,000,000 to $3,500,000 under authority of Secretary of State Vote L107b, Appropriation Act No. 5, 1976, 1976-77, c. 2.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Year-end cut-off

The accounts of the revolving fund are presented on the accrual basis with the exception of the liability for employee termination benefits and the liability for vacation pay which are not recorded in the books of account. The liability for vacation pay is not considered material. The financial statements show the balance of the working capital advance account as at March 31, 1979 in accordance with the instructions contained in Treasury Board Circular No. 1970-7 of January 8, 1970.

(b) Surplus/deficit

The Treasury Board on November 1, 1973, authorized the revolving fund to carry forward surpluses or deficits annually up to a limit of $150,000. These retained earnings are to be used to offset accumulated deficits from prior years' operations or to provided for expected deficits in future years. Any surplus in excess of $150,000 must be refunded to the Receiver General for Canada as non-tax revenue. Accumulated deficits in excess of $150,000 will be recouped by authority of Parliament.

3. Interest on advance

Interest on the working capital advance was calculated at the rate of 8¼% per annum on the month-end balance shown in the Central Accounts of Canada.

Appendix 5—ConcludedPublic Archives—Concluded*Central Microfilm Operations Revolving Fund—Concluded*NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the fund

The purpose of the Fund is to provide microfilm service to government departments and agencies on a cost recovery basis.

Under authority of Secretary of State Vote 115, Appropriation Act No. 2, 1978-79, the maximum amount which may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as advances for working capital was established at $400,000.

2. Significant accounting policiesInventories

Inventory of raw material is valued at cost on a first-in, first-out basis. Work in process inventory is valued on the basis of cost of raw materials used plus an estimate of the value of direct labour and other costs incurred.

Fixed assets

(a) For assets acquired up to March 31, 1975, depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis, using estimated useful life of each asset, usually 3-10 years. For assets acquired after March 31, 1975 depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis at 20% for machinery and equipment and at 10% for other assets based on the acquisition cost.

(b) The Central Microfilm Operations moved in October 1975 to leased accommodation at a new location. Leasehold improvements are being amortized on a straight-line basis over the 10 year period of the lease.

3. Contributed capital

Equipment with estimated value of $150 was transferred to C.M.O. without charge during the year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the fund

The purpose of the Fund is to provide photographic printing and processing services to government departments and agencies on a cost recovery basis.

Under authority of Secretary of State Vote L76d, Appropriation Act No. 1, 1977, 1976-77, c. 7, the maximum amount which may be drawn from the Consolidated Revenue Fund as advances for working capital was established at $750,000.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Accounting basis

The accounts of the Fund were maintained on an accrual basis.

(b) Inventory

Inventory is valued at the lower of cost on a first-in, first-out basis, and net realizable value.

(c) Fixed assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided on a straight line basis at the rate of 10% per annum.

3. Loans

Loans authorized by Parliament on an annual basis are for the acquisition of fixed assets. These loans bear interest at rates varying from 7-1/4% to 10-1/4% and are repayable in annual instalments over a period of ten years under the terms approved by the Governor in Council.

4. Prior period adjustments

As a result of 1) collection of accounts receivable during 1978-79 that had previously been considered uncollectible and charged to expenditure, and 2) adjustments made in accrued expenditures, the deficit balance at March 31, 1978, has been reduced by an amount of $16,801.

National Arts Centre Corporation

(Established by the National Arts Centre Act)

MR. ARTHUR GELBER, O.C.,
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
OTTAWA, ONTARIO.

I have examined the balance sheet of the National Arts Centre Corporation as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of income and expense and surplus for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied, after giving retroactive effect to the change in accounting for supplies referred to in Note 3 to the financial statements, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the Corporation

The objectives of the Corporation are: to operate and maintain the National Arts Centre; to develop the performing arts in the National Capital Region; and to assist the Canada Council in the development of the performing arts elsewhere in Canada.

In furtherance of its objectives, the Corporation may arrange for and sponsor performing arts activities at the Centre; encourage and assist in the development of performing arts companies resident at the Centre; arrange for or sponsor radio and television broadcasts and the showing of films in the Centre; provide accommodation at the Centre, on such terms and conditions as the Corporation may fix, for national and local organizations whose objects include the development and encouragement of the performing arts in Canada; and at the request of the Government of Canada or the Canada Council, arrange for performances elsewhere in Canada by performing arts companies, whether resident or non-resident in Canada, and arrange for performances outside Canada by performing arts companies resident in Canada.

With a view to achieving the objectives, Her Majesty demised and leased the National Arts Centre building complex to the Corporation for a period of twenty years commencing June 1, 1969. Under the terms of the lease, the Corporation is responsible for maintenance and operation of the building complex, but is not required to pay for the use of the complex. Accordingly, the accounts of the Corporation do not include any charge for rent, interest or depreciation related to the building complex.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Grants

Municipal and specific grants receivable as at March 31 are recorded as assets in cases where the grantors have made firm commitments to the Corporation.

(b) Capital expenditures

Capital expenditures for operations are expensed in the year of acquisition.

(c) Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value (Restaurants) or replacement cost (Production).

(d) Deferred income

Income from tickets sold prior to March 31 for performances taking place after that date is deferred. Deferred income also includes unredeemed gift certificates, exchange vouchers and credit notes. Those more than three years old and a percentage of those less than three years old are included in income for the current year.

(e) Cost of performing arts programmes

Direct costs of performing arts programmes are apportioned over the number of performances of the related production. Advances to performing companies and artists under contract and other costs of production in progress are deferred and included in costs relating to future performances.

Direct costs include expenditures directly attributable to the National Arts Centre's performing arts programmes. Indirect costs and common services not attributable to particular performances are charged to general and administrative expense.

(f) Restaurant operations

Restaurant expense does not include costs related to building maintenance, public services and capital operating expenditures. These costs are included in general and administrative expense.

(g) Accrued employee termination benefits

Severance pay generally accrues to employees over their service period and is payable on their separation or retirement. An account for this liability is reflected in the balance sheet, to which payments are charged. No pension liabilities are reflected in the statement as the employees contribute to the pension plan of the Government of Canada.

3. Change in accounting policy

During the year, the Corporation adopted the policy of presenting on its balance sheet as prepaid expense, supplies on hand at the end of the year which were previously expensed in the year of acquisition. This change was made to provide improved matching of costs and revenue as well as custodial control over these items. As a result of this change, the surplus balance as at March 31, 1978, previously reported as $272,655, has been restated to show a retroactive adjustment of $77,242 representing the supplies on hand as at March 31, 1978. Of the $77,242, an estimated amount of $17,242 is applicable to 1978 and has been applied against the excess of expense over income for that year. The remaining $60,000 is applicable to years prior to April 1, 1977 and has been applied against the deficit at that date.

4. Short term deposit certificates

Short term deposit certificates include $50,000 provided as security for the payment of fees to artists as required by a union.

5. Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable as at March 31 include:

9. In order to better comply with the terms and intent of the lease agreement for the "National Arts Centre building complex" between the Corporation and the Crown represented by the Department of Public Works as well as a recommendation by the Treasury board, the Corporation appropriated during the year from its surplus an amount of $85,000 as a reserve. This reserve is to provide for a portion of the costs of major repairs and capital expenditures to the building complex which will have to be undertaken in the future, as recommended by a committee of representatives of the Department of Public Works and the Corporation.

10. Lease commitments

The Corporation's lease commitments as of March 31, 1979 amount to $554,694 and are detailed below:

12. Anti-Inflation Act

The Corporation was subject to the compulsory controls imposed by various federal anti-inflation programs which set ceilings on wage and price increases. These controls were in effect until December 31, 1978, at which time they were terminated.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT
MARCH 31, 1979

1. Objectives and operations of the Council

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) was established by the SSHRC Act and commenced operations on April 1, 1978. Its function is to promote and assist research and scholarship in the social sciences and humanities, an objective that had in previous years been assigned to the Canada Council. The SSHRC undertook to honour all grants and scholarships approved by the Canada Council before the creation of the SSHRC. The SSHRC is a schedule B departmental Crown corporation and will be funded commencing in 1979-80 from annual appropriations to operate two programs; Administration, and Grants and Scholarships.

It also administers an endowment fund known as the Queen's Fellowship Fund and academic exchange programs for the Department of External Affairs and for the Government of Manitoba.

2. Significant accounting policies

Application

The statement of operations includes the activities of Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council as well as those of the other programs administered by the Council.

For the first year of operation the Council was financed out of moneys received from Canada Council in accordance with the provisions of Secretary of State Vote 55. Accounting for these operations were made through a Deposit and Trust Account (SSHRC) established within the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

A supplementary amount of $310,000 was provided from Treasury Board—Contingencies Vote 5 to meet additional grant requirements.

Expenditures

Expenditures for the year included operating expenses paid in April 1979, for work performed, goods received or services rendered up to March 31, 1979. Capital expenditures are expensed in the year of purchase. There are no charges for depreciation. Grants and scholarships expenditures are reported on a cash basis and represent actual disbursements to March 31, 1979.

Receipts

Revenues received by the Council through the conduct of its operations in 1978-79, and those pertaining to other special accounts administered by the Council are reported on a cash basis and are accounted for within the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Services provided without charge

Amounts for services provided without charge by other government departments are included in the operating expenditures of the Council.

Employee termination benefits

Employee termination benefits are expensed in the year of payment. The Council does not reflect in its financial statement the liability for employee termination benefits, estimated at March 31, 1979 to be $144,000.

3. Special funds and programs

The Council administers the following special programs and funds:

(a) Academic exchange programs for the Department of External Affairs

A total of $1,498,014 was paid by the Council on behalf of the Department of External Affairs for the Government of Canada awards to foreign nationals and other exchange programs. These disbursements, plus an amount of $160,000 for the administration of these programs, have been recovered from the Department.

(b) Queen's Fellowship Fund

In March 1979, the Council received from the Canada Council the administration and control of the Queen's Fellowship Fund consisting of $250,000 of principal (represented by Abitibi Paper Company Ltd. sinking fund debentures, 10½% due March 1, 1995) and $53,068 of accumulated interest. The interest and future earnings from the fund are to be used for the payment of fellowships to graduate students in certain fields of Canadian studies.

(c) Government of Manitoba—Academic exchange

The Council administers a scholarship program for the Government of Manitoba. This program is directed towards French citizens who undertake graduate studies in a Manitoba university. A total of $15,375 was received by the Council during 1978-79 ($10,000 from the Province and $5,375 transferred from the Canada Council) and was deposited into a special purpose account within the Consolidated Revenue Fund. Payments charged to the account during the year totalled $1,223. A balance of $14,152 remains available at March 31, 1979.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1979—Concluded

(c) to permit initial payments for defence supplies which can be promptly billed to a government department, agency or an associated government in advance of delivery of goods.

Retained earnings are transferred to Canada as non-tax revenue. Reimbursement of a deficit is contingent upon a parliamentary appropriation.

Interest is not charged on working capital advances to the Fund.

2. Significant accounting policies

Progress payments
Progress payments and accrued liabilities to suppliers for defence supplies requisitioned by government departments and agencies and/or for stockpiled inventories, which are in progress and located on the supplier's premises, are recorded as progress payments to suppliers. Under the terms of the contracts, the suppliers are liable to the Fund until delivery takes place.

Progress billings
Billings to customers for defence supplies requisitioned which have not yet been delivered are recorded in the accounts as progress billings to customers.

3. Changes in accounting policy
(a) Revenue recognition

During the year, the Fund adopted the policy to recognize sales only when stockpiled defence supplies are delivered to customers and to disclose separately the defence supplies requisitioned by customer departments in the Statement of Operations, when either progress or final payments become due. Previously, all deliveries to customers were recognized as sales regardless of whether the Fund had title to the goods delivered.

The change had the effect in 1979 of decreasing Sales and Cost of sales by $37,131,557. The previous year's financial statements have been restated and the Sales and Cost of sales have been decreased by $45,689,545.

(b) Inventories
Inventories are valued at the lower of cost or replacement cost.

During the year, the Fund adopted the policy to only recognize as inventories stockpiled defence supplies. Previously, component items delivered to a prime contractor for inclusion in a finished product were also recognized as inventories; these are now considered as progress payments and are included with progress payments to suppliers. The change had the effect in 1979 of decreasing inventories and of increasing progress payments to suppliers by $4,867,442. The previous year's financial statements have been restated. For the year ended March 31, 1978, Progress payments to suppliers have been increased by $7,409,361 and Inventories have been decreased by a similar amount.

4. Loan receivable

This represents the balance of a 1972 non interest-bearing loan, the due date of which is in dispute. Legal counsel is of the opinion that the loan was due on August 4, 1976 and that there will be no loss to the Fund.

5. Long-term receivables

In accordance with the terms of an agreement, collection of the long-term receivable is dependent on the recipient's ability to make sales. Should the sales be insufficient to retire the debt, any balance owing will be recovered from the Department of National Defence.

6. Comparative figures

The comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation.

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Purpose and authority

The objective of the Fund is to acquire and provide, in the most economical manner, goods, printing, publishing, exhibits and displays and related services required by departments and agencies taking into account the contribution of procurement to the realization of national objectives.

The Supply Revolving Fund was authorized by Supply and Services Vote L6d, Appropriation Act No. 1 1975. Amendments to the appropriation authorized that the operations of the Supply Revolving Fund be combined with the operations of the Printing Revolving Fund effective April 1, 1975, with the Publishing Revolving Fund effective April 1, 1976 and with the Expositions Revolving Fund effective April 1, 1977.

The Supply Revolving Fund has an authorized working capital limit of $75,000,000. Fixed assets are financed by loan votes.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Revenue and expense

Revenue and expense are recorded on the accrual basis of accounting with the following variations:

- (i) The accrual policy for recording certain revenue in the Science and Engineering Procurement Service is based on detailed and validated statistical analysis of the procurement workload. This policy was implemented to avoid expensive record keeping while respecting the need for adherence to the generally accepted accounting principle of matching cost and revenue. Contracts ranging in value from $200,000 to $1,000,000 require 18 months on average to complete and revenue is recorded evenly over 18 months commencing the month the contract is awarded. Contracts with a value in excess of $1,000,000 require 36 months on average to complete and revenue is recorded evenly over 36 months commencing the month the contract is awarded. Certain other large contracts are administered on a project management basis and the actual cost of the project is recorded as revenue in each accounting period over the entire life of the project. Management recognizes that some revenue is earned prior to the contract award date but is of the opinion that the accounting principle of matching cost and revenue is not seriously violated since on average, revenue will be accruing on other contracts that have been completed.

- (ii) Employee benefits are expensed in the period in which the payments are made. The unaccrued liability at March 31, 1979 has been estimated at $17,473,000 for employee termination benefits ($16,569,000 in 1978) and $3,380,000 for vacation pay ($3,426,000 in 1978). In 1979 the basis of calculating the provision for termination benefits was changed to exclude benefits for employees with less than 10 years service. Retroactive effect has been given to this change by restating the comparative figure for 1978. Had the change not been made, the provision for termination benefits at March 31, 1979 would have been greater by $3,957,000 (1978—$3,752,000) than that shown.

(b) Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis over the established useful life of the fixed assets, generally 5 to 10 years.

(c) Inventories

Inventories of supplies and printing materials are valued at the lower of cost or replacement cost. Inventories of work in process and finished products (publications) are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value.

(d) EDP equipment contracts receivable

The Treasury Board, on March 2, 1976, authorized the Supply Revolving Fund to purchase, through a Capital Loan Vote, designated EDP equipment approved by Treasury Board for client departments. The capital, interest and any other costs are recoverable from departments over a one to five year period. These transactions have been recorded as accounts receivable (title to the equipment remains with the Supply Revolving Fund) and the original cost of the equipment, less capital repayments due or paid by client departments to March 31, 1979, has been shown as current and long-term assets on the Balance Sheet.

3. Long-term debt

(a) Advances from Canada for working capital	74,413,154	54,402,428
The amount charged to the Supply Revolving Fund at any time shall not exceed seventy five million dollars. Interest on the outstanding balance is calculated monthly at 8 3/4% per annum (8 5/8% in 1978).
(b) Funds for replacement of capital assets ..	497	(160,001)
The Supply Revolving Fund may repay capital loans or purchase fixed assets through the Consolidated Revenue Fund to the extent of depreciation on fixed assets charged to operations. These amounts represent the remaining funds at March 31 available for this purpose.
	74,413,651	54,242,427
(c) Advances from Canada for fixed assets and EDP equipment	12,331,710	15,016,766

4. Rebate to customers

During the first half of 1978-79 the heavier than forecast volume of business resulted in revenues substantially in excess of budget. Based on a continuing favourable forecast for the remainder of the year, a cash rebate, as authorized by Treasury Board, totalling $4,376,000 was given for Printing and Science and Engineering Services.

5. Insurance

The Supply Revolving Fund does not carry insurance on either its own property or the property of others held in its warehousing operations. This is in accordance with the government's policy of self insurance.

6. Restatement of prior year's figures

The 1978 figures have been restated to conform to the 1979 presentation.

Airports Revolving Fund

(Authorized by Vote L160, Appropriation Act No. 3, 1969, 1968-69, c. 36)

THE HONOURABLE DONALD MAZANKOWSKI, P.C., M.P.
MINISTER OF TRANSPORT
OTTAWA, ONTARIO

I have examined the balance sheet of the Airports Revolving Fund as at March 31, 1979 and the statements of operations, retained earnings, contributed capital and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

As explained in Note 3 to the financial statements, all development costs, including interest on the land acquired, for the Pickering Airport Project have been capitalized in the accounts. The construction of an international airport at Pickering has been indefinitely deferred pursuant to a Cabinet decision and, accordingly, in my opinion, it is no longer appropriate to continue to capitalize and reflect these costs as an asset. Had these costs not been capitalized, other assets and retained earnings would have decreased by $67,433,532 and the loss for the year would have increased by $12,700,437.

As described in Note 6 to the financial statements, no provision has been made in the accounts for termination benefits accruing to employees of the Canadian Air Transportation Administration operating the airports financed through the Airports Revolving Fund. The amount of the liability as at March 31, 1979 has not been calculated.

In my opinion, except for the effect of capitalizing development costs on the Pickering project and the failure to record accrued employee termination benefits, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Fund as at March 31, 1979 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

MARCH 31, 1979

1. Authority and funding arrangements

The Airports Revolving Fund was established in 1969 for the purpose of financing the operation and development of certain airports. The Fund comprises the accounts of the international airports at Dorval, Mirabel, Toronto and Vancouver and the land which was acquired at Pickering, Ontario, for the purpose of constructing an airport.

The Fund is authorized to borrow up to $3,000,000 for working capital from Canada and is entitled to carry forward any earnings from operations for use in the acquisition of capital assets.

Consolidated Revenue Fund

The Consolidated Revenue Fund is the central account through which all government receipts and disbursements flow. All cash transactions of the Airports Revolving Fund are therefore made through the Consolidated Revenue Fund. By virtue of the Airports Revolving Fund's mandate, it receives credit for all revenues generated and is empowered to borrow funds from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for any revenue shortfalls.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Accrued revenue

Accrued revenue represents the estimated amount of revenue earned for services rendered but not billed at the year-end.

(b) Inventory

Inventory of materials and supplies maintained for repair and maintenance purposes at the airports is carried at the lower of cost or replacement value.

(c) Fixed assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost, except those transferred to the Fund which were recorded at appraisal values established by Transport Canada in accordance with Treasury Board Circular 1970-7 of January 8, 1970.

Not included in the land cost is additional compensation to March 31, 1979, totalling $14,423,270 paid by Transport Canada, on an ex gratia basis, to former owners of expropriated properties of Mirabel Airport. This amount will not be charged to the Fund, and has been reported under the Air Transportation Program—Grants and Contributions activity.

(d) Airport development cost

Project administration costs, including interest during construction, incurred during the construction of new airports are capitalized and included in airport development costs to the extent that these costs are not readily identifiable with specific capital items.

(e) Land acquired for Pickering development

The cost of land acquired at Pickering includes the continuing administration cost and grants in lieu of taxes associated with this land. Rentals and other revenue received from this land are deducted from the total cost.

(f) Depreciation

Depreciation is charged, on a straight line method, based on the estimated useful life of the assets.

The depreciation rates used for the major classes of assets are as follows:

Runways and other surfaces	3.3%	—	7.5%
Terminal and facilities	4.0%	—	10.0%
Machinery	3.3%	—	5.0%
Equipment—Static	5.0%	—	9.0%
—Mobile	6.0%	—	18.0%
Amortization of development costs (excluding interest)	10.0%
Amortization of capitalized interest	4.2%	(the average rate of depreciation of the assets)

(g) Contributed capital

Amounts representing working capital and the values assigned to assets transferred to the Fund, from Canada, are shown as contributed capital.

(h) Headquarters and regional overhead

Headquarters and regional overhead reflects the expenditures incurred by the Canadian Air Transportation Administration in providing technical and administrative services to the Fund. These expenditures are not readily identifiable with specific services and are applied to the Fund as a percentage of the direct operating and maintenance expenses.

(i) Grants in lieu of taxes

Grants in lieu of taxes, imposed on airports operating in the Fund, are accrued based on estimated municipal assessments adjusted in accordance with the Municipal Grants Act. Grants are paid by the Department of Finance and recovered from the Fund.

The grants are not finalized until they have been audited by the Department of Finance, often several years in arrears. Any adjustments upon finalization are reflected in the accounts in the year of settlement.

(j) Pension plan

Employees of the Canadian Air Transportation Administration operating the airports financed through the Airports Revolving Fund are covered by the Public Service Superannuation Act and the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act. The Government of Canada's portion of the pension cost is included in the employee fringe benefit charge assessed against the Fund. The actual payment of the pension is made from the Public Service Superannuation and Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account.

(k) Services provided without charge

The Department of Transport provides Revolving Fund airports with certain essential operating support, including air traffic control and telecommunication and electronic services. No charge is made to the Fund for these services at the present time. (Note 9)

3. Deferred Pickering development cost

Deferred development cost related to the Pickering Airport Project is composed of the following:

	1979	1978
Planning, site preparation and related cost	$ 17,407,046	$ 17,164,121
Interest Cost—Prior to deferral of project	17,749,000	17,749,000
—Subsequent to deferral of project	32,277,486	19,819,974
	$ 67,433,532	$ 54,733,095

Deferred development costs capitalized amounted to $12,700,437 in 1978/79 and to $10,932,751 in 1977/78. Construction at the airport has been indefinitely deferred pursuant to Cabinet decision made in September 1975.

4. Loans from Canada

Loans received are for capital and operating purposes in current and subsequent fiscal years. By their terms, loans must be repaid within twenty years and bear interest at rates set by the Minister of Finance. At present, annual principal payments are equal to the depreciation in the accounts of the Fund in the previous year. Interest rates vary from 7 3/4% to 9 3/4% per annum. During the year, interest amounted to $51,911,871 of which $12,457,512 was capitalized. Effective April 1, 1979, Treasury Board approved certain revisions to the Fund regarding interest rates and loan repayment terms as described in Note 9.

Appendix 2—Concluded

Airports Revolving Fund—Concluded

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1979—Concluded

The loan transactions for the period were as follows:

	1979	1978
Balance, beginning of the year	$ 611,093,406	$ 553,182,667
Loans received during the year	69,900,594	87,001,518
	680,994,000	640,184,185
	31,238,260	29,090,779
Repayment of principal
Balance, end of the year	649,755,740	611,093,406
Loans due within one year (Note 9)		32,871,113
Long-term loans from Canada	$ 649,755,740	$ 578,222,293

The estimated financial effects of these revisions to the Fund for the year ending March 31, 1980 will be to increase net assets and contributed capital by $311 million and increase operation revenues and expenses by $94 million and $124 million respectively, after the reduction of interest charges and the inclusion of the charge for essential services.

5. Contributed capital

Contributed capital represents working capital and the values assigned to assets transferred to the Fund from Canada. The decrease in contributed capital of $170,588 represents the net book value of assets originally financed through budgetary appropriations, on loans to the Fund which had been incorrectly capitalized in prior years.

6. Termination benefits

Termination benefits accrue to employees of the Canadian Air Transportation Administration operating the airports financed through the Airports Revolving Fund. Payments of these benefits is made to the employees on separation or retirement and is expensed by the Fund when paid. No provision has been made in the accounts for benefits accruing to employees as at March 31, 1979. The amount of the liability has not been calculated.

7. Expropriation proceedings

The Fund has initiated expropriation proceedings to acquire certain properties. While final determinations have not been made, it has been estimated that further payments of $12,850,000 may be required to complete these acquisitions. The accounts at March 31, 1979 do not provide for such future payments.

8. Contractual liability

The Airports Revolving Fund was committed to expenditures totalling approximately $6,293,000 under fixed assets construction contracts as at March 31, 1979 for the following airports:

Toronto (Malton) International Airport	$ 2,638,000
Vancouver International Airport	3,351,000
Mirabel International Airport	304,000
	$ 6,293,000

9. Subsequent event

Revision to the Fund

Effective April 1, 1979, Treasury Board approved the following revisions to the Fund:

- the addition of 19 airports, comprising International and National Airport Systems;
- the elimination of interest charges on the loan balance outstanding as at March 31, 1979, and the suspension of repayment of these loans; and
- the inclusion of a charge for essential air traffic control and telecommunication and electronic services previously provided by the Department of Transport (Note 2(k)).

Notes to Statement of Accounts Receivable

NOTE A—CONSUMER AND CORPORATE AFFAIRS

By virtue of section 118 of the Bankruptcy Act, the Superintendent is entitled to a two per cent levy for the purpose of defraying administrative expenses. The dollar amount indicated represents shares and certificates (inactive) and three promissory notes received by the Superintendent as levy payments at the close of the relevant bankruptcies. The listed value is not at market rates but rather at the dollar value of the levy at the time of acquisition. The shares certificates have been revalued using the actual two per cent Superintendent levy payable at time of acquisition. This has resulted in a net increase of $1,476.
